Vote State Of Emergency In French Crisis

Extraordinary Powers Given Nation's Premier

PARIS (UP) — The National Assembly Friday night voted a state of emergency in France. The action gave moderate Premier Pierre Pflimlin extraordinary powers for three months to smash a "plot" and head off outright rebellion either by Communists or De Gaullists.

Pflimlin immediately cancelled all leaves for troops in metropolitan France and forbade soldiers home on leave from Algeria from returning to the territory where a civilian-military junta backing Gen. Charles De Gaulle Friday formed a virtual rival regime.

The premier called in tough Jules Moch as interior minister—the same man who ruthlessly smashed nationwide Communist riots in 1947-48.

Sources said a grave situation threatened with the proferred resignation of army chief Gen. Paul Ely, who is neither leftist nor a De Gaullist. The sources said he has refused to withdraw the resignation. Ely's loss would pose the question of how the army would react and whether it would follow the lead of rebellious generals in Algeria.

Police, Military Alerted

As the assembly voted heavy guards were strung around the building and 36,000 police, soldiers and guardsmen were geared for instantaneous retaliation against any outbursts in Paris.

Even the Communists, in their fear of General De Gaulle, voted for Pflimlin's demands in the 461-114 vote—one of the widest margins in years in the splintered assembly. Only the rightists voted against the proposal in hopes of restoring De Gaulle to power.

Rubber-stamp passage by the Senate was the next scheduled step.

Pflimlin will have power to curb press and public assembly and new political parties. He vowed to use the powers against both "extremes" of left and right.

Strongly-Worded Resolution Hits River Bill Veto

WASHINGTON (Special) —A strongly - worded resolution urging the Senate and House to override President Eisenhower's veto of the $1,577,000,000 rivers and harbors bill was adopted yesterday by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

The action, by voice vote, followed a request from the President that they "keep in balance" public work plans.

In other action yesterday, the Congress elected Rep. Overton Brooks of Shreveport as its president for the fifth time.

Other Resolutions

Other resolutions adopted include an objective to the Budget Bureau's setting a ceiling on public works spending authorized by Congress, and criticism of the administration policy of permitting no new starts on public works projects.

The convention called also for expeditious reports on surveys authorized for two Louisiana projects. This included the Atchafalaya Bay ship channel and the Calcasieu River, low-level dam-sea brine barrier.

Louisiana delegates to the Congress, which ended yesterday, were H. E. Dickard, W. D. H. Rodriguez, F. L. Smith and D. Curtis Smith, all of Monroe; Robert E. Dill Jr., Rowland; A. N. Duke, Tallulah; John Fangue and A. J. Pattie, both of Berwick; Gen. Peter Feringa, T. L. Lewis and William G. Zetzmann, New Orleans.

Bertram J. Greve, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sibley and Mrs. Neva K. Cavet, Shreveport; Samuel E. Victims Of Flood Take It On Chin

By AUSTIN ABRAMS
Staff Writer

Some flood victims in Monroe are taking their plight "on the chin" and have become quite ingenious at fighting their battle against the Ouachita River.

However all are quick to voice an opinion that being driven from your home and seeing it covered with the murky tides of the river is no picnic.

Take W. M. Miller, retired electrician who moved out of his house a week ago last Thursday.

Miller moved his bed into the South Monroe Mission Church next door, jacked his bed and electric hot plate three feet off the floor, and says he is content at waging a nightly battle against moccasins who prefer his new home to theirs.

Miller says he passes the time during the day tending fish nets and visiting other victims in the area. Several families just downstream from Miller are carefully watching the water stage a rising threat to their homes.

Cut Roadway

M. D. Thompson, 69, retired painter, awoke last week to find flood waters had cut the roadway between his trailer home and the levee.

"I already had the trailer elevated and figured it would stay dry," Thompson said. He said the water rushed on and he finally anchored his trailer and moved in with a friend. The Ouachita has completely covered his trailer since.

What happened to Thompson? Well the water got into the friend's home too and they both moved out. Thompson since last Tuesday has been camping near South Grand adjacent to Conway Hospital.

"First time I lived in a tent in 54 years," Thompson commented yesterday at the entrance of his small canvas home. "We used to camp out a lot when my dad migrated from Tuscaloosa County, Ala. He knitted socks to raise the $60 to buy a horse in the 1880's, to make the trip here," the flood-stricken man recalled.

Not all the victims face their situation so well.

Allotment Deadlines Revamped

DELHI (Special) —The Louisiana State Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation Committee yesterday afternoon announced new deadlines for release of a farm's cotton acreage allotment to permit its transfer from an area where high water has prevented planting to another farm on higher land.

George Kimbrough, Tallulah, a member of the three man state ASC committee advises that the extended deadline for release of cotton acreage is now June 2. The time limit for reallocating the released acreage is June 10. Original deadlines were April 15 and May 1.

Louisiana Delta Council Manager Harvey P. Grant Jr. of Delhi states that farmers in flooded areas can apply to their parish ASC offices Monday, May 19 for further information.

"This will be of vital interest to cotton farmers in every parish in the state affected by the backwaters. This assistance should prove particularly helpful to farmers in Morehouse, Ouachita, Caldwell, Catahoula, Richland, Franklin, West Carroll and East Carroll parishes in the Louisiana Delta Council area," he added.

2,000 Area Scouts To Present Circus

Approximately 2,000 Scouts from 15 parishes in Northeast Louisiana will stage the annual Ouachita Valley Council Boy Scout Circus at Legion Memorial Stadium here tonight at 7 o'clock.

Jack E. Pankey, scout executive, said an estimated crowd of 3,000 persons will be on hand for the two-hour performance.

Directed by field executive Herb McCoggins, the circus will feature all phases of Scouting, including a look into the past as presented by one group of Scouts dressed as Indians.

The public is invited to attend. Admission will be 50 cents per person and proceeds will go on the expense of the show. Any surplus will be put in the Camp Ki-Ro-Li fund.

Pankey said yesterday Scout officials hope for clear weather. The circus last year was hampered by rain throughout the day preceding the performance.

All Districts

Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorer Scouts, representing all districts of the Ouachita Valley Council will participate. Their parents and friends are urged to attend.

"This is not a money-making proposition," Pankey explained, "but rather a means to show the public, in two short hours, what Scouting means to the future of the United States."

He pointed out that the circus is "a parade of youth, including little fellows 11-year-old all the way to our older boys who have risen in rank to take a lead."

"Besides being a public demonstration of Scouting, it's also a colorful show," Pankey said. "It's

Child Pulled Into Cage Of Lion, Killed

Grandfather Tries In Vain To Save 2-Year-Old Girl

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 2½-year-old girl visiting the zoo with her grandfather was seized by a caged lion and killed Friday.

The lion pulled the screaming girl through the bars of its cage despite the grandfather's frantic efforts to save her, and tore her to pieces.

The little girl, who was decapitated, was Julia Ann Vogt. She and her 4-year-old sister Judy had come here with their mother from Chilliwack, British Columbia, to visit their grandfather, Harry Jackson.

The grandfather took both girls to the Washington Zoo. Apparently Julia Ann wandered through an opening in an outer barrier and got too close to the lion's cage.

The grandfather was in such a state of shock that he was unable to give a coherent account of what happened, and as far as police could determine there was only one other witness.

This was Wesley Dildy, 12, who was visiting the zoo with a group of other school children from Princess Anne County, Va.

"The rest of the class was down the hill," he said. "I heard a loud scream by the lion's cage. I ran up to look and this little girl was in front of the lion cage and the lion had caught her by the leg and was pulling.

Grabbed Her

"A man grabbed her arms and tried to pull her away, but the lion was stronger. He kept pulling and got her body in the cage with him.

"She had light brown hair and she quit hollering. The man kept hitting the lion on the head trying to make him stop.

"The lion started walking around inside with her in his mouth. He was growling. I ran away."

Dr. Theodore Reed, zoo director, said officials could only surmise that the girl wandered through an opening in the outer wire mesh barrier through which equipment is moved.

She evidently walked past several cages occupied by other lions before she was seized by a male lion named Passion. It was from Queenie's cage that keepers recovered the girl's body.

Both the grandfather and the mother of the victim were placed under a physician's care after the tragedy. The father, Bem Vogt, was reported back home in Chilliwack where he is a mill worker.

By tragic coincidence, it was the second time this month that a British Columbia girl had been killed by a lion.

On May 3 Maureen Vanstone, 8, was clawed to death near Nnanimo, B. C., by a lioness that had escaped from a private zoo.

Federal Charges Await Kidnapers Of 3 La. Persons

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Two Georgia desperadoes who broke jail in Texas and took hostages to aid their flight in Louisiana will be taken to Atlanta for trial on federal charges.

Bonds of $27,000 each were fixed Friday for John Hall, 22, of Atlanta, and Henry Maddox, 24, of College Park, Ga., by U. S. Commissioner James Byrd.

They were arraigned on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution; a warrant from Tyler, Tex., for transportation of a stolen car across state lines; and a warrant from Alexander, Ga., also for transportation of a stolen car.

Admit Charges

The pair admitted the unlawful flight and the Texas charge. After they waived preliminary hearing, U. S. Marshal Frank Durrance said he would take them to Atlanta. The time was not specified.

Hall and Maddox were taken in custody yesterday after an alert deputy, E. J. Edwards, recognized their car as one listed in

Kirkpatrick Sees Defeat Of Higher Gas Tax In State

Delony Asks Teachers To Cut Demands

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Rep. Claude Kirkpatrick predicted Friday a higher natural gas gathering tax would be defeated "and then the administration will re-arrange the budget and give the teachers what they are getting now." Kirkpatrick opposes any tax increase.

Rep. Vail Delony, who backs the tax, warned teachers they must trim their demands or risk losing the 50 per cest pay raise they now receive.

When the Legislature goes back to work Monday night to start the second week of the 60-day session, Rep. Ben Holt of Rapides Parish will introduce his package plan to increase the gas gathering tax.

Gov. Earl Long has endorsed the bill. The governor's budget committee, slicing state spending 30 million dollars below current levels, left out teachers.

Salary Schedule

From state surpluses, they have received 50 per cent of a 1956 salary schedule. Unless the tax is passed or the budget changed, teachers face a pay cut next fall.

Sen. W. J. Rainach of Summerfield, anti-tax leader, suggested a nonpartisal conference to find out the facts of Louisiana finance. This, he said, would prove whether taxes are needed.

Kirkpatrick lost a first round fight with the administration Tuesday night when his resolution to put teachers ahead of other state agencies for their pay was sidetracked into the House Appropriations Committee. The Kirkpatrick resolution has heavy backing from anti-tax lawmakers.

Key To Problem

"The key to the problem," the Jefferson Davis Parish legislator said in a statement, "is the executive budget and the Legislature should get a chance to study it as soon as possible."

Fiscal officers say the general appropriations bill probably will be ready for introduction Tuesday or Wednesday.

House Ways and Means Committee hearings are likely Wednesday on Holt's tax bill. Holt would

River Search Pressed For Elderly Man

A boat found floating in the Ouachita River yesterday morning set off dragging operations for its 80-year-old owner and circumstances uncovered by the investigation puzzled authorities.

The one-man craft was found partially filled with water at the end of Lazarre Street in West Monroe just over the levee.

Mrs. Olive Christy, 605 Austin St., reported to the Ouachita sheriff's office that her grandfather, I. C. Baker, was missing from his home behind the levee.

Authorities from the Ouachita parish sheriff's office, West Monroe Police, and Monroe firemen, who were conducting dragging operations, said they did not know if the man had drowned or not.

The boat was found in an inundated area inside a fence with the only access a narrow passageway. Dragging centered there after an intensive search beside Baker's house some three hundred yards upstream proved futile.

Relatives told authorities that the aged man was at home at 8 the previous night. Backwater had already crept to the rear entrance of his home and he kept the boat tied to the back porch.

Theory Told

Authorities said that it was theorized the man may have toppled from the boat, but they could not substantiate the theory.

One officer explained that the access to the boat tied to Baker's house was through the back entrance, or by wading deep water around the house. He said the back screen was found latched from the inside.

The tie-up chain was found piled inside the bow of the boat as if someone had taken it out last night, investigators commented. The rear seat of the boat was found some 100 yards downstream from the boat, and officers surmised it had floated free since the boat was nearly full of water.

Firemen doing the dragging lost two sets of grapple hooks in fence rows hidden by flood waters in

Passman Blasts Flood Proposal

WASHINGTON (Special) —Rep. Otto Passman of Louisiana Friday flatly opposed efforts by "certain bureaucrats" to transfer responsibility for flood control and major drainage programs from army engineers to the interior department.

He declared the programs should "positively remain" a function of the engineers.

The Monroe congressman commented after appearing before the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee which handles funds for flood control, major drainage and other stream improvement work along the lower Mississippi river and tributaries.

Super Highway Start Observed

By RECA BAMBURG

The quiet of a pastoral setting in the southern portion of Lincoln Parish was broken at noon yesterday as a giant bulldozer rumbled into action to begin work on a new super highway across northern Louisiana, linking Texas and Mississippi.

Louisiana Highway Director R. B. Richardson was at the controls of the machine breaking ground for Interstate Highway 20. Standing behind him on the bulldozer were Wayne Huckabay, fifth district engineer, and Monte Carbone, heavy machine dealer in Louisiana.

About 350 federal, state and local officials attended the two-hour long ceremony half a mile north of U. S. 80 at Choudrant.

The site of today's ribbon-cutting ceremony marks the spot where a modified diamond will be located. The interchange will service traffic going north and south. I-20 will carry traffic traveling east and west.

Beginning

"Today is the beginning of what is undoubtedly the most important public works project in the history of North Louisiana; the impact on the general economy of the northern part of Louisiana will be incalculable," Huckaby said.

"The interstate highway project will mean millions of dollars spent in labor, material and supplies. It will incur some local labor."

Huckaby said that he could not estimate the number of people who will be employed since the number will fluctuate.

The ceremony was held on the

AS INSTRUCTOR

Slater Will Remain On College Faculty

President Lewis C. Slater of Northeast State College, whose tenure as president will end June 30th, is scheduled to teach on the college faculty this summer, it was learned yesterday.

Slater gave reporters a copy of the college's class schedule for the summer term. In it, he was listed as a professor of physical science.

The 65-year-old educator, who recently was the point of question in a retirement issue, will be replaced as president on July 1st by Dr. George Walker, Northwestern State College dean.

When asked yesterday about his plans for the future, Slater's only remarks were, "I'm not going into retirement."

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, when called on for a ruling in Slater's case of retirement, ruled that retirement for the Northeast president was not mandatory at age 65.

However, the State Board of Education, in a close vote, moved to appoint Dr. Walker as the college's new president.

Still On Faculty

But under the set-up of the state's school terms, Slater will still be on the faculty of the college when the summer term begins in the first week of June.

Slater, even as president, normally teaches a science course at Northeast. He will be teaching the summer course when his tenure as president expires.

It is not believed that the expiration of his presidency would affect the legality of his teaching on the summer faculty.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Two Georgia desperadoes who broke jail in Texas and took hostages to aid their flight in Louisiana will be taken to Atlanta for trial on federal charges.

Bonds of $27,000 each were fixed Friday for John Hall, 22, of Atlanta, and Henry Maddox, 24, of College Park, Ga., by U. S. Commissioner James Byrd.

They were arraigned on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution; a warrant from Tyler, Tex., for transportation of a stolen car across state lines; and a warrant from Alexander, Ga., also for transportation of a stolen car.

Admit Charges

The pair admitted the unlawful flight and the Texas charge. After they waived preliminary hearing, U. S. Marshal Frank Durrance said he would take them to Atlanta. The time was not specified.

Hall and Maddox were taken in custody yesterday after an alert deputy, E. J. Edwards, recognized their car as one listed in

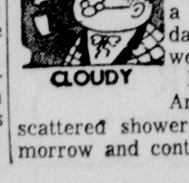
Showers Likely Around District

Partly cloudy skies today with possible showers tomorrow is the weather outlook for the Monroe area. Temperatures are expected to remain warm.



The high yesterday was 86, with a low of 63. Friday's readings were 84 and 64.

Predictions for Arkansas call for scattered showers today and tomorrow and continued warm.

Kirkpatrick Sees Defeat Of Higher Gas Tax In State

Delony Asks Teachers To Cut Demands

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Rep. Claude Kirkpatrick predicted Friday a higher natural gas gathering tax would be defeated "and then the administration will re-arrange the budget and give the teachers what they are getting now." Kirkpatrick opposes any tax increase.

Rep. Vail Delony, who backs the tax, warned teachers they must trim their demands or risk losing the 50 per cest pay raise they now receive.

When the Legislature goes back to work Monday night to start the second week of the 60-day session, Rep. Ben Holt of Rapides Parish will introduce his package plan to increase the gas gathering tax.

Gov. Earl Long has endorsed the bill. The governor's budget committee, slicing state spending 30 million dollars below current levels, left out teachers.

Salary Schedule

From state surpluses, they have received 50 per cent of a 1956 salary schedule. Unless the tax is passed or the budget changed, teachers face a pay cut next fall.

Sen. W. J. Rainach of Summerfield, anti-tax leader, suggested a nonpartisal conference to find out the facts of Louisiana finance. This, he said, would prove whether taxes are needed.

Kirkpatrick lost a first round fight with the administration Tuesday night when his resolution to put teachers ahead of other state agencies for their pay was sidetracked into the House Appropriations Committee. The Kirkpatrick resolution has heavy backing from anti-tax lawmakers.

Key To Problem

"The key to the problem," the Jefferson Davis Parish legislator said in a statement, "is the executive budget and the Legislature should get a chance to study it as soon as possible."

Fiscal officers say the general appropriations bill probably will be ready for introduction Tuesday or Wednesday.

House Ways and Means Committee hearings are likely Wednesday on Holt's tax bill. Holt would

River Search Pressed For Elderly Man

A boat found floating in the Ouachita River yesterday morning set off dragging operations for its 80-year-old owner and circumstances uncovered by the investigation puzzled authorities.

The one-man craft was found partially filled with water at the end of Lazarre Street in West Monroe just over the levee.

Mrs. Olive Christy, 605 Austin St., reported to the Ouachita sheriff's office that her grandfather, I. C. Baker, was missing from his home behind the levee.

Authorities from the Ouachita parish sheriff's office, West Monroe Police, and Monroe firemen, who were conducting dragging operations, said they did not know if the man had drowned or not.

The boat was found in an inundated area inside a fence with the only access a narrow passageway. Dragging centered there after an intensive search beside Baker's house some three hundred yards upstream proved futile.

Relatives told authorities that the aged man was at home at 8 the previous night. Backwater had already crept to the rear entrance of his home and he kept the boat tied to the back porch.

Theory Told

Authorities said that it was theorized the man may have toppled from the boat, but they could not substantiate the theory.

One officer explained that the access to the boat tied to Baker's house was through the back entrance, or by wading deep water around the house. He said the back screen was found latched from the inside.

The tie-up chain was found piled inside the bow of the boat as if someone had taken it out last night, investigators commented. The rear seat of the boat was found some 100 yards downstream from the boat, and officers surmised it had floated free since the boat was nearly full of water.

Firemen doing the dragging lost two sets of grapple hooks in fence rows hidden by flood waters in

Passman Blasts Flood Proposal

WASHINGTON (Special) —Rep. Otto Passman of Louisiana Friday flatly opposed efforts by "certain bureaucrats" to transfer responsibility for flood control and major drainage programs from army engineers to the interior department.

He declared the programs should "positively remain" a function of the engineers.

The Monroe congressman commented after appearing before the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee which handles funds for flood control, major drainage and other stream improvement work along the lower Mississippi river and tributaries.

Super Highway Start Observed

By RECA BAMBURG
State Editor

The quiet of a pastoral setting in the southern portion of Lincoln Parish was broken at noon yesterday as a giant bulldozer rumbled into action to begin work on a new super highway across northern Louisiana, linking Texas and Mississippi.

Louisiana Highway Director R. B. Richardson was at the controls of the machine breaking ground for Interstate Highway 20. Standing behind him on the bulldozer were Wayne Huckabay, fifth district engineer, and Monte Carbone, heavy machine dealer in Louisiana.

About 350 federal, state and local officials attended the two-hour long ceremony half a mile north of U. S. 80 at Choudrant.

The site of today's ribbon-cutting ceremony marks the spot where a modified diamond will be located. The interchange will service traffic going north and south. I-20 will carry traffic traveling east and west.

Beginning

"Today is the beginning of what is undoubtedly the most important public works project in the history of North Louisiana; the impact on the general economy of the northern part of Louisiana will be incalculable," Huckaby said.

"The interstate highway project will mean millions of dollars spent in labor, material and supplies. It will incur some local labor."

Huckaby said that he could not estimate the number of people who will be employed since the number will fluctuate.

The ceremony was held on the

AS INSTRUCTOR

Slater Will Remain On College Faculty

President Lewis C. Slater of Northeast State College, whose tenure as president will end June 30th, is scheduled to teach on the college faculty this summer, it was learned yesterday.

Slater gave reporters a copy of the college's class schedule for the summer term. In it, he was listed as a professor of physical science.

The 65-year-old educator, who recently was the point of question in a retirement issue, will be replaced as president on July 1st by Dr. George Walker, Northwestern State College dean.

When asked yesterday about his plans for the future, Slater's only remarks were, "I'm not going into retirement."

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, when called on for a ruling in Slater's case of retirement, ruled that retirement for the Northeast president was not mandatory at age 65.

However, the State Board of Education, in a close vote, moved to appoint Dr. Walker as the college's new president.

Still On Faculty

But under the set-up of the state's school terms, Slater will still be on the faculty of the college when the summer term begins in the first week of June.

Slater, even as president, normally teaches a science course at Northeast. He will be teaching the summer course when his tenure as president expires.

It is not believed that the expiration of his presidency would affect the legality of his teaching on the summer faculty.

Slater and Dean William Smith, whose resignation at Northeast is effective June 30th, were interviewed yesterday in the president's office at Northeast.

They told newsmen that plans for the summer term at Northeast would be no different this year than during past seasons. Dr. W. J. Christmas of the Northeast faculty has been appointed director of the summer school.

Slater said Smith usually serves as director. Smith, who turned down an interview by the state board for Slater's position, resigned when the board voted not to retain his present boss.

He said yesterday he has a position awaiting him, but stated that a public announcement would be made at a future date.

Check Reports

Newsmen called on Slater and Smith to check reports that Clarence Ball, who resigned as business manager of the college last winter, was back on the Northeast payroll.

Slater verified reports that Ball had been back on the campus, but stated he is not employed by the college.

On reports that the Northeast faculty is being reduced for the summer terms, both Slater and Smith said the summer faculty at the college has always been minimized during the summer.

"All college faculties during summer terms are reduced," Slater said. "Our program this summer will be no different from that of any other year."

On the matter of a new head football coach, Slater said Dr. Walker would have the chore of the selection. "It wouldn't be wise for me to begin selecting a coach," he remarked.

Miss Hospitality Search Opened

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board Friday announced its search for "Miss Hospitality" of 1958 is on.

The A&I board said communities throughout the state are preparing for "hospitality month" in June. June 18 is the deadline for entries.

The winner will be crowned July 12 at Biloxi by Gov. J. P. Coleman, climaxing a four-day program of judging and entertaining on the Gulf Coast. She becomes a traveling representative for Mississippi.

In summing up the situation, investigators said that there was no way to determine if the man had fallen into the river. A widespread search for floating hats and clothing revealed nothing.

During the search shortly before sundown, the levee was ringed with neighborhood residents, many of whom expounded theories that the man drowned. None reported seeing him yesterday.

an FBI circular. Edwards and other officers closed in on the fugitives and flushed them from among a group of houses after they abandoned their car.

Police said a third man, believed to be James Bennett, 25, escaped.

Two women taken in custody were belig held for further investigation.

They were identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Maddox, 17, of Atlanta; and Mrs. Peggy Bennett, 26, formerly of Orlando. Mrs. Maddox' 2-year-old daughter Deborah also was in the car.

Newspaper clippings in the men's luggage told of their exploits. One clipping dated May 8 from Monroe, La., said Hall and Maddox after escaping from the Texarkana, Tex., jail took three hostages.

One of the hostages was Lonnie Cummings, Gibsland, La., town marshal, who had flagged down another car with two occupants to help him. The fugitives overpowered the marshal and took all three captive.

The marshal later escaped and the other two were released unharmed.

Victims Of Flood Take It On Chin

the scene late yesterday met a group of young children returning from school. They paused sad-faced atop the river levee and looked longingly to their home whose roof the water threatens.

Their father appeared soon. He said he had left the children with friends in West Monroe temporarily while he worked at the paper-mill there. "I bring them here daily to catch the schoolbus," the man said. "The school authorities have made arrangements for my children to complete the term early and today is their last day in school," he commented.

This is the story of a few, the Red Cross reports 45 families have been moved from behind the levee in Monroe and West Monroe. No critical plights have been reported by the agency and it was understood that most of the stricken people have made arrangements during the high waters.

What was the situation on the river yesterday?

The following facts are reported by officials of the Tensas Levee Basin Board and the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

The opinion of most officials is that present preparations are sufficient to contain the rising river.

Meanwhile the slowly rising Ouachita River claimed another home yesterday as the flood stage level crept to 48.5 feet. This was a rise of .3 of a foot during the preceeding 24 hours.

The family lived between the river and the levee near Conway Memorial Hospital. The Red Cross safely evacuated it.

Meanwhile, in Southern Arkansas, the Ouachita at Lock No. 6 showed a drop of .08 of a foot with the Sterlington Lock No. 5 indicating a rise of only .1 of a foot.

However, predictions now are that the river will crest around 49.5 feet by May 19 or 20. This is six inches more than previously expected.

The high water is not expected to top the record high set in 1945 when the crest reached 50.4 feet.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers will close the Ouachita to all through boat traffic beginning tomorrow. It reports that it will be impossible to open the Illinois Central Railroad bridge connecting the Twin Cities.

The Ouachita Parish Sheriff's department added that boat owners should not operate their craft at a high rate of speed. Sheriff Bailey Grant said the waves created by speeding boats could weaken the already strained levees.

An ordinance was recently passed by the Ouachita Parish police jury banning the use of levees as roads by any type of vehicle during the present crisis. The jurymen also banned livestock from the levees.

The sheriff's department has patrols out to enforce this ordinance and to watch for speeding boats, the sheriff warned.

Late last night there had been no change in the list of fifth district roads closed by the high water. Roads marked as impassable included:

State 15, Monroe to Farmerville.
State 34, Monroe to Jonesboro.
State 151, D'Arbonne Crossing Dubach.

a knife and pistol at 1417 Louise Ann St., officers disclosed.

The crash occurred at S. 11th and Louise Ann Streets shortly afterwards.

Headspeath will be liable to charges of aggravated battery and use of a pistol, police said. The Burton girl will be in the care of juvenile authorities.

Police said the Burton girl charged that Headspeath came to her house brandishing a pistol and alleging threats. She reported she obtained a large butcher knife from the kitchen and a scuffle began that ended with the stabbing and shooting in the next door resident's yard, officers said.

Officers investigating the wreck said that the drivers were Davis Bryd, 33, of 2402 Renwick St., who was headed north on S. 11th Street. The other driver was identified as Hamp Jones, 31, of 1005¼ Gentry's Alley who was driving east on Louise Ann St.

The Hill woman was a passenger in the taxi driven by Byrd. Mulhearn ambulances rushed the injured to hospitals here.

West Monroe High Names Honor Grads

Theda Rose Pettigrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trois Pettigrew, 1008 McBride St., West Monroe, is the first honor student of the West Monroe High School 1958 graduating class, and Rose Mary White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. White, 311 North Fourth St., was accorded second honor recognition, according to P. B. Mangum, principal.

The honors were awarded on the basis of excellent scholastic grades maintained throughout their four years of high school. It was noted that both students had consistently taken the "hard" courses.

Miss Pettigrew, who has had four years of English, three and a half years of mathematics, two of science and two of foreign languages, plans to enter either Southern Methodist University or Louisiana Tech.

Honors Told

She is a member of the Honor Society, secretary of the student council, president of the French Club, Key Club sweetheart, and earned the title of "Miss West Monroe High School," which is accorded the top senior favorite.

Miss White has had four years of English, four years of mathematics, four years of science, and two years of foreign languages. She is a member of the Honor Society and Latin Club, and the Future Business Leaders of America.

She has won honors at local, state, and regional science fairs, and attended the 1957 national science meet. Her plans for college are as yet undecided.

Miss White is the younger sister of Mildred White, who was the school's top honor student last year.

APPROPRIATION URGED

AUSTIN (UP)— Gov. Price Daniel Monday advocated congressional appropriation of $75,000 for planning of the proposed Somerville Dam and reservoir in Burleson and Washington counties.

The Somerville reservoir, proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers, would be located on Yegua Creek, a tributary of the Brazos River, and would cost an estimated $10,200,000.

of J. B. "Duke" Shackelford of Bonita," Grant said.

Senator Allen J. Ellender and Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman were contacted and requested a favorable ruling from the U. S. Department of Agriculture regarding the emergency situation. Subsequently, congressional representatives from the states of Mississippi and California added their petitions that farmers be permitted to transfer their acreage allotments to other farms in areas where flood waters have made planting impossible. Extension of the state's deadlines for release and reapportionment of this cotton acreage has made this action possible, Grant declared.

Flames Damage Grocery Store

WINNSBORO (Special)—A local grocery store received considerable smoke damage here last night when a fire was discovered in the rear of the building. The Winnsboro Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze for 45 minutes and succeeded in keeping the fire away from the main part of the building.

Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn, volunteer driver of one of the fire trucks, said that a furniture store, connected by a common roof to the grocery, was also damaged by smoke and water. Mulhearn added that although both buildings were considerably damaged, the fire was confined to the rear of the grocery.

dedicate enough of the new revenues to keep teacher pay at the present level, with the remainder going into the state general fund.

"The administration should introduce the executive budget when the Legislature convenes Monday night," Kirkpatrick said. "The governor . . . pointed out that the budget was the responsibility of the Legislature as well as the executive branch . . . yet we will apparently not get a chance to see his recommendations until after we have voted on the gas tax bill."

Delony, East Carroll Parish, said the teachers don't stand a chance of getting all the pay scale and may lose what they now receive unless they "get together with everyone concerned."

He said he would vote for the Holt program, but made several suggestions:

Trim the pay scale to fit the dedicated tax source.

Revise the pay formula so starting teachers get the lion's share of the increase.

Be more cooperative, in view of the state's fiscal difficulties.

Permit some 14 million dollars due to go to the teacher retirement fund to be diverted into the salary schedule.

Rep. T. T. Fields of Union Parish has offered a proposal to keep the teacher retirement fund at the near 150 million dollar level it will reach June 30. The 12.3 per cent contribution by the state would go to pay, while teachers continue their present contributions of six per cent.

America's first citizens, the Indian tribes, will be depicted by Scouts from the Northern District and the Southwest District will put on a camping demonstration.

With the Eastern District in charge of pioneering, Scouts from Monroe and West Monroe will stage "Fort Ouachita."

Highlighting the show will be the appearance of the Council's Order of the Arrow Indian dance team and Troop 3 of Monroe will provide the circus clown to add a note of humor.

River Search Pressed For Elderly Man

the area. Several families have been driven from a narrow strip between the levee and the river since flood waters have risen.

In summing up the situation, investigators said that there was no way to determine if the man had fallen into the river. A widespread search for floating hats and clothing revealed nothing.

During the search shortly before sundown, the levee was ringed with neighborhood residents, many of whom expounded theories that the man drowned. None reported seeing him yesterday.

an FBI circular. Edwards and other officers closed in on the fugitives and flushed them from among a group of houses after they abandoned their car.

Police said a third man, believed to be James Bennett, 25, escaped.

Two women taken in custody were belig held for further investigation.

They were identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Maddox, 17, of Atlanta; and Mrs. Peggy Bennett, 26, formerly of Orlando. Mrs. Maddox' 2-year-old daughter Deborah also was in the car.

Newspaper clippings in the men's luggage told of their exploits. One clipping dated May 8 from Monroe, La., said Hall and Maddox after escaping from the Texarkana, Tex., jail took three hostages.

One of the hostages was Lonnie Cummings, Gibsland, La., town marshal, who had flagged down another car with two occupants to help him. The fugitives overpowered the marshal and took all three captive.

The marshal later escaped and the other two were released unharmed.

Campbell filed a joint murder charge last Monday against Jack H. Scott, 29, Dallas, and Thomas Jefferson Oden, 28, Gore, Okla. Scott and Oden, both ex-convicts, are accused of killing Ervin Settles, 26, last Sunday.

Victims Of Flood Take It On Chin

the scene late yesterday met a group of young children returning from school. They paused sad-faced atop the river levee and looked longingly to their home whose roof the water threatens.

Their father appeared soon. He said he had left the children with friends in West Monroe temporarily while he worked at the paper-mill there. "I bring them here daily to catch the schoolbus," the man said. "The school authorities have made arrangements for my children to complete the term early and today is their last day in school," he commented.

This is the story of a few, the Red Cross reports 45 families have been moved from behind the levee in Monroe and West Monroe. No critical plights have been reported by the agency and it was understood that most of the stricken people have made arrangements during the high waters.

What was the situation on the river yesterday?

The following facts are reported by officials of the Tensas Levee Basin Board and the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

The opinion of most officials is that present preparations are sufficient to contain the rising river.

Meanwhile the slowly rising Ouachita River claimed another home yesterday as the flood stage level crept to 48.5 feet. This was a rise of .3 of a foot during the preceeding 24 hours.

The family lived between the river and the levee near Conway Memorial Hospital. The Red Cross safely evacuated it.

Meanwhile, in Southern Arkansas, the Ouachita at Lock No. 6 showed a drop of .08 of a foot with the Sterlington Lock No. 5 indicating a rise of only .1 of a foot.

However, predictions now are that the river will crest around 49.5 feet by May 19 or 20. This is six inches more than previously expected.

The high water is not expected to top the record high set in 1945 when the crest reached 50.4 feet.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers will close the Ouachita to all through boat traffic beginning tomorrow. It reports that it will be impossible to open the Illinois Central Railroad bridge connecting the Twin Cities.

The Ouachita Parish Sheriff's department added that boat owners should not operate their craft at a high rate of speed. Sheriff Bailey Grant said the waves created by speeding boats could weaken the already strained levees.

An ordinance was recently passed by the Ouachita Parish police jury banning the use of levees as roads by any type of vehicle during the present crisis. The jurymen also banned livestock from the levees.

The sheriff's department has patrols out to enforce this ordinance and to watch for speeding boats, the sheriff warned.

Late last night there had been no change in the list of fifth district roads closed by the high water. Roads marked as impassable included:

State 15, Monroe to Farmerville.
State 34, Monroe to Jonesboro.
State 151, D'Arbonne Crossing Dubach.

a knife and pistol at 1417 Louise Ann St., officers disclosed.

The crash occurred at S. 11th and Louise Ann Streets shortly afterwards.

Headspeath will be liable to charges of aggravated battery and use of a pistol, police said. The Burton girl will be in the care of juvenile authorities.

Police said the Burton girl charged that Headspeath came to her house brandishing a pistol and alleging threats. She reported she obtained a large butcher knife from the kitchen and a scuffle began that ended with the stabbing and shooting in the next door resident's yard, officers said.

Officers investigating the wreck said that the drivers were Davis Bryd, 33, of 2402 Renwick St., who was headed north on S. 11th Street. The other driver was identified as Hamp Jones, 31, of 1005¼ Gentry's Alley who was driving east on Louise Ann St.

The Hill woman was a passenger in the taxi driven by Byrd. Mulhearn ambulances rushed the injured to hospitals here.

NO HITCHING POST

DERBY LINE, Vt. — (UP) — Arch Bissell, 90, had to leave his horse-drawn sleigh at home and take a taxi to town despite a dislike for "new" contraptions. "There's nothing wrong with my sleigh," he said. "It's just that there's no place to hitch my horse in town."

West Monroe High Names Honor Grads

Theda Rose Pettigrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trois Pettigrew, 1008 McBride St., West Monroe, is the first honor student of the West Monroe High School 1958 graduating class, and Rose Mary White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. White, 311 North Fourth St., was accorded second honor recognition, according to P. B. Mangum, principal.

The honors were awarded on the basis of excellent scholastic grades maintained throughout their four years of high school. It was noted that both students had consistently taken the "hard" courses.

Miss Pettigrew, who has had four years of English, three and a half years of mathematics, two of science and two of foreign languages, plans to enter either Southern Methodist University or Louisiana Tech.

Honors Told

She is a member of the Honor Society, secretary of the student council, president of the French Club, Key Club sweetheart, and earned the title of "Miss West Monroe High School," which is accorded the top senior favorite.

Miss White has had four years of English, four years of mathematics, four years of science, and two years of foreign languages. She is a member of the Honor Society and Latin Club, and the Future Business Leaders of America.

She has won honors at local, state, and regional science fairs, and attended the 1957 national science meet. Her plans for college are as yet undecided.

Miss White is the younger sister of Mildred White, who was the school's top honor student last year.

APPROPRIATION URGED

AUSTIN (UP)— Gov. Price Daniel Monday advocated congressional appropriation of $75,000 for planning of the proposed Somerville Dam and reservoir in Burleson and Washington counties.

The Somerville reservoir, proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers, would be located on Yegua Creek, a tributary of the Brazos River, and would cost an estimated $10,200,000.

of J. B. "Duke" Shackelford of Bonita," Grant said.

Senator Allen J. Ellender and Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman were contacted and requested a favorable ruling from the U. S. Department of Agriculture regarding the emergency situation. Subsequently, congressional representatives from the states of Mississippi and California added their petitions that farmers be permitted to transfer their acreage allotments to other farms in areas where flood waters have made planting impossible. Extension of the state's deadlines for release and reapportionment of this cotton acreage has made this action possible, Grant declared.

Flames Damage Grocery Store

WINNSBORO (Special)—A local grocery store received considerable smoke damage here last night when a fire was discovered in the rear of the building. The Winnsboro Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze for 45 minutes and succeeded in keeping the fire away from the main part of the building.

Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn, volunteer driver of one of the fire trucks, said that a furniture store, connected by a common roof to the grocery, was also damaged by smoke and water. Mulhearn added that although both buildings were considerably damaged, the fire was confined to the rear of the grocery.

Delony Asks Teachers To Cut Demands

dedicate enough of the new revenues to keep teacher pay at the present level, with the remainder going into the state general fund.

"The administration should introduce the executive budget when the Legislature convenes Monday night," Kirkpatrick said. "The governor . . . pointed out that the budget was the responsibility of the Legislature as well as the executive branch . . . yet we will apparently not get a chance to see his recommendations until after we have voted on the gas tax bill."

Delony, East Carroll Parish, said the teachers don't stand a chance of getting all the pay scale and may lose what they now receive unless they "get together with everyone concerned."

He said he would vote for the Holt program, but made several suggestions:

Trim the pay scale to fit the dedicated tax source.

Revise the pay formula so starting teachers get the lion's share of the increase.

Be more cooperative, in view of the state's fiscal difficulties.

Permit some 14 million dollars due to go to the teacher retirement fund to be diverted into the salary schedule.

Rep. T. T. Fields of Union Parish has offered a proposal to keep the teacher retirement fund at the near 150 million dollar level it will reach June 30. The 12.3 per cent contribution by the state would go to pay, while teachers continue their present contributions of six per cent.

Stormy Marriage

By Vida Hurst

Chapter 10

THE STORY THIS FAR: A bride of only three days, STORMY GRAHAM already has doubts about her hasty marriage to RANDY GRAHAM, who is much older than she. On the day of their arrival in San Francisco, Randy's home, he calls on KITTY WALLACE to tell her of his marriage. She is furious and plans revenge. Later she says she will be at his announcement party with her son. Upon hearing about Kitty, and Randy's visiting her, Stormy is heartbroken. But Randy assures her Kitty means nothing to him.

As often happens in marriages which are contracted suddenly with unfamiliar backgrounds, both parties are suspicious of each other. Particluarly is this true if either is a complete stranger to the other's circle. It seemed to be like that with Randolph Graham and his youthful bride.

Stormy was jealous no matter how much she denied it. She wasn't silly enough to believe that her husband had lived 18 years after his first wife's death without feminine companionship. She told him she trusted him implicitly, but her repeated statements to that effect were too frequent to sound sincere. The situation had been blissfully uncomplicated while they were in Hawaii. But the ghost of a living woman had slipped between them on the flight to the mainland. Both knew it and both hoped it would fade away as soon as their marriage was announced.

By Sunday the combined tension in the house on Belvedere Island had reached the danger point. Elsa, who suffered from a sense of guilt because her life had cost her mother's, felt more like a fifth wheel than usual. She liked Stormy, But she adored her father, and resented his love for a girl so near her own age.

Elsa had pictured herself as hostess at parties for her father's friends. For years she had waited impatiently for her graduation. Now her dream of being needed had been shattered before she could prove how useful she could be. Elsa was too intelligent not to know that her father's wife had first claim upon his loyalty.

Elsa was making secret plans for her own escape as she planned the party to announce her father's marriage. Fortifying herself by the promise that this would be the last time, as well as the first. From now on her youthful stepmother would be responsible for entertaining. It would be Stormy's house as it was Stormy's husband.

There was no time to brood over the situation as the hour arrived for the guests to appear. A cateress from the city had taken over the details of preparing and serving the imported vintage champagne Randy had specified. Silver trays had been filled with chicken sandwiches, covered with waxed - paper by the cateress who had arrived at nine o'clock that morning. Lucy Bardella had cooked and served for Randy Graham's parties for almost 20 years. She knew she would have complete freedom to serve whatever she chose. The menu, except for the liquor, was left to her. She was also authorized to bring as much help as she needed so that the affair would run smoothly. Emily Post herself couldn't have done better.

Lucy knew about the frliendship between the widow and Randy. She also recognized the undercurrent of tension in the beautiful new house and wondered if the cocktail party was to announce the engagement of Elsa to some daring young man her father did not like. Lucy had not met Stormy, but if she had she would have considered her Elsa's friend. Not until the 50-year-old cateress opened the box containing the seven - tiered wedding cake did she realize that the party wasn't a house warming. It must be Randy's wedding to Kitty Wallace which was being celebrated.

"And high time," Lucy thought. "Now that his daughter is living at home. He should have done it long ago."

The guests arrived promptly. Randy Graham was a popular host and offered the added bait of a beautiful new house on Belvedere. The June day was perfect for a few hours after noon, then the fog would close in so Randy had designated an earlier hour than usual. Stormy sat with Elsa, two girls together, appearing more alike than they were. Both were slender and delicately built, with dark hair cut in the same careless fashion, and similar dresses of silk with tight bodices and flared skirts which rustled when they walked. The greatest difference was to be seen in their eyes.

Elsa's were intensely blue, while Stormy's were gray, and changed shades according to her mood. At the moment they were clear and dancing with anticipation. Everyone but Elsa seemed older and everyone was so pleasant. These were Randy's friends and would be hers when they realized she was his wife. He would announce their marriage as soon as the champagne was served and that time was approaching rapidly.

"What are we waiting for?" Stormy asked.

"Kitty," Elsa replied.

Murder Trial Underway In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Judge George Platt Friday took under advisement testimony on whether enough facts and evidence exist to link Joseph Bagnola with the slaying of a local used car dealer.

None of the three state witnesses could place Bagnola at the scene of the 1950 robbery-murder of Henry Stern.

Harry Widger, the only one of six men indicted in connection with the slaying to be convicted, refused to testify. Widger, serving life at Angola penitentiary, based his refusal on grounds that his life would be endangered if he were to testify while a prisoner.

Mrs. Henry Stern, widow of the slain man, testified that to her knowledge she had never seen Bagnola before.

Hubert Teuton, one of the six men indicted in the case, testified he had met Bagnola twice, once at the airport on the morning of the Stern killing and later in Chicago at a used car lot operated by Widger. Teuton was never tried. He became a state witness.

SPELLING TROUBLE

RUTLAND, Vt. — (UP) — Municipal Judge Edward G. McClallen notes that college students mailing in their checks in payment of traffic fines have spelled in these ways the name of his court: Minissable, Manisable, Miniuscule, Manuciple and Municapel.

Negro Indicted On Charge Of Girl's Murder

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The Calcasieu Parish Grand Jury Friday indicted Clarence Coleman, 31-year-old Negro, in the mutilation murder of a 16-year-old Negro girl.

The jury declined to indict in three other homicide cases.

Officers said Coleman admitted stabbing and beating to death Elizabeth Broussard last month while in a fit of temper.

Among those freed were Mrs. Alcede Fuselier, 20, of Maplewood, who was charged with manslaughter in her husband's slaying; Robert Guice, Creole Negro school principal held on a negligent homicide charge in the traffic death of an airman; and Alton B. Webb, 36, of Lake Charles, charged in the death of a man who died the day after a barroom fight.

Mrs. Fusilier told Calcasieu officers her husband was shot fatally while trying to take a pistol away from her during a dispute over a divorce settlement. She said she got out the pistol to try to scare him.

Murder Trial Underway In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Judge George Platt Friday took under advisement testimony on whether enough facts and evidence exist to link Joseph Bagnola with the slaying of a local used car dealer.

None of the three state witnesses could place Bagnola at the scene of the 1950 robbery-murder of Henry Stern.

Harry Widger, the only one of six men indicted in connection with the slaying to be convicted, refused to testify. Widger, serving life at Angola penitentiary, based his refusal on grounds that his life would be endangered if he were to testify while a prisoner.

Mrs. Henry Stern, widow of the slain man, testified that to her knowledge she had never seen Bagnola before.

Hubert Teuton, one of the six men indicted in the case, testified he had met Bagnola twice, once at the airport on the morning of the Stern killing and later in Chicago at a used car lot operated by Widger. Teuton was never tried. He became a state witness.

RUTLAND, Vt. — (UP) — Municipal Judge Edward G. McClallen notes that college students mailing in their checks in payment of traffic fines have spelled in these ways the name of his court: Minissable, Manisable, Miniuscule, Manuciple and Municapel.

Negro Indicted On Charge Of Girl's Murder

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The Calcasieu Parish Grand Jury Friday indicted Clarence Coleman, 31-year-old Negro, in the mutilation murder of a 16-year-old Negro girl.

The jury declined to indict in three other homicide cases.

Officers said Coleman admitted stabbing and beating to death Elizabeth Broussard last month while in a fit of temper.

Among those freed were Mrs. Alcede Fuselier, 20, of Maplewood, who was charged with manslaughter in her husband's slaying; Robert Guice, Creole Negro school principal held on a negligent homicide charge in the traffic death of an airman; and Alton B. Webb, 36, of Lake Charles, charged in the death of a man who died the day after a barroom fight.

Mrs. Fusilier told Calcasieu officers her husband was shot fatally while trying to take a pistol away from her during a dispute over a divorce settlement. She said she got out the pistol to try to scare him.

BLOOD DONORS

HAVERHILL, Mass. — (UP) — Prospective fathers don't have time to pace the floor at Hale Hospital. While waiting for the big event, they are called on to donate a pint of blood.

Attorney To Be Candidate

BATON ROUGE (AP)—C. Alvin Tyler, Baton Rouge attorney, said Friday he would be a candidate for congress in the July 29 Sixth District Democratic primary, opposing Rep. James H. Morrison (D-La).

Tyler was defeated by Morrison in the first primary two years ago.

Teacher Tenure Law

Proposals by Louisiana school superintendents and school boards for some changes in the state's tenure law no doubt will create another major problem for legislators and touch off a statewide battle.

Already the New Orleans Classroom Teachers' Federation has come out against the proposed changes and probably other classroom groups in the state will take the same view, particularly the Louisiana Teachers Association.

However, it should be emphatically clear to all concerned that some changes are needed, if not a complete revamping of the law. It is one of the most vicious setups in existence in the state. Even many teachers in Louisiana are against numerous aspects of the law and so are most of the other school officials.

There is little doubt but what it is one of the worst forms of unionism. The hands of the teacher as well as those of school administrators are tied because of it.

Whether the proposals by the Louisiana School Board Association are sufficient, cannot be determined at the present time, but certainly they are a step in the right direction.

Among the proposed changes are:

1. That the teacher tenure law be amended to permit discharge or reassignment each year of a small percentage of teachers deemed adequate by the superintendent and the school board.

2. To add as causes for dismissal in addition to those now provided the following: Alcoholism, immorality, and other pertinent reasons.

3. To provide for a better method of conducting hearings.

School superintendents and school boards believe that something like two per cent of the school teachers might be classed as "lemons" or undesirable as teachers. This is an extremely small percentage, it is true, and is probably much lower than would be found in most other lines of endeavor. However, this small group in such a vital field as teaching could cause tremendous harm. As it now stands, it is almost impossible to discharge any teacher, regardless of the cause.

School administrators point out that the proposal authorizing the discharging or reassigning each year of a small percentage of teachers for certain things would allow them to get rid of the undesirables. They say this would constitute no threat to honest, conscientious, capable teachers.

Under present law the most effective cause for discharge is insubordination, with gross inefficiency and a few other things as alternate causes. Most are hard to prove, although they occur, particularly in view of the fact that the teacher who is wholly under the tenure protection must have passed through a three-year probationary period.

In fact, school administrators point out it is almost an impossible task to fire a teacher after the three-year period, regardless of what that teacher does.

Certainly, no one wants to see the teachers return to the old status they once held. In those days they were the pawns of every politician that came along and also of other pressure groups. Obviously, this does not make for a good school situation either.

But laws protecting the teachers from this sort of situation can be approved with ease.

The fact that the teachers have entered politics on a major basis themselves, through the LTA, has caused many people to sit up and consider just how bad the present tenure law is. They are allowing themselves to be used for a vicious political purpose and have become the pawns of Governor Earl Long and those others who are pushing for new tax increases. By so doing, the teachers have left themselves wide open.

It obviously is not a healthy situation when an employer cannot operate his own business; when he cannot fire the incompetent and those who bring disgrace to his business. That is true today under many union contracts, and it is true in regard to teachers under the present tenure law.

When any situation reaches this point, it is time for some changes.

Caddo Vs. Jefferson

Contending that Jefferson county, Texas, is far more French than is Caddo parish, Louisiana, a member of the Louisiana legislature has offered a proposal that Louisiana trade Caddo parish for Jefferson county. Although reportedly introduced as a "gag," the resolution may represent the true sentiments of its author, Rep. Willard Rambo of Grant parish.

Rep. Rambo stated that Jefferson County has a lot more LeBlancs, Melancons and others (probably meaning Rambos) than many southern Louisiana parishes. He apparently wants to trade off Caddo's Anglo-Saxons for Jefferson's Latins.

Also, according to Mr. Rambo, Caddo parish coffee is weak, like Texas coffee, instead of being strong, dark and handsome like south Louisiana coffee.

Rep. Welborn Jack of Caddo parish couldn't see the joke and was angry at first and finally wondered how Louisiana would get along without taxes paid by Shreveport and Caddo parish.

It may be said for Mr. Rambo that he did not intend to cheat Louisiana as far as numbers were concerned. The last federal census, which was made nearly 10 years ago and may not be very accurate, since Shreveport has been growing at a tremendous rate, showed that Caddo parish had a population of something more than 176,000, while Jefferson county had about 195,000. If the population figures are still proportionate, that would give Louisiana an increase of about 20,000.

Texas is a big state and some of its people are said to think big and act big but it is unlikely that that state would be big-hearted enough to consider giving a 20,000-person bonus in a territorial and population exchange.

There is at least one phase of Mr. Rambo's proposal that would draw the opposition of all north Louisiana residents. He wants to trade off an attractive, wealthy, well-populated part of north Louisiana in order to add to the territorial holdings of the south Louisiana lowlanders.

Aside from Monroe, Shreveport is one of the best towns in north Louisiana. We are not willing to give away a part of our territory.

The whole thing sounds as if Mr. Rambo wants to trade off a Cadillac owned by Mr. Smith for a Chrysler owned by Mr. Jones. He wants to trade off something he (or his part of the state) doesn't own to acquire something he (or his part of the state) would own.

Even a first-class French horse-trader would not do a thing like that—or would he?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Plant Modernization Held Down By High U.S. Taxes

Those who are surprised at Soviet Russia's advance in heavy industry overlook the fact that they have an entirely new plant. They can take advantage of every improvement made anywhere in the world. Our plant in the heavy industries, particularly in steel, is comparatively old, which could mean about 20 years old. This is not a problem of managerial competence; it is one of taxation and the unwillingness of the government to recognize that a plant erected in 1939 can only be replaced in 1958 at about two and a half times its original cost or more.

No matter how high the earnings of an industry may be, it can be short of money for replacements and modernization, unless the tax laws and the methods of collecting taxes recognize that the purpose of a depreciation reserve is to modernize plant and equipment so that the operation is always efficient and competitive.

Father William T. Hogan, professor of economics at Fordham University, who has made a special study of this subject, makes the point that while the purchasing power of the dollar in 1956 was just half of its 1939 value (it has fallen lower since), the construction dollar has fallen to less than 40 per cent of its 1939 value. "... Thus, it takes two and one-half dollars today to build what one dollar would build in 1939 and 1940. This presents a serious problem in the replacement of worn-out facilities, for generally speaking, the equipment installed in 1939 at the cost of 1 million dollars could not be replaced today for less than 2½ million dollars, yet the depreciation funds set aside for this replacement amount only to the original cost, or 1 million dollars. Thus an additional million and a half is necessary if equipment is to be replaced and operations maintained."

This is not only impractical from the standpoint of the individual companies; it is impractical from the standpoint of national interest. It is responsible for outpricing many American commodities even in home markets. While there are some who believe that the day is not distant when steel will be replaced by lighter metals, that day is not yet, and what applies to steel, in this matter, applies universally to everything. It applies to all plants and equipment that have to be written off in a period of 20 or 30 years.

This situation was somewhat modified by the Second Revenue Act of 1940 which permitted a five-year write-off for war plants. Many of these plants were for special purposes anyhow and had to be reconverted as soon as the war was over. As regards equipment, some machine tools are useful only for particular tasks. Under our tax laws, it grows increasingly difficult to maintain a modern, efficient plant, capable of competitive performance with the newest and best plants in the world.

Father Hogan stated the case of the steel industry clearly and succinctly in a statement before the House Ways and Means Committee on January 15, 1958:

"Much of the equipment in the steel industry is large, expensive and long-lived; consequently, the industry has been particularly hard hit by the post war inflation and the lack of adequate depreciation funds for the replacement of plant. The average life of steel mill equipment is 20 to 25 years. Thus, at the present time, the industry finds it necessary to replace assets acquired in the middle and early 1930s. The original investment in this equipment, and consequently, the depreciation accrual amounts to less than one-half their present replacement cost. The problem is further aggravated by the sheer size of investment required to produce iron and steel. At present the industry has 13 billion dollars worth of fixed assets in operation, and a substantial portion of these must be replaced every year."

Difficult Legislation Compared To Centipede

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The saying is that if a centipede stopped to think about putting one foot ahead of the other, he would fall on his face. That's how it is with writing difficult legislation. It is better for the lawmakers to — well let 'er rip. If they get to dwelling upon the difficulty and intricacy of legislation, they could get nowhere.

Two examples of this thesis are presently on display in the Capitol, where subdivisions of the Senate Labor and Foreign Relations committees are meeting.

Senator Jack Kennedy, chairman of the law-writing subcommittee of Labor, has probably the toughest assignment in town. No subject is as politically sizzling as this one. At the latest check he had 40 bills by eight different Senators, but the number could easily be doubled by now. Kennedy's party is pledged to bring a committee bill to the Senate floor by June 10th. Nearly every political forecaster in town will be discredited if this happens. In the teeth of these adversities, the young chairman plugs doggedly ahead on what could be the make-or-break test of his presidential chances. If he stops to contemplate which foot to put first, he would be lost.

Another Democrat on the committee, Senator Wayne Morse, is working at cross-purposes with Kennedy, although the allegation would be denied. As a member and spokesman of the Demo-Laborites, Morse would like to prevent any Labor bill from reaching the floor in the current atmosphere created by the McClellan hearings on Labor-Management rackets. Morse is trying to talk the Kennedy inquiry to death. It is something the wag-jaw Oregonian, a tireless elocutionist and a former Law School Dean, is well equipped by nature to do. But since he is handicapped by a 10-minute rule in committee, Morse has been citing the centipede law. Daily he stresses the extreme complexity of writing legislation to cover 18 million workers in 62,000 union locals and all the interlocking relationship with industry. He is trying to give the committee a case of tanglefoot that will bring it to a halt.

As it happens, the three Republicans who most want a Labor law — Senators Knowland, Mundt and Goldwater — are all non-lawyers. They could understandably quail before the legalistic land-mines with which Morse has strewn the terrain; but so far they haven't done so. The Republicans are sustained either by the courage of ignorance, or by a dash of the Admiral Farragut spirit: "Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!" Senator Goldwater tells me:

"They say it's difficult. I don't believe it's any harder than writing a reclamation act! All we need do is make up our minds what we want — and then do it. We want liberation of the union members from the union bosses. So, let's write it just that way."

On the floor below the Old Supreme Court chamber where the Kennedy group meets, the Foreign Relations committee sits in cozy quarters under Senator Green. The assignment in this instance is difficult, not through complexity but through vagueness and abstraction. Chairman Green's duty is to survey American foreign policy and to find out what's wrong with it. The region lately under study, the Middle East, is one in which religion, race, imperialism, nationalism and, now, communism have made a witches' brew of alarming nature.

Again, the lawmakers are in a fix. The British and French won't like it if the U. S. Senate comes out for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The Arabs will be furious if the Senate reaffirms the American position on Israel, and, to show any favoritism for Pan-Arabia would open the vials of Zion's wrath.

As it happens, Foreign Relations is far from being the brainiest committee in the Senate. Several of its members are up in years. One of them, not the chairman, can't read without moving h[illegible] and murmuring the words —a disconcerting mannerism, injurious to the committee's dignity, embarrassing to witnesses. The difficulties are so imposing and the talent so spotty, that this committee has every excuse to be stymied.

The solution seems to be—to take the plunge. A recent witness, Professor Harold B. Minor, read the committee a lecture out of Washington's Farewell Address—friendship for all, alliances with none. This would mean that we stop trying to be so clever in playing with balances of power, and that we simply stride forward in a spirit of goodwill.

Another American maxim, attributed first to Davy Crockett, might be the cover-all: "Be sure you're right. Then go ahead."

Things Should Be Better After 35

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant picks the age of 35 as the break-even point in life.

After that, he says, things should get better—if they are ever going to.

"Until 35 a man is often a self-centered idiot," the handsome screen actor remarked, "but then he should begin to make more sense.

"I know I was impossible before 35. I'm hardly possible now. I may be more of a bore, but I feel I'm less of a boor. I'm a little less self-concerned.

"Sufficient kicks in the rear over the years do make a difference, and you can learn from experience.

"If a man picks up a little knowledge, if he improves his tolerance, if he reduces his own impatience and irritability, if he can spare a listening ear to the other fellow—well, he can't help but find himself easier to live with."

Grant just returned this week from England where he costarred with Ingrid Bergman in "Indiscreet," a romantic comedy.

Grant, born Archibald Alexander Leach, ran away from home at 13 to become a stilt walker with an acrobatic troupe. He served time as a carnival barker before he graduated to Broadway and Hollywood stardom.

One who has enjoyed the sunlight of international popularity for so long might be tempted to pick up the chips and call it quits while he was still ahead. But Grant still wants to go on making pictures, he said, "until I'm dead—or longer.

"I did quit once for 18 months. I can't say I was bored. I never have been. But I just wasn't as interested in life.

"I learned that you appreciate work most while you're at leisure, and leisure while you're at work. It's like being married or single. You can't be both at the same time."

What makes for success or failure in living? Many people think luck is the decisive factor. Grant emphatically doesn't.

"Everybody puts himself exactly where he finds himself in this world," he said.

"Everyone has constant choices to make all day long. We put ourselves where we are by the choices we make.

"I know I'm sticking my neck out in saying this, and the ill-fortuned won't agree with me.

"But I do believe people can do practically anything they set out to do—if they apply themselves diligently, and learn. Few people recognize opportunity because it comes disguised as hard work and application.

"Too often people are afraid of disappointment. But how can you learn without disappointment—or without making the mistakes that lead to disappointment? How else can you grow?"

DR. CRANE SAYS

Physician's Wife Desires His Ruin

Madeline was so spiteful she would gladly have murdered her husband, and I am not joking! She hated the very sight of him, and planned a divorce just to ruin him in his medical practice. But I showed her a better way to hurt him. Then she got caught in her own trap. Her murderous strategy backfired.

Case Y-312: Madeline M., aged 41, is an attractive wife but irate.

"I hate my husband," she started angrily. "He and I have nothing in common. In fact, we are just strangers who happen to live under the same roof.

"We haven't had dinner together in nearly a year. He never even gives me a greeting card on my birthday.

"So I have decided to divorce him. He is a prominent doctor, so wouldn't that help ruin him in his practice?"

Hateful Wife

And Madeline really meant what she said, for I found that she hated him so intensely she would gladly have murdered him if she could have avoided the death penalty for such an act.

She was vindictive to the point of wanting to ruin him in his medical practice.

So I warned her a divorce might be just what he wanted! If he despised her as much as she disliked him, then she might be playing right into his hands by her divorce action.

"He might consider it good riddance to bad rubbish, as the old saying goes," I added. "But if you REALLY want to ruin him, I can tell you a surefire method."

Madeline eagerly asked for more particulars.

"Well, if he were crazy about you to the point where he couldn't live without you," I continued, "then a divorce would really cut him to the quick.

"It would crush his spirit and probably ruin him for sure. So you should first wrap him around your little finger till he thinks you are the most wonderful person in the world. Then, if he loses you, it will really break his heart."

Madeline's eyes gleamed vengefully as she anticipated this outcome.

"You are right, Dr. Crane," she gloated. "But how can I wrap him around my little finger since we hardly speak to one another now?"

That's when I suggested she pay him a compliment every day.

"But I hate him!" she said angrily, with flashing eyes. "I'd resent saying anything nice to him."

"Well, that's the only surefire method by which you can wrap him around your little finger. So you better pick out his virtues and start praising him thereon, or you will never be able to break his spirit later."

She mulled over the idea and finally decided she would follow my plan.

"It will almost kill me to pay him a compliment," she admitted, "but if that will help me to ruin him later, it will be worth all the cost!"

Next week she called me and told me he had just grunted when she praised his new tie. But I urged her to keep on.

A month passed and she reported that he surprised her one evening by coming home to dinner. A few nights later he even suggested they dine out, which they hadn't done in over a year.

Later he took her to a show. And finally remembered her birthday with flowers, as well as a box of chocolates!

Three months passed before Madeline returned to my office. She looked excited and successful.

"I have done just what you advised," she said, "and now I think he is really wrapped around my little finger. For he told me last night I was the most wonderful woman he ever had known and that he couldn't live without me."

"Then you can probably ruin him now by your divorce suit," I added.

"But, Dr. Crane, I don't want a divorce," she protested. "I love him. We are crazy about each other. We never were as happy as now, so I don't want any old divorce!"

This is a true case and shows what magical results the "Compliment Club" project produces.

So you church folks should use it more widely as projects for your Women's Society or Young People, etc.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Flickering Light Produces Spells

A 7-year-old girl was referred to Dr. James H. Hutchinson, a Glasgow physician, for an odd habit. The child would face the sun and wave her left hand with the fingers spread wide apart in front of her eyes, blinking her eyelids at the same time. As a result she became dizzy, stumbled, and lost consciousness for a few seconds.

Examination revealed no abnormality except that the electroencephalogram showed a disturbance in the brain wave pattern. The test was repeated with a special blinking light flashing 15-16 times a second, held in front of her eyes. Additional brain wave changes occurred, resembling those of epilepsy.

This girl had discovered by chance a phenomenon used by the ancient Greeks when selling slaves in the market. A potter's wheel was rotated in front of their eyes. This produced dizziness and occasionally a convulsion in persons with an epileptic constitution.

Another case of photogenic epilepsy was reported in the same article in the Lancet. An 11-year-old girl was sent to the Glasgow hospital because she had an epileptic seizure in her garden. The parents told a story similar to the first: "She waves her right hand rapidly to and fro before her eyes, turning her face to the sun at the same time."

The only effect initially was that she went into a trance. She repeated the act again and again on bright days. In time she began to fall down, and when reprimanded, claimed, "I can't help doing it."

Typical brain waves were noted after flashing the flickering light in the child's eyes. Treatment, including the use of rose-tinted lenses and the anticonvulsants, was unrewarding. But the physicians are not giving up; they hope to help these children through psychotherapy.

EUROPEAN STYLE

Mrs. W. writes: I'm going to Europe this summer. Are there any foods I should view with suspicion when staying in out of the way places?

Reply

There is no need to fear food poisoning in the larger hotels but in areas where sanitation and refrigeration are inadequate, more care is required. Don't eat cold meat or fish in sandwiches or otherwise. Watch out for salads, milk, and puddings and pastries containing custard. Avoid raw sausages, and if human excrement is used as a fertilizer, don't eat vegetables from this soil. Some travelers get into trouble with the water supply; it might be better to stick to bottled water or other fluids.

WORRIES ABOUT PARTNER

S. J. writes: We hear much about business men who suffer from heart attacks in the office. If my business partner had an attack how would I know it and what should I do?

Reply

Your associate may complain of pain in the chest or slump in his chair in a state of shock, with ashen skin and an anxious expression. Call a physician or the fire department's inhalator squad. Your partner may need this same information.

GIRL ESCAPES

Mrs. H. J. writes: My 13 year old daughter has never caught measles, chicken pox, or other childhood diseases, even though she has been exposed. Isn't she unusual?

Reply

Yes, especially if she escaped measles, which is highly contagious. Children who appear to have a natural immunity to communicable diseases often contract them later in life, when they least expect them.

Today's Health Hint—

Replenish your medicine chest as needed, instead of waiting for an emergency.

3. To provide for a better method of conducting hearings.

School superintendents and school boards believe that something like two per cent of the school teachers might be classed as "lemons" or undesirable as teachers. This is an extremely small percentage, it is true, and is probably much lower than would be found in most other lines of endeavor. However, this small group in such a vital field as teaching could cause tremendous harm. As it now stands, it is almost impossible to discharge any teacher, regardless of the cause.

School administrators point out that the proposal authorizing the discharging or reassigning each year of a small percentage of teachers for certain things would allow them to get rid of the undesirables. They say this would constitute no threat to honest, conscientious, capable teachers.

Under present law the most effective cause for discharge is insubordination, with gross inefficiency and a few other things as alternate causes. Most are hard to prove, although they occur, particularly in view of the fact that the teacher who is wholly under the tenure protection must have passed through a three-year probationary period.

In fact, school administrators point out it is almost an impossible task to fire a teacher after the three-year period, regardless of what that teacher does.

Certainly, no one wants to see the teachers return to the old status they once held. In those days they were the pawns of every politician that came along and also of other pressure groups. Obviously, this does not make for a good school situation either.

But laws protecting the teachers from this sort of situation can be approved with ease.

The fact that the teachers have entered politics on a major basis themselves, through the LTA, has caused many people to sit up and consider just how bad the present tenure law is. They are allowing themselves to be used for a vicious political purpose and have become the pawns of Governor Earl Long and those others who are pushing for new tax increases. By so doing, the teachers have left themselves wide open.

It obviously is not a healthy situation when an employer cannot operate his own business; when he cannot fire the incompetent and those who bring disgrace to his business. That is true today under many union contracts, and it is true in regard to teachers under the present tenure law.

When any situation reaches this point, it is time for some changes.

Caddo Vs. Jefferson

Contending that Jefferson county, Texas, is far more French than is Caddo parish, Louisiana, a member of the Louisiana legislature has offered a proposal that Louisiana trade Caddo parish for Jefferson county. Although reportedly introduced as a "gag," the resolution may represent the true sentiments of its author, Rep. Willard Rambo of Grant parish.

Rep. Rambo stated that Jefferson County has a lot more LeBlancs, Melancons and others (probably meaning Rambos) than many southern Louisiana parishes. He apparently wants to trade off Caddo's Anglo-Saxons for Jefferson's Latins.

Also, according to Mr. Rambo, Caddo parish coffee is weak, like Texas coffee, instead of being strong, dark and handsome like south Louisiana coffee.

Rep. Welborn Jack of Caddo parish couldn't see the joke and was angry at first and finally wondered how Louisiana would get along without taxes paid by Shreveport and Caddo parish.

It may be said for Mr. Rambo that he did not intend to cheat Louisiana as far as numbers were concerned. The last federal census, which was made nearly 10 years ago and may not be very accurate, since Shreveport has been growing at a tremendous rate, showed that Caddo parish had a population of something more than 176,000, while Jefferson county had about 195,000. If the population figures are still proportionate, that would give Louisiana an increase of about 20,000.

Texas is a big state and some of its people are said to think big and act big but it is unlikely that that state would be big-hearted enough to consider giving a 20,000-person bonus in a territorial and population exchange.

There is at least one phase of Mr. Rambo's proposal that would draw the opposition of all north Louisiana residents. He wants to trade off an attractive, wealthy, well-populated part of north Louisiana in order to add to the territorial holdings of the south Louisiana lowlanders.

Aside from Monroe, Shreveport is one of the best towns in north Louisiana. We are not willing to give away a part of our territory.

The whole thing sounds as if Mr. Rambo wants to trade off a Cadillac owned by Mr. Smith for a Chrysler owned by Mr. Jones. He wants to trade off something he (or his part of the state) doesn't own to acquire something he (or his part of the state) would own.

Even a first-class French horsetrader would not do a thing like that—or would he?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Plant Modernization Held Down By High U.S. Taxes

Those who are surprised at Soviet Russia's advance in heavy industry overlook the fact that they have an entirely new plant. They can take advantage of every improvement made anywhere in the world. Our plant in the heavy industries, particularly in steel, is comparatively old, which could mean about 20 years old. This is not a problem of managerial competence; it is one of taxation and the unwillingness of the government to recognize that a plant erected in 1939 can only be replaced in 1958 at about two and a half times its original cost or more.

No matter how high the earnings of an industry may be, it can be short of money for replacements and modernization, unless the tax laws and the methods of collecting taxes recognize that the purpose of a depreciation reserve is to modernize plant and equipment so that the operation is always efficient and competitive.

Father William T. Hogan, professor of economics at Fordham University, who has made a special study of this subject, makes the point that while the purchasing power of the dollar in 1956 was just half of its 1939 value (it has fallen lower since), the construction dollar has fallen to less than 40 per cent of its 1939 value. ". . . Thus, it takes two and one-half dollars today to build what one dollar would build in 1939 and 1940. This presents a serious problem in the replacement of worn-out facilities, for generally speaking, the equipment installed in 1939 at the cost of 1 million dollars could not be replaced today for less than 2½ million dollars, yet the depreciation funds set aside for this replacement amount only to the original cost, or 1 million dollars. Thus an additional million and a half is necessary if equipment is to be replaced and operations maintained."

This is not only impractical from the standpoint of the individual companies; it is impractical from the standpoint of national interest. It is responsible for outpricing many American commodities even in home markets. While there are some who believe that the day is not distant when steel will be replaced by lighter metals, that day is not yet, and what applies to steel, in this matter, applies universally to everything. It applies to all plants and equipment that have to be written off in a period of 20 or 30 years.

This situation was somewhat modified by the Second Revenue Act of 1940 which permitted a five-year write-off for war plants. Many of these plants were for special purposes anyhow and had to be reconverted as soon as the war was over. As regards equipment, some machine tools are useful only for particular tasks. Under our tax laws, it grows increasingly difficult to maintain a modern, efficient plant, capable of competitive performance with the newest and best plants in the world.

Father Hogan stated the case of the steel industry clearly and succinctly in a statement before the House Ways and Means Committee on January 15, 1958:

"Much of the equipment in the steel industry is large, expensive and long-lived; consequently, the industry has been particularly hard hit by the post war inflation and the lack of adequate depreciation funds for the replacement of plant. The average life of steel mill equipment is 20 to 25 years. Thus, at the present time, the industry finds it necessary to replace assets acquired in the middle and early 1930s. The original investment in this equipment, and consequently, the depreciation accrual amounts to less than one-half their present replacement cost. The problem is further aggravated by the sheer size of investment required to produce iron and steel. At present the industry has 13 billion dollars worth of fixed assets in operation, and a substantial portion of these must be replaced every year."

Difficult Legislation Compared To Centipede

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The saying is that if a centipede stopped to think about putting one foot ahead of the other, he would fall on his face. That's how it is with writing difficult legislation. It is better for the lawmakers to — well let 'er rip. If they get to dwelling upon the difficulty and intricacy of legislation, they could get nowhere.

Two examples of this thesis are presently on display in the Capitol, where subdivisions of the Senate Labor and Foreign Relations committees are meeting.

Senator Jack Kennedy, chairman of the law-writing subcommittee of Labor, has probably the toughest assignment in town. No subject is as politically sizzling as this one. At the latest check he had 40 bills by eight different Senators, but the number could easily be doubled by now. Kennedy's party is pledged to bring a committee bill to the Senate floor by June 10th. Nearly every political forecaster in town will be discredited if this happens. In the teeth of these adversities, the young chairman plugs doggedly ahead on what could be the make-or-break test of his presidential chances. If he stops to contemplate which foot to put first, he would be lost.

Another Democrat on the committee, Senator Wayne Morse, is working at cross-purposes with Kennedy, although the allegation would be denied. As a member and spokesman of the Demo-Laborites, Morse would like to prevent any Labor bill from reaching the floor in the current atmosphere created by the McClellan hearings on Labor-Management rackets. Morse is trying to talk the Kennedy inquiry to death. It is something the wag-jaw Oregonian, a tireless elocutionist and a former Law School Dean, is well equipped by nature to do. But since he is handicapped by a 10-minute rule in committee, Morse has been citing the centipede law. Daily he stresses the extreme complexity of writing legislation to cover 18 million workers in 62,000 union locals and all the interlocking relationship with industry. He is trying to give the committee a case of tanglefoot that will bring it to a halt.

As it happens, the three Republicans who most want a Labor law — Senators Knowland, Mundt and Goldwater — are all non-lawyers. They could understandably quail before the legalistic land-mines with which Morse has strewn the terrain; but so far they haven't done so. The Republicans are sustained either by the courage of ignorance, or by a dash of the Admiral Farragut spirit: "Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!" Senator Goldwater tells me:

"They say it's difficult. I don't believe it's any harder than writing a reclamation act! All we need do is make up our minds what we want — and then do it. We want liberation of the union members from the union bosses. So, let's write it just that way."

On the floor below the Old Supreme Court chamber where the Kennedy group meets, the Foreign Relations committee sits in cozy quarters under Senator Green. The assignment in this instance is difficult, not through complexity but through vagueness and abstraction. Chairman Green's duty is to survey American foreign policy and to find out what's wrong with it. The region lately under study, the Middle East, is one in which religion, race, imperialism, nationalism and, now, communism have made a witches' brew of alarming nature.

Again, the lawmakers are in a fix. The British and French won't like it if the U. S. Senate comes out for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The Arabs will be furious if the Senate reaffirms the American position on Israel, and, to show any favoritism for Pan-Arabia would open the vials of Zion's wrath.

As it happens, Foreign Relations is far from being the brainiest committee in the Senate. Several of its members are up in years. One of them, not the chairman, can't read without moving his lips and murmuring the words —a disconcerting mannerism, injurious to the committee's dignity, embarrassing to witnesses. The difficulties are so imposing and the talent so spotty, that this committee has every excuse to be stymied.

The solution seems to be—to take the plunge. A recent witness, Professor Harold B. Minor, read the committee a lecture out of Washington's Farewell Address —friendship for all, alliances with none. This would mean that we stop trying to be so clever in playing with balances of power, and that we simply stride forward in a spirit of goodwill.

Another American maxim, attributed first to Davy Crockett, might be the cover-all: "Be sure you're right. Then go ahead."

Things Should Be Better After 35

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant picks the age of 35 as the break-even point in life.

After that, he says, things should get better—if they are ever going to.

"Until 35 a man is often a self-centered idiot," the handsome screen actor remarked, "but then he should begin to make more sense.

"I know I was impossible before 35. I'm hardly possible now. I may be more of a bore, but I feel I'm less of a boor. I'm a little less self-concerned.

"Sufficient kicks in the rear over the years do make a difference, and you can learn from experience.

"If a man picks up a little knowledge, if he improves his tolerance, if he reduces his own impatience and irritability, if he can spare a listening ear to the other fellow—well, he can't help but find himself easier to live with."

Grant just returned this week from England where he costarred with Ingrid Bergman in "Indiscreet," a romantic comedy.

Grant, born Archibald Alexander Leach, ran away from home at 13 to become a stilt walker with an acrobatic troupe. He served time as a carnival barker before he graduated to Broadway and Hollywood stardom.

One who has enjoyed the sunlight of international popularity for so long might be tempted to pick up the chips and call it quits while he was still ahead. But Grant still wants to go on making pictures, he said, "until I'm dead—or longer.

"I did quit once for 18 months. I can't say I was bored. I never have been. But I just wasn't as interested in life.

"I learned that you appreciate work most while you're at leisure, and leisure while you're at work. It's like being married or single. You can't be both at the same time."

What makes for success or failure in living? Many people think luck is the decisive factor. Grant emphatically doesn't.

"Everybody puts himself exactly where he finds himself in this world," he said.

"Everyone has constant choices to make all day long. We put ourselves where we are by the choices we make.

"I know I'm sticking my neck out in saying this, and the ill-fortuned won't agree with me.

"But I do believe people can do practically anything they set out to do—if they apply themselves diligently, and learn. Few people recognize opportunity because it comes disguised as hard work and application.

"Too often people are afraid of disappointment. But how can you learn without disappointment—or without making the mistakes that lead to disappointment? How else can you grow?"

DR. CRANE SAYS

Physician's Wife Desires His Ruin

Madeline was so spiteful she would gladly have murdered her husband, and I am not joking! She hated the very sight of him, and planned a divorce just to ruin him in his medical practice. But I showed her a better way to hurt him. Then she got caught in her own trap. Her murderous strategy backfired.

Case Y-312: Madeline M., aged 41, is an attractive wife but irate.

"I hate my husband," she started angrily. "He and I have nothing in common. In fact, we are just strangers who happen to live under the same roof.

"We haven't had dinner together in nearly a year. He never even gives me a greeting card on my birthday.

"So I have decided to divorce him. He is a prominent doctor, so wouldn't that help ruin him in his practice?"

Hateful Wife

And Madeline really meant what she said, for I found that she hated him so intensely she would gladly have murdered him if she could have avoided the death penalty for such an act.

She was vindictive to the point of wanting to ruin him in his medical practice.

So I warned her a divorce might be just what he wanted! If he despised her as much as she disliked him, then she might be playing right into his hands by her divorce action.

"He might consider it good riddance to bad rubbish, as the old saying goes," I added. "But if you REALLY want to ruin him, I can tell you a surefire method."

Madeline eagerly asked for more particulars.

"Well, if he were crazy about you to the point where he couldn't live without you," I continued, "then a divorce would really cut him to the quick.

"It would crush his spirit and probably ruin him for sure. So you should first wrap him around your little finger till he thinks you are the most wonderful person in the world. Then, if he loses you, it will really break his heart."

Madeline's eyes gleamed vengefully as she anticipated this outcome.

"You are right, Dr. Crane," she gloated. "But how can I wrap him around my little finger since we hardly speak to one another now?"

That's when I suggested she pay him a compliment every day.

"But I hate him!" she said angrily, with flashing eyes. "I'd resent saying anything nice to him."

"Well, that's the only surefire method by which you can wrap him around your little finger. So you better pick out his virtues and start praising him thereon, or you will never be able to break his spirit later."

She mulled over the idea and finally decided she would follow my plan.

"It will almost kill me to pay him a compliment," she admitted, "but if that will help me to ruin him later, it will be worth all the cost!"

Next week she called me and told me he had just grunted when she praised his new tie. But I urged her to keep on.

A month passed and she reported that he surprised her one evening by coming home to dinner. A few nights later he even suggested they dine out, which they hadn't done in over a year.

Later he took her to a show. And finally remembered her birthday with flowers, as well as a box of chocolates!

Three months passed before Madeline returned to my office. She looked excited and successful.

"I have done just what you advised," she said, "and now I think he is really wrapped around my little finger. For he told me last night I was the most wonderful woman he ever had known and that he couldn't live without me."

"Then you can probably ruin him now by your divorce suit," I added.

"But, Dr. Crane, I don't want a divorce," she protested. "I love him. We are crazy about each other. We never were as happy as now, so I don't want any old divorce!"

This is a true case and shows what magical results the "Compliment Club" project produces.

So you church folks should use it more widely as projects for your Women's Society or Young People, etc.

Flickering Light Produces Spells

A 7-year-old girl was referred to Dr. James H. Hutchinson, a Glasgow physician, for an odd habit. The child would face the sun and wave her left hand with the fingers spread wide apart in front of her eyes, blinking her eyelids at the same time. As a result she became dizzy, stumbled, and lost consciousness for a few seconds.

Examination revealed no abnormality except that the electroencephalogram showed a disturbance in the brain wave pattern. The test was repeated with a special blinking light flashing 15-16 times a second, held in front of her eyes. Additional brain wave changes occurred, resembling those of epilepsy.

This girl had discovered by chance a phenomenon used by the ancient Greeks when selling slaves in the market. A potter's wheel was rotated in front of their eyes. This produced dizziness and occasionally a convulsion in persons with an epileptic constitution.

Another case of photogenic epilepsy was reported in the same article in the Lancet. An 11-year-old girl was sent to the Glasgow hospital because she had an epileptic seizure in her garden. The parents told a story similar to the first: "She waves her right hand rapidly to and fro before her eyes, turning her face to the sun at the same time."

The only effect initially was that she went into a trance. She repeated the act again and again on bright days. In time she began to fall down, and when reprimanded, claimed, "I can't help doing it."

Typical brain waves were noted after flashing the flickering light in the child's eyes. Treatment, including the use of rose-tinted lenses and the anticonvulsants, was unrewarding. But the physicians are not giving up; they hope to help these children through psychotherapy.

EUROPEAN STYLE

Mrs. W. writes: I'm going to Europe this summer. Are there any foods I should view with suspicion when staying in out of the way places?

Reply

There is no need to fear food poisoning in the larger hotels but in areas where sanitation and refrigeration are inadequate, more care is required. Don't eat cold meat or fish in sandwiches or otherwise. Watch out for salads, milk, and puddings and pastries containing custard. Avoid raw sausages, and if human excrement is used as a fertilizer, don't eat vegetables from this soil. Some travelers get into trouble with the water supply; it might be better to stick to bottled water or other fluids.

WORRIES ABOUT PARTNER

S. J. writes: We hear much about business men who suffer from heart attacks in the office. If my business partner had an attack how would I know it and what should I do?

Reply

Your associate may complain of pain in the chest or slump in his chair in a state of shock, with ashen skin and an anxious expression. Call a physician or the fire department's inhalator squad. Your partner may need this same information.

GIRL ESCAPES

Mrs. H. J. writes: My 13 year old daughter has never caught measles, chicken pox, or other childhood diseases, even though she has been exposed. Isn't she unusual?

Reply

Yes, especially if she escaped measles, which is highly contagious. Children who appear to have a natural immunity to communicable diseases often contract them later in life, when they least expect them.

DEFENSE

House Committee Okays Ike Plan

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee Friday approved a defense reorganization bill giving President Eisenhower most of the military command streamlining he asked, but less than he wanted in administrative control.

Eisenhower served notice that he will try to have the bill reshaped on the House floor to conform more closely with the recommendations he sent Congress two months ago. He did this in a letter commending the committee's product "by and large."

With relatively minor exceptions, the committee bill would make the changes in the structure of the military establishment which Eisenhower and administration witnesses said were necessary to tighten up and simplify command over the kind of forces that will fight any future wars.

The objective, they said, was an uncluttered line of command from the President and secretary of defense to officers in the field—who will give orders to fighting teams that usually will be made up of units of more than one service.

The committee went along in voting for an enlarged optional joint staff and to reduce the command functions of heads of the separate armed services.

The committee approved also Eisenhower's plan to put a powerful director in charge of all military research and engineering, a position from which he could presumably nip interservice squabbles as to who would get promising new weapons.

But the committee—Republicans voting along with Democrats to approve its legislation unanimously—balked at Eisenhower proposals that had been attacked as possible future threats to Congress' control over the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps or to the continued existence and autonomy of each of these services.

Thus the committee wrote into its bill a procedure under which the head of any service who objected to the secretary of defense's abolishing, transferring or consolidating one of its major combatant functions could take his case direct to Congress. Congress could block it by majority vote, without possibility of a presidential veto.

At present the functions are spelled out in the law, and only Congress can change the law. As Eisenhower proposed the reorganization, the secretary of defense could change functions, subject only to notification of congress. Congress could intervene only by passing a law—and the President could impose on such a law a veto requiring two-thirds vote in each house of Congress to override.

Weather Bureau Releases 30-Day U.S. Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The weather bureau issued Friday this prediction for the coming 30 days:

"The weather bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-May to mid-June calls for temperatures to average slightly below seasonal normals east of the Appalachians and in the extreme southeast. Above normal temperatures are predicted over the northern half of the area lying between the Great Lakes and the Rockies as well as along the West Coast. In unspecified areas near normal averages are in prospect.

"Precipitation is expected to be subnormal over the Pacific Northwest and particularly over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley where rainfall has been generally deficient for almost two months. Above normal rainfall is anticipated over the central and southern plateau states and in the southern plains. Near normal amounts are indicated for areas not specified."

Second Annual Wool Sale Set

DELHI (Special) — Richland Parish sheep growers will have their second annual wool sale at Delhi May 29-30, with between 35 and 40 thousand pounds expected to be handled.

Last year 25,000 pounds of wool changed hands at the sale.

The group has invited all northeast Louisiana producers to sell with them, and to date 6,000 head of sheep have been pledged.

The association requests that wet wool not be brought, as it cannot be sold. Each seller will be expected to place his wool on the table for proper grading.

Each shipper will be notified at a later date of the day they will be expected to deliver the wool to Delhi.

WAITS FOR HEARING

SALLISAW, Okla. (UP) — Sequoyah county attorney Fred Campbell Jr., said Thursday he would make no further moves in his investigation of the shotgun slaying of a Dallas ex-convict until a date is set for preliminary hearing of two men charged with murder.

Super Road Beginning Is Observed

spot where the two contractors start work. One will work toward Ruston and the other toward Calhoun.

Work has started on two links on I-20.

The new route, when completed, will be generally parallel and adjacent to the present U. S. 80, linking Wascom, Texas with Vicksburg, Miss., via Shreveport, Ruston and Monroe.

Controlled Access

The controlled access superway will be part of the 41,000-mile network making up the federal interstate system.

The first leg in Louisiana, at this point, runs 4.2 miles. It is the Ruston - Choudrant sector, with Reynolds and Williams of Shreveport handling the $1,870,297.90 project.

The second sector, to be constructed by W. R. Fairchild, Mississippi, contractor, will be headed toward Calhoun. It will cost $1,948,854.43. It will be a distance of 3.608 miles.

The plans call for grading, drainage structures, iron ore base course, concrete paving, two divided 24-foot traffic lanes and four interchange structures with a 64-foot depressed median strip between the opposing traffic lanes.

Preston Eggers, Baton Rouge, managing director of the Louisiana highway and heavy construction branch, Associated General Contractors of America, was master of ceremonies.

Richardson, who was born near Downsville, near the site of yesterday's affair, and who worked on roads in Lincoln Parish as youth, was principal speaker.

Richardson's View

In speaking of the necessity of moving some homes and businesses to get rights-of-way for the I-20, Richardson commented, "for the good of many, we must, by necessity hurt some."

The highway, will be laid through downtown Monroe - West Monroe instead of a bypass, will serve more motorists, he said.

The federal interstate highway is financed 90 per cent by the government, the highway director said, and the highway, when built, will relieve the state highway department of expenditures to where it can carry on a program in the rural sections of state; to using money to getting people out of dust.

Other speakers were James Sparks, Ouachita Parish senator, Eddie Evans, secretary - treasurer and engineer of the Lincoln Parish Police Jury and also secretary of the Louisiana Police Jury Association; and Earl Patterson, Jr., president of the Louisiana Associated General Contractors, Baton Rouge.

Huckaby and Fred Hill, fifth district member of the State Highway Board, were hosts.

DEATHS

WILLIE L. ROGERS

COLUMBIA (Special) - Willie L. Rogers, 75, died yesterday morning in a local hospital.

Funeral services will be held today at 3 p.m. in the Old Union Baptist Church. The Reverends T. T. Edwards and Dayton Doughty will officiate. Interment will follow in the church cemetery under the direction of Riser and Son Funeral Home of Columbia.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. C. L. Railey, Grayson; Mrs. C. N. May, Columbia; Mrs. W. W. Rice, Serepta and Mrs. J. T. Chambers of Shreveport; four sons, A. A. Rogers, Otis Rogers, both of West Monroe, J. T. Rogers, Willits, Calif. and E. B. Rogers of Grayson; one brother, A. R. Rogers, Panama City, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. M. F. Chatman of Houston, Texas and 21 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Improved Latin Policy Asked By La. Congressman

WASHINGTON (Special) —Two powerful members of the Louisiana congressional delegation Friday called on the Eisenhower administration to take immediate steps to restore this country to its former "good neighbor" status with Latin-America.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, high-ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, declared, "we in Louisiana have a special state in Latin-American friendship and stability. Through our gulf ports flow manufactured products from the great heartland of the union — products carried to each and every American republic."

"In return," he added, "we draw heavily upon the natural resources of the countries to the south of us."

Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans, chairman of the House Ways and Means Subcommittee on foreign trade policy, warned once again that the Soviets are exploiting the economic distress in most areas of Latin-America.

Boggs has been one of the first members and perhaps the most persistent member to speak of the danger.

Ellender, one of the sharpest critics in the senate when it comes to foreign aid expenditures, said, "we must now hasten to repair the damage done through years of diplomatic neglect. In this area, free enterprise can and must play an important part. American technical know-how, drawn principally from the United States, must join with Latin-American governments in developing and turning to beneficial uses the vast raw materials which are found there."

Students Ask Race-Mix Move

AUSTIN (UP)—A student committee Friday recommended complete and rapid racial integration at the University of Texas, including freedom for Negroes to take part in the school's athletics.

The recommendations were made by the 75th year student committee on integration.

At present, 173 Negroes are enrolled in the University.

Barge Worker Drowns In La.

SULPHUR, La. (AP)—Semar Joseph Suire, 29-year-old Crowley barge worker, drowned Thursday night while attempting to tie two barges together in Calcasieu Lake near Hackbery.

The U. S. Crop Reporting Board estimates there will be a six per cent increase in the number of sows farrowed in 10 of the Corn Belt states.

DEFENSE

House Committee Okays Ike Plan

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee Friday approved a defense reorganization bill giving President Eisenhower most of the military command streamlining he asked, but less than he wanted in administrative control.

Eisenhower served notice that he will try to have the bill reshaped on the House floor to conform more closely with the recommendations he sent Congress two months ago. He did this in a letter commending the committee's product "by and large."

With relatively minor exceptions, the committee bill would make the changes in the structure of the military establishment which Eisenhower and administration witnesses said were necessary to tighten up and simplify command over the kind of forces that will fight any future wars.

The objective, they said, was an uncluttered line of command from the President and secretary of defense to officers in the field—who will give orders to fighting teams that usually will be made up of units of more than one service.

The committee went along in voting for an enlarged optional joint staff and to reduce the command functions of heads of the separate armed services.

The committee approved also Eisenhower's plan to put a powerful director in charge of all military research and engineering, a position from which he could presumably nip interservice squabbles as to who would get promising new weapons.

But the committee—Republicans voting along with Democrats to approve its legislation unanimously—balked at Eisenhower proposals that had been attacked as possible future threats to Congress' control over the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps or to the continued existence and autonomy of each of these services.

Thus the committee wrote into its bill a procedure under which the head of any service who objected to the secretary of defense's abolishing, transferring or consolidating one of its major combatant functions could take his case direct to Congress. Congress could block it by majority vote, without possibility of a presidential veto.

At present the functions are spelled out in the law, and only Congress can change the law. As Eisenhower proposed the reorganization, the secretary of defense could change functions, subject only to notification of congress. Congress could intervene only by passing a law—and the President could impose on such a law a veto requiring two-thirds vote in each house of Congress to override.

Weather Bureau Releases 30-Day U.S. Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The weather bureau issued Friday this prediction for the coming 30 days:

"The weather bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-May to mid-June calls for temperatures to average slightly below seasonal normals east of the Appalachians and in the extreme southeast. Above normal temperatures are predicted over the northern half of the area lying between the Great Lakes and the Rockies as well as along the West Coast. In unspecified areas near normal averages are in prospect.

"Precipitation is expected to be subnormal over the Pacific Northwest and particularly over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley where rainfall has been generally deficient for almost two months. Above normal rainfall is anticipated over the central and southern plateau states and in the southern plains. Near normal amounts are indicated for areas not specified."

Second Annual Wool Sale Set

DELHI (Special) — Richland Parish sheep growers will have their second annual wool sale at Delhi May 29-30, with between 35 and 40 thousand pounds expected to be handled.

Last year 25,000 pounds of wool changed hands at the sale.

The group has invited all northeast Louisiana producers to sell with them, and to date 6,000 head of sheep have been pledged.

The association requests that wet wool not be brought, as it cannot be sold. Each seller will be expected to place his wool on the table for proper grading.

Each shipper will be notified at a later date of the day they will be expected to deliver the wool to Delhi.

WAITS FOR HEARING

SALLISAW, Okla. (UP) — Sequoyah county attorney Fred Campbell Jr., said Thursday he would make no further moves in his investigation of the shotgun slaying of a Dallas ex-convict until a date is set for preliminary hearing of two men charged with murder.

Super Road Beginning Is Observed

spot where the two contractors start work. One will work toward Ruston and the other toward Calhoun.

Work has started on two links on I-20.

The new route, when completed, will be generally parallel and adjacent to the present U. S. 80, linking Wascom, Texas with Vicksburg, Miss., via Shreveport, Ruston and Monroe.

Controlled Access

The controlled access superway will be part of the 41,000-mile network making up the federal interstate system.

The first leg in Louisiana, at this point, runs 4.2 miles. It is the Ruston - Choudrant sector, with Reynolds and Williams of Shreveport handling the $1,870,297.90 project.

The second sector, to be constructed by W. R. Fairchild, Mississippi, contractor, will be headed toward Calhoun. It will cost $1,948,854.43. It will be a distance of 3.608 miles.

The plans call for grading, drainage structures, iron ore base course, concrete paving, two divided 24-foot traffic lanes and four interchange structures with a 64-foot depressed median strip between the opposing traffic lanes.

Preston Eggers, Baton Rouge, managing director of the Louisiana highway and heavy construction branch, Associated General Contractors of America, was master of ceremonies.

Richardson, who was born near Downsville, near the site of yesterday's affair, and who worked on roads in Lincoln Parish as youth, was principal speaker.

Richardson's View

In speaking of the necessity of moving some homes and businesses to get rights-of-way for the I-20, Richardson commented, "for the good of many, we must, by necessity hurt some."

The highway, will be laid through downtown Monroe - West Monroe instead of a bypass, will serve more motorists, he said.

The federal interstate highway is financed 90 per cent by the government, the highway director said, and the highway, when built, will relieve the state highway department of expenditures to where it can carry on a program in the rural sections of state; to using money to getting people out of dust.

Other speakers were James Sparks, Ouachita Parish senator, Eddie Evans, secretary - treasurer and engineer of the Lincoln Parish Police Jury and also secretary of the Louisiana Police Jury Association; and Earl Patterson, Jr., president of the Louisiana Associated General Contractors, Baton Rouge.

Huckaby and Fred Hill, fifth district member of the State Highway Board, were hosts.

WOMAN KILLED

GRAHAM, Tex. (UP) — Mrs. Kenneth Roders, 23, of Lubbock, was killed Monday and her husband critically injured when their car collided with a truck on SH-199, 19 miles north of Lubbock.

DEATHS

WILLIE L. ROGERS

COLUMBIA (Special) - Willie L. Rogers, 75, died yesterday morning in a local hospital.

Funeral services will be held today at 3 p.m. in the Old Union Baptist Church. The Reverends T. T. Edwards and Dayton Doughty will officiate. Interment will follow in the church cemetery under the direction of Riser and Son Funeral Home of Columbia.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. C. L. Railey, Grayson; Mrs. C. N. May, Columbia; Mrs. W. W. Rice, Serepta and Mrs. J. T. Chambers of Shreveport; four sons, A. A. Rogers, Otis Rogers, both of West Monroe, J. T. Rogers, Willits, Calif. and E. B. Rogers of Grayson; one brother, A. R. Rogers, Panama City, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. M. F. Chatman of Houston, Texas and 21 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Improved Latin Policy Asked By La. Congressman

WASHINGTON (Special) —Two powerful members of the Louisiana congressional delegation Friday called on the Eisenhower administration to take immediate steps to restore this country to its former "good neighbor" status with Latin-America.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, high-ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, declared, "we in Louisiana have a special state in Latin-American friendship and stability. Through our gulf ports flow manufactured products from the great heartland of the union — products carried to each and every American republic."

"In return," he added, "we draw heavily upon the natural resources of the countries to the south of us."

Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans, chairman of the House Ways and Means Subcommittee on foreign trade policy, warned once again that the Soviets are exploiting the economic distress in most areas of Latin-America.

Boggs has been one of the first members and perhaps the most persistent member to speak of the danger.

Ellender, one of the sharpest critics in the senate when it comes to foreign aid expenditures, said, "we must now hasten to repair the damage done through years of diplomatic neglect. In this area, free enterprise can and must play an important part. American technical know-how, drawn principally from the United States, must join with Latin-American governments in developing and turning to beneficial uses the vast raw materials which are found there."

ost Sharing Of Disasters Solon Subject

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Budget Bureau spokesman said Friday the administration may propose next week a formula for local interests to share the costs of hurricane flood control projects.

Robert E. Merriam, assistant bureau director, was before a Senate Public Works subcommittee which is reviewing the President's April 15 veto of the omnibus rivers and harbors construction authorization bill.

In his veto message, the President listed three proposed hurricane projects as among those to which he objected. He said there was need for further review of the cost-sharing question.

Merriam, under questioning by Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI), said no decision has been reached but estimated the proposed formula would call for local interests to pay one-fourth to one-third of the project cost.

He said the bureau also is hopeful of coming up with a general cost-sharing proposal spelling out terms of local participation in all flood control projects where there are identifiable beneficiaries.

Merriam was the first witness as the committee began its review of the vetoed bill with an eye toward an eventual recommendation to the Senate that it either override or sustain the President's rejection.

The President balked at provisions of the bill which he said would authorize work with an eventual cost of some 350 million dollars.

Trial Set For Ex-Convict, 35

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A 35-year-old ex-convict pleaded innocent to charges of indecent behavior with a juvenile and contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile.

Charlie M. Bankston was arranged Thursday in family court. Judge Joe W. Sanders set trial May 22.

Bankston was arrested last month in the company of a 14-year-old boy after a brief chase by deputies.

He was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary in April, 1957, but paroled after serving less than four months. In January, he received a full pardon.

SON WILL PAY

BURLINGTON, Vt. — (UP) — Mayor C. Douglas Cairns said his 16-year-old son, who was fined $26.70 for speeding, will have "to work this summer to pay me back." Charles A. Carins pleaded guilty to speeding three days after he received his driver's license.

FT. WORTH, TEX.

2nd Largest City Title Is Sought

FORT WORTH (UP)—The city council voted Friday to annex 252 square miles in a step that may make this city second in the nation only to Los Angeles in total land area.

At any rate, the expansion, when it becomes final, will give the city a total of 431 square miles. The city earlier began processing annexation of 34 square miles. Its present area is 145 square miles.

The action Friday was in the form of first reading. Two more readings of the proposal will have to be made for the action to become official.

The total area of Los Angeles is 450.9 square miles. New York's total area is 315.1 square miles. Houston's is 352 square miles and Dallas' is 236.30.

There was no immediate estimate of the number of persons involved but the annexed areas are thinly populated.

Cities Bottled Up

The move would extend the Fort Worth boundaries on the south to Johnson county and on the west to Parker county. It bottled up the cities of Saginaw, Lake Worth Village, River Oaks, White Settlement, West Worth, Westover Hills, Ben Brook, Edgecliff and Crowley.

A VALENTINE

FARGO, N. D. — (UP) Mr. and Mrs. Henry Valentine expect to have an easy time remembering their son's birthday. He was born Feb. 14, 1958, Valentine Day.

Travel Council Formed In Miss.; President Named

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Travel Council, a statewide organization to promote the tourist industry, was formed Friday. Sidney T. Roebuck, Newton lawyer and motel owner, was named president.

Council members pledged themselves to "pus", praise and promote Mississippi rather than apologize for it."

Curtis C. Runyan, Jackson, president of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee, was named vice president.

Those taking part in the organizational meeting included S. L. Muths, Gulfport; W. E. Holland, Columbus; Jim Stevens, Gulfport; Bob Wheeler, Yazoo City; Jack Simmons, Gulfport; Ira L. Nichols, Vicksburg, and Mrs. M. L. Hubbard, Grenada.

Roebuck said it was the first time so many organizations interested in promoting travel were represented at one meeting.

Attending for the Agricultural and Industrial Board was Ned O'Brien, head of the agency's tourist and travel department. O'Brien indicated tourist promotion will have a high priority in the A&I's broadened program under increased appropriations by the 1958 Legislature.

Five Bodies Brought Out Of Ga. Swamp

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (UP)—Navy rescue crews brought out the last of five bodies Friday evening from an almost inaccessible swamp near here where a big Marine troop-carrying helicopter crashed Thursday afternoon.

Searchers had to plow through waist-deep water to find the bodies of the pilot and co-pilot. The other three crewmen were found Thursday after the flaming wreckage of the helicopter was spotted in a marshy beach area 10 miles south of Brunswick. The area was reachable by helicopter only.

The last two bodies recovered were those of 1st Lts. Elred L. McCulloch, 23, of Searchy, Ark., and Ronald A. Broadhay, 25, of LaGrange, Ill.

The three crewmen whose bodies had been recovered were identified as S-Sgt. William M. Hoskins Jr., 26, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Sgt. Marshall L. Dutton, 28, Verona, N.C.; and Cpl. Donnie L. Marler, 19, of Franklin, Ohio.

Bishop Defends His Position On Mixed Meetings

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southwest Virginia Friday defended, in an address to the Diocesan General Council, his position for racially mixed meetings at a new church conference center.

"Since the first service of the Episcopal church of Virginia in 1607," said Bishop William Marmion, "it has been open to all people regardless of color or position in life."

He quoted from a report of the committee on christian social relations adopted by the council of the diocese of Virginia in May, 1955, that said: "No problem of a race relations exists within the Protestant Episcopal Church excent where individual members or groups create that problem."

Bishop Marmion made his annual address to more than 400 clergy and laymen at St. John's Episcopal Church as the 39th annual session of the Diocesan General Council opened.

Conviction Of Policeman Is Overturned

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Friday overturned the perjury and false statements conviction of former police Ptn. Joseph P. Conrad of New Orleans.

The appellate court ordered Conrad acquitted. He had been sentenced to 18 months after a U.S. District Court jury convicted him of perjury before the federal grand jury and making false statements to internal revenue agents about police graft collections and payments.

The 3-judge court opinion, written by Judge John R. Brown, said Conrad was not indicted for making specific statements that were later proved to be false.

Instead, the opinion said, Conrad was indicted for having stated "in substance and effect" that he had no personal knowledge of graft payments or never knowingly collected graft.

"That means," it said, "that all of his testimony had fairly to be considered to determine whether in its substance and by its general tenor and effect he had really said what the government charges."

The court said the government offered creditable testimony to show that Conrad collected payoffs in 1951 through part of 1953 from specified persons engaged in illicit activities and distributed the graft periodically to fellow officers.

Resentment Is Reason Given For Attacks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—South American attacks on Vice President Nixon were described Friday as symptoms of deep resentment against American neglect.

"We have taken Latin American countries for granted," Eric Johnston told the Midwest Conference on the Effects of Foreign Aid meeting at the Biltmore Hotel here.

"We have ignored them, thrown them an occasional bone, and expected them to love us," Johnston said.

Johnston, co-chairman of the committee for international economic growth, delivered the keynote address.

AGRICULTURE UNION

Mexican Worker Import Opposed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Agricultural Workers Union (AFL—CIO) denounced as "international scabbery" Friday the proposal to import nearly 500,000 Mexican braceros for work in the United States.

The union charged that the Mexicans would work for as little as 50 cents an hour, causing Americans to have to labor for peon wages.

The union wrote identical letters to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. Copies were sent to AFL—CIO President George Meany and Don Manuel Tello, Mexican ambassador to the United States.

The Labor Department last week, after a series of meetings with agricultural interests from the Rio Grande Valley of Texas and other areas, had announced it would insist that 90 per cent of the Mexicans earn at least 50 cents an hour. The department said it had found areas in Texas where Mexicans received as low as 33 cents an hour.

The Labor Department also said braceros would be certified only for jobs that no Americans were available to take.

The letters, signed by NAW President H. L. Mitchell, said that a Mexican government official announced on Feb. 22 that his government planned to send nearly 500,000 braceros to this country to work on large U. S. farms.

The proposal amounted to "international scabbery," the union charged, because the Americans would have to work for the low rates or see the jobs go to the Mexicans.

"Since your department's first responsibility is to protect the interests of American citizens, we urge that you immediately repudiate this proposal of the government of Mexico," the letter urged Mitchell.

Last Laugh

HOUSTON (UP)— Frank Jiminez, 23, leaped from the roof of the Criminal Courts building Friday and died on the pavement eight floors below.

Jiminez was scheduled to appear before Judge Langston King June 5 on a robbery charge.

ost Sharing Of Disasters Solon Subject

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Budget Bureau spokesman said Friday the administration may propose next week a formula for local interests to share the costs of hurricane flood control projects.

Robert E. Merriam, assistant bureau director, was before a Senate Public Works subcommittee which is reviewing the President's April 15 veto of the omnibus rivers and harbors construction authorization bill.

In his veto message, the President listed three proposed hurricane projects as among those to which he objected. He said there was need for further review of the cost-sharing question.

Merriam, under questioning by Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI), said no decision has been reached but estimated the proposed formula would call for local interests to pay one-fourth to one-third of the project cost.

He said the bureau also is hopeful of coming up with a general cost-sharing proposal spelling out terms of local participation in all flood control projects where there are identifiable beneficiaries.

Merriam was the first witness as the committee began its review of the vetoed bill with an eye toward an eventual recommendation to the Senate that it either override or sustain the President's rejection.

The President balked at provisions of the bill which he said would authorize work with an eventual cost of some 350 million dollars.

Trial Set For Ex-Convict, 35

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A 35-year-old ex-convict pleaded innocent to charges of indecent behavior with a juvenile and contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile.

Charlie M. Bankston was arranged Thursday in family court. Judge Joe W. Sanders set trial May 22.

Bankston was arrested last month in the company of a 14-year-old boy after a brief chase by deputies.

He was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary in April, 1957, but paroled after serving less than four months. In January, he received a full pardon.

SON WILL PAY

BURLINGTON, Vt. — (UP) — Mayor C. Douglas Cairns said his 16-year-old son, who was fined $26.70 for speeding, will have "to work this summer to pay me back." Charles A. Carins pleaded guilty to speeding three days after he received his driver's license.

FT. WORTH, TEX.

2nd Largest City Title Is Sought

FORT WORTH (UP)—The city council voted Friday to annex 252 square miles in a step that may make this city second in the nation only to Los Angeles in total land area.

At any rate, the expansion, when it becomes final, will give the city a total of 431 square miles. The city earlier began processing annexation of 34 square miles. Its present area is 145 square miles.

The action Friday was in the form of first reading. Two more readings of the proposal will have to be made for the action to become official.

The total area of Los Angeles is 450.9 square miles. New York's total area is 315.1 square miles. Houston's is 352 square miles and Dallas' is 236.30.

There was no immediate estimate of the number of persons involved but the annexed areas are thinly populated.

Cities Bottled Up

The move would extend the Fort Worth boundaries on the south to Johnson county and on the west to Parker county. It bottled up the cities of Saginaw, Lake Worth Village, River Oaks, White Settlement, West Worth, Westover Hills, Ben Brook, Edgecliff and Crowley.

Travel Council Formed In Miss.; President Named

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Travel Council, a statewide organization to promote the tourist industry, was formed Friday. Sidney T. Roebuck, Newton lawyer and motel owner, was named president.

Council members pledged themselves to "push, praise and promote Mississippi rather than apologize for it."

Curtis C. Runyan, Jackson, president of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee, was named vice president.

Those taking part in the organizational meeting included S. L. Muths, Gulfport; W. E. Holland, Columbus; Jim Stevens, Gulfport; Bob Wheeler, Yazoo City; Jack Simmons, Gulfport; Ira L. Nichols, Vicksburg, and Mrs. M. L. Hubbard, Grenada.

Roebuck said it was the first time so many organizations interested in promoting travel were represented at one meeting.

Attending for the Agricultural and Industrial Board was Ned O'Brien, head of the agency's tourist and travel department. O'Brien indicated tourist promotion will have a high priority in the A&I's broadened program under increased appropriations by the 1958 Legislature.

Five Bodies Brought Out Of Ga. Swamp

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (UP)—Navy rescue crews brought out the last of five bodies Friday evening from an almost inaccessible swamp near here where a big Marine troop-carrying helicopter crashed Thursday afternoon.

Searchers had to plow through waist-deep water to find the bodies of the pilot and co-pilot. The other three crewmen were found Thursday after the flaming wreckage of the helicopter was spotted in a marshy beach area 10 miles south of Brunswick. The area was reachable by helicopter only.

The last two bodies recovered were those of 1st Lts. Elred L. McCulloch, 23, of Searchy, Ark., and Ronald A. Broadhay, 25, of LaGrange, Ill.

The three crewmen whose bodies had been recovered were identified as S-Sgt. William M. Hoskins Jr., 26, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Sgt. Marshall L. Dutton, 28, Verona, N.C.; and Cpl. Donnie L. Marler, 19, of Franklin, Ohio.

Bishop Defends His Position On Mixed Meetings

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southwest Virginia Friday defended, in an address to the Diocesan General Council, his position for racially mixed meetings at a new church conference center.

"Since the first service of the Episcopal church of Virginia in 1607," said Bishop William Marmion, "it has been open to all people regardless of color or position in life."

He quoted from a report of the committee on christian social relations adopted by the council of the diocese of Virginia in May, 1955, that said: "No problem of a race relations exists within the Protestant Episcopal Church except where individual members or groups create that problem."

Bishop Marmion made his annual address to more than 400 clergy and laymen at St. John's Episcopal Church as the 39th annual session of the Diocesan General Council opened.

Conviction Of Policeman Is Overturned

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Friday overturned the perjury and false statements conviction of former police Ptn. Joseph P. Conrad of New Orleans.

The appellate court ordered Conrad acquitted. He had been sentenced to 18 months after a U.S. District Court jury convicted him of perjury before the federal grand jury and making false statements to internal revenue agents about police graft collections and payments.

The 3-judge court opinion, written by Judge John R. Brown, said Conrad was not indicted for making specific statements that were later proved to be false.

Instead, the opinion said, Conrad was indicted for having stated "in substance and effect" that he had no personal knowledge of graft payments or never knowingly collected graft.

"That means," it said, "that all of his testimony had fairly to be considered to determine whether in its substance and by its general tenor and effect he had really said what the government charges."

The court said the government offered creditable testimony to show that Conrad collected payoffs in 1951 through part of 1953 from specified persons engaged in illicit activities and distributed the graft periodically to fellow officers.

Resentment Is Reason Given For Attacks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—South American attacks on Vice President Nixon were described Friday as symptoms of deep resentment against American neglect.

"We have taken Latin American countries for granted," Eric Johnston told the Midwest Conference on the Effects of Foreign Aid meeting at the Biltmore Hotel here.

"We have ignored them, thrown them an occasional bone, and expected them to love us," Johnston said.

Johnston, co-chairman of the committee for international economic growth, delivered the keynote address.

AGRICULTURE UNION

Mexican Worker Import Opposed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Agricultural Workers Union (AFL—CIO) denounced as "international scabbery" Friday the proposal to import nearly 500,000 Mexican braceros for work in the United States.

The union charged that the Mexicans would work for as little as 50 cents an hour, causing Americans to have to labor for peon wages.

The union wrote identical letters to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. Copies were sent to AFL—CIO President George Meany and Don Manuel Tello, Mexican ambassador to the United States.

The Labor Department last week, after a series of meetings with agricultural interests from the Rio Grande Valley of Texas and other areas, had announced it would insist that 90 per cent of the Mexicans earn at least 50 cents an hour. The department said it had found areas in Texas where Mexicans received as low as 33 cents an hour.

The Labor Department also said braceros would be certified only for jobs that no Americans were available to take.

The letters, signed by NAW President H. L. Mitchell, said that a Mexican government official announced on Feb. 22 that his government planned to send nearly 500,000 braceros to this country to work on large U. S. farms.

The proposal amounted to "international scabbery," the union charged, because the Americans would have to work for the low rates or see the jobs go to the Mexicans.

"Since your department's first responsibility is to protect the interests of American citizens, we urge that you immediately repudiate this proposal of the government of Mexico," the letter urged Mitchell.

Inquiry Is Taken Over By Committee

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—An inquiry into the rough treatment given Vice President Nixon on his Latin-American tour was taken over by the full Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday and expanded to cover anti-American violence elsewhere.

The committee decided to broaden the scope of the study to include the recent burning of U.S. Information Agency libraries in Lebanon.

Chairman Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) said the committee also would look into other recent incidents, but he didn't specify them. There has been anti-American rioting in Algeria and last week rifle fire spattered around the residence of the U.S. ambassador in Haiti.

A closed hearing will be held Monday to try to determine whether the South American demonstrations were part of what Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) called a worldwide Communist pattern. Testimony will be taken from State Department and Central Intelligence Agency witnesses.

The Nixon study was started by Morse, head of a Foreign Relations subcommittee, but Morse proposed that the full committee handle it. The committee agreed unanimously to take over the preliminary stages.

When these are past, Green said the committee will decide on a course of action.

Nixon will undoubtedly be invited to testify. He said upon his return from South America that the United States needs a reappraisal of policy there to combat a very clever and insidious Soviet propaganda offensive in that part of the world.

McCall Planning To Seek Post In Seventh District

Harley McCall, owner and operator of an insurance agency in Jennings, announced yesterday that he is intending to qualify as a candidate for Congress from the Seventh District.

McCall said he will open his campaign within the next two weeks, either at Sulphur or Lake Charles, and will conduct a "vigorous" campaign.

He added he will announce his platform at a later date.

A native of southwest Louisiana, McCall is married and the father of four children.

Pardon Petition Of Touhy Turned Down By Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton Friday turned down the pardon petition of Roger Touhy, onetime Chicago prohibition era gangster, who had sought his immediate freedom.

The decision means the 60-year-old Touhy, once known as "The Terrible," will not be eligible for release on parole until October next year.

Stratton said that nothing new was presented to warrant clemency.

At a hearing on Touhy's executive clemency application in April, John (Jake the Barber) Factor testified that Touhy's claim he did not kidnap Factor 25 years ago was a fantastic lie.

REP. DELONY

Suggests Teachers Trim Their Demands

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Rep. Vail Delony suggested Friday teachers should trim their demands and be more cooperative if they don't want a pay cut.

The East Carroll lawmaker said teachers don't stand a chance of getting all the pay raise authorized in 1956 and may lose the 50 per cent they now receive unless they "get together with everyone concerned."

Package Plan

He said he would vote for a package tax plan proposed by Rep. Ben Holt of Rapides Parish.

Holt's plan would continue teacher pay at the present level with a two cent increase in the natural gas gathering tax and turn excess revenues over to the state general fund.

The budget for the next fiscal year wipes out money now going to teachers under the 1956 salary schedule.

1. Trim the pay scale to get the dedicated tax source.
2. Revise the pay formula so starting teachers would get the largest increase.
3. Meet with all persons concerned on the issue, teacher leaders, lawmakers, administration and anti-tax leaders.
4. Be more cooperative, in view of the state's fiscal difficulties.
5. Agree to keep the teacher retirement fund at its present level of about 150 million and not appropriate the 14 million dollar state contribution for this year.

Delony said the retirement money could be diverted into teacher pay. Teachers would still continue their six per cent contributions, with the state temporarily discontinuing its 12.3 per cent.

Instead they hauled away a 350-pound safe which contained only corporation records. The money in the open cabinet was untouched.

City Briefs

Probe Theft

Monroe Police are investigating the theft of a tractor disc reported stolen form the pany, 2200 Louisville, Ave.

Officers said the report was received yesterday and that the alleged theft occurred two weeks ago.

Charged

Harold Englerth, 24, of 208 Layton Ave., was arrested yesterday on charges of making lewd telephone calls to local women, Sheriff Bailey Grant disclosed.

Grant said the man had told of making eight calls and was booked on all eight counts. He was remanded in the parish jail following his arrest by parish deputies.

Judge Upholds Jackson, Miss. In Gas Battle

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan Friday upheld the city of Jackson in a controversy between the city and Mississippi Valley Gas Co.

McGowan reversed the action of the state Public Service Commission in granting the firm a certificate of public conveinence and necessity.

The ruling was based primarily on the company's failure to show arbitrary action on the part of the city.

The Public Service Commission issued the certificate Nov. 8, 1956, although the company did not hold a franchise from the city.

The company contends it does not need a franchise.

Job Figures For La. Released By State Office

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The local state employment office reported Friday 36,100 persons held jobs in Calcasieu Parish during April, 100 less than in March but 825 above the number employed in April, 1957.

The employment said the decline was the smallest of any month thus far this year, indicating the gradual decline in employment since a peak of 39,250 in December, 1957, may be nearing an end.

The service also pointed out that the labor force in the area has increased during the past year.

Sub Is Spotted; Search Ordered

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — An unidentified submarine was reported seen Thursday night off the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Canadian navy reported Friday. It ordered a search by planes and a destroyer escort.

The Canadian spokesman did not say how the submarine was spotted.

A few days ago a Canadian fisherman reported seeing two submarines 270 miles upcoast from Vancouver, B. C. The navy searched but found no foreign vessels.

LEBANON

First Round Won By Pro-Westerner

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Pro-Western President Camille Chamoun Friday won the first round in a bitter fight against rioting opponents who tried to break him.

At the end of a week of turmoil, Chamoun seems to be gaining strength hourly and his opposition is becoming demoralized. An anti-government general strike has lost its punch and most cities are tranquil again after destructive rioting.

Security forces drove rioters from the streets of Beirut and other key cities.

Lebanese planes strafed a donkey caravan carrying weapons and ammunition from the direction of Syria, the government said.

Chamoun's Cabinet rejected feelers from the opposition for a compromise settlement. Opposition leader Saeb Salam, who supports President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, has found many of his colleagues weakening.

Christian elements in the opposition feared Salam intended to turn Lebanon into a Moslem-dominated republic and destroy the delicate power balance between Moslems and Christians.

Chamoun reportedly rejected a compromise proposal under which he would remain in office until the expiration of his six-year term in September but would promise not to have the constitution altered so he can succeed himself. He has not said he wants another term, but the belief that he does apparently was one of the factors in the rioting.

Since last Saturday rioters have periodically surged through Beirut streets, touched off explosions, battled with police, sniped at people from building tops.

Security forces cordoned off a Moslem area behind Chamoun's house where a crowd gathered. Friday prayers at mosques were banned because of the fear of demonstrations.

Reliable sources said almost 1,000 Egyptians and Syrians—nationals of the United Arab Republic—have been expelled from Lebanon. Those without proper residence or work permits were sent out.

Tex. Wins Suit On Bonds Bought By N.O. Couple

AUSTIN (UP) — The state of Texas Friday won a lawsuit brought by a New Orleans, La., couple who sought payment for 46 bonds issued by Texas in 1861 while a member of the Confederacy.

District Judge Charles O. Betts sustained special exceptions filed by the state holding that payment of the bonds was barred by the statute of limitations.

The suit was brought by Mrs. M. B. Buford and her husband, and George B. Lindler, administrator of the estate of Jeff Chapman. They sought payment for 46 bonds of $1,000 denomination each which matured on Jan. 1, 1877.

Attorney General Will Wilson said as far as he knew the suit was the first attempt by anyone to collect on the bonds issued by Texas while it was a member of the Confederate states. He said interest alone on the bonds would have totalled $73,600.

Passman Acts On Cotton Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight House members called on the Agriculture Department Friday to reconsider its opposition to legislation which would enable cotton farmers to transfer flooded cotton acreage allotments to other nearby land.

They included Rep. Smith (D-Miss) and Passman (D-La).

Recalling that the department opposed such legislation last year, they urged in a letter that it now provide suggestions for Congress

AIR FORCE FLIGHT

Jet Speed Mark Is Upped By 200 mph

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An Air Force jet Friday boosted the world speed record nearly 200 miles per hour.

A Lockheed F104A Starfighter averaged 1,404.19 m.p.h. on two passes 40,000 feet above Edwards Air Force Base north of here in the Mojave Desert.

The flight was made by Capt. Walter Wayne Irwin, 34, Novato, Calif., flight commander of the 83rd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, Hamilton AFB. The Air Force calls this its first operational twice-the-speed-of-sound squadron.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff announced the feat at a news conference here.

The plane is the same type of craft that nine days ago set a new altitude record of 91,249 feet—17.28 miles—over Edwards.

The Starfighter flown Friday topped by 196½ m.p.h. the present world record of 1,207.6 m.p.h., set on the same measured course last Dec. 12 by Maj. Adrian E. Drew in a McDonnell F101A voodoo.

Gen. White termed the new mark "quite a fantastic speed for an in-service aircraft."

Research planes have flown faster. The Bell X2 reportedly flew 1,900 m.p.h. at 70,000 feet after being launched from a mother plane.

Irwin said his throttle wasn't wide open. But he added he couldn't estimate the plane's top speed because this "depends on so many conditions," including altitude and air temperature.

The temperature at 40,000 feet outside his plane was 60 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, he said.

Irwin said he had been making daily attempts to break the record since last Monday.

Anxiety Seen In France As Crisis Strikes

PARIS (AP)—The signs of widespread anxiety have begun to appear as France gropes for a solution to the worst crisis since World War II.

Gold prices shot up on the Paris Bourse, a sure sign of trouble in a country where the citizens buy gold in times of stress.

Housewives began crowding stores to stock up on canned food and sugar—another indicator of trouble. Some stores reported their sales doubled.

Gay Paree took on a somber look. Dark-uniformed security troops patrolled its tree-lined avenues under heavy, gray skies.

The 20,000-man Paris police force was strengthened by 15,000 security troopers. A special unit of the mobile gendarmierie deployed its vehicles on the outskirts of the capital.

The government banned all demonstrations and parades in public places.

The crowds appeared unusually silent, whether roaming the streets or pouring out of subway stations and suburban railroad terminals.

Lebanon May Get U. S. Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States said Friday it expects to send tanks to Lebanon's pro-Western government shortly.

The tanks would be part of what the State Department termed a "modest military assistance program" for Lebanon's armed forces.

A department spokesman who reported this said the tanks and other military goods would be in addition to what he called police equipment now being flown to Lebanon in response to an urgent request from Premier Camille Chamoun's government.

Inquiry Is Taken Over By Committee

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—An inquiry into the rough treatment given Vice President Nixon on his Latin-American tour was taken over by the full Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday and expanded to cover anti-American violence elsewhere.

The committee decided to broaden the scope of the study to include the recent burning of U.S. Information Agency libraries in Lebanon.

Chairman Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) said the committee also would look into other recent incidents, but he didn't specify them. There has been anti-American rioting in Algeria and last week rifle fire spattered around the residence of the U.S. ambassador in Haiti.

A closed hearing will be held Monday to try to determine whether the South American demonstrations were part of what Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) called a worldwide Communist pattern. Testimony will be taken from State Department and Central Intelligence Agency witnesses.

The Nixon study was started by Morse, head of a Foreign Relations subcommittee, but Morse proposed that the full committee handle it. The committee agreed unanimously to take over the preliminary stages.

When these are past, Green said the committee will decide on a course of action.

Nixon will undoubtedly be invited to testify. He said upon his return from South America that the United States needs a reappraisal of policy there to combat a very clever and insidious Soviet propaganda offensive in that part of the world.

McCall Planning To Seek Post In Seventh District

Harley McCall, owner and operator of an insurance agency in Jennings, announced yesterday that he is intending to qualify as a candidate for Congress from the Seventh District.

McCall said he will open his campaign within the next two weeks, either at Sulphur or Lake Charles, and will conduct a "vigorous" campaign.

He added he will announce his platform at a later date.

A native of southwest Louisiana, McCall is married and the father of four children.

Pardon Petition Of Touhy Turned Down By Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton Friday turned down the pardon petition of Roger Touhy, onetime Chicago prohibition era gangster, who had sought his immediate freedom.

The decision means the 60-year-old Touhy, once known as "The Terrible," will not be eligible for release on parole until October next year.

Stratton said that nothing new was presented to warrant clemency.

At a hearing on Touhy's executive clemency application in April, John (Jake the Barber) Factor testified that Touhy's claim he did not kidnap Factor 25 years ago was a fantastic lie.

REP. DELONY

Suggests Teachers Trim Their Demands

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Rep. Vail Delony suggested Friday teachers should trim their demands and be more cooperative if they don't want a pay cut.

The East Carroll lawmaker said teachers don't stand a chance of getting all the pay raise authorized in 1956 and may lose the 50 per cent they now receive unless they "get together with everyone concerned."

Package Plan

He said he would vote for a package tax plan proposed by Rep. Ben Holt of Rapides Parish.

Holt's plan would continue teacher pay at the present level with a two cent increase in the natural gas gathering tax and turn excess revenues over to the state general fund.

The budget for the next fiscal year wipes out money now going to teachers under the 1956 salary schedule.

1. Trim the pay scale to get the dedicated tax source.
2. Revise the pay formula so starting teachers would get the largest increase.
3. Meet with all persons concerned on the issue, teacher leaders, lawmakers, administration and anti-tax leaders.
4. Be more cooperative, in view of the state's fiscal difficulties.
5. Agree to keep the teacher retirement fund at its present level of about 150 million and not appropriate the 14 million dollar state contribution for this year.

Delony said the retirement money could be diverted into teacher pay. Teachers would still continue their six per cent contributions, with the state temporarily discontinuing its 12.3 per cent.

UNBELIEVERS

ROCHESTER, N. Y. —(UP)— Burglars disregarded a sign reading, "Help Yourself, all of the money is in the unlocked cabinet," when they invaded the offices of Donald A. LePine Co., Inc. Instead they hauled away a 350-pound safe which contained only corporation records. The money in the open cabinet was untouched.

City Briefs

Probe Theft

Monroe Police are investigating the theft of a tractor disc reported stolen form the pany, 2200 Louisville, Ave.

Officers said the report was received yesterday and that the alleged theft occurred two weeks ago.

Charged

Harold Englerth, 24, of 208 Layton Ave., was arrested yesterday on charges of making lewd telephone calls to local women, Sheriff Bailey Grant disclosed.

Grant said the man had told of making eight calls and was booked on all eight counts. He was remanded in the parish jail following his arrest by parish deputies.

Judge Upholds Jackson, Miss. In Gas Battle

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan Friday upheld the city of Jackson in a controversy between the city and Mississippi Valley Gas Co.

McGowan reversed the action of the state Public Service Commission in granting the firm a certificate of public conveinence and necessity.

The ruling was based primarily on the company's failure to show arbitrary action on the part of the city.

The Public Service Commission issued the certificate Nov. 8, 1956, although the company did not hold a franchise from the city.

The company contends it does not need a franchise.

Job Figures For La. Released By State Office

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The local state employment office reported Friday 36,100 persons held jobs in Calcasieu Parish during April, 100 less than in March but 825 above the number employed in April, 1957.

The employment said the decline was the smallest of any month thus far this year, indicating the gradual decline in employment since a peak of 39,250 in December, 1957, may be nearing an end.

The service also pointed out that the labor force in the area has increased during the past year.

Sub Is Spotted; Search Ordered

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — An unidentified submarine was reported seen Thursday night off the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Canadian navy reported Friday. It ordered a search by planes and a destroyer escort.

The Canadian spokesman did not say how the submarine was spotted.

A few days ago a Canadian fisherman reported seeing two submarines 270 miles upcoast from Vancouver, B. C. The navy searched but found no foreign vessels.

FLIES TO NEW WORLD AIR SPEED RECORD — Capt. Walter W. Irwin, 34, of Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., climbs from the cockpit of his F104A Starfighter jet after flying it to a new world air speed record yesterday. The flight was over the California desert. His speed was 1404.19 miles an hour, about 196 m.p.h. faster than the previous record, set by an Air Force plane last December. (AP Wirephoto)

LEBANON

First Round Won By Pro-Westerner

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Pro-Western President Camille Chamoun Friday won the first round in a bitter fight against rioting opponents who tried to break him.

At the end of a week of turmoil, Chamoun seems to be gaining strength hourly and his opposition is becoming demoralized. An anti-government general strike has lost its punch and most cities are tranquil again after destructive rioting.

Security forces drove rioters from the streets of Beirut and other key cities.

Lebanese planes strafed a donkey caravan carrying weapons and ammunition from the direction of Syria, the government said.

Chamoun's Cabinet rejected feelers from the opposition for a compromise settlement. Opposition leader Saeb Salam, who supports President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, has found many of his colleagues weakening.

Christian elements in the opposition feared Salam intended to turn Lebanon into a Moslem-dominated republic and destroy the delicate power balance between Moslems and Christians.

Chamoun reportedly rejected a compromise proposal under which he would remain in office until the expiration of his six-year term in September but would promise not to have the constitution altered so he can succeed himself. He has not said he wants another term, but the belief that he does apparently was one of the factors in the rioting.

Since last Saturday rioters have periodically surged through Beirut streets, touched off explosions, battled with police, sniped at people from building tops.

Security forces cordoned off a Moslem area behind Chamoun's house where a crowd gathered. Friday prayers at mosques were banned because of the fear of demonstrations.

Reliable sources said almost 1,000 Egyptians and Syrians—nationals of the United Arab Republic—have been expelled from Lebanon. Those without proper residence or work permits were sent out.

ROY LEADS 5 STROKES

Nash Gulf's Golf Champ; McNeese Cops Team Title

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—McNeese State dethroned Louisiana Tech as Gulf States Conference champion in both tennis and golf Friday. Roy Nash of Tech took individual honors in golf, while McNeese players took every tennis title.

Nash shot rounds of 69 and 71 to go with his opening 71 yesterday and give him a one-over-par 211 for the 54 hole tournament. Dick Bono of McNeese was runnerup with a 73-73-70—216.

It was the second straight title for Nash, who is Louisiana Amateur champion. Despite his efforts, however, McNeese took team honors by three strokes. McNeese had rounds of 303, 300 and 299 for a 902 total. Tech had a 298-302-305—905, while host Southwestern Louisiana Institute had 309-326-304—939 and Northeast State 329-330-315—974. Southeastern Louisiana and Northwestern State were not entered.

The tourney was played over the 6,130-yard Lafayette Municipal golf course.

In tennis, McNeese finished with 35 points to 15 for Tech, 3 for SLI, 3 for Southeastern and none for Northwestern. Northeast did not enter.

The No. 1 title went to Federico Zarazua of McNeese, who topped Charles Halphen of SLI 6-2, 6-3. The defending No. 1 champion, Leonard Maranto of Tech, played No. 2 on his team this year behind Bob Mosley. Maranto lost in the No. 2 finals to Vicente Hernandez of McNeese 6-3, 6-3. Mosley was not in the finals.

Zarazua and Hernandez won the top doubles crown for McNeese with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Mosley and Maranto.

SMASHING UPSET

Creed Defeated By Mrs. Glick

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore knocked defending champion Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., out of the Women's Southern Golf Tournament Friday.

The smashing upset, 5 and 3, came in the semifinals at the same time that Polly Riley of Fort Worth was being taken out by Mrs. Mary Ann Reynolds of Albany, Ga., 2 up.

Thus, two players who hadn't been expected to be around very long, will clash Saturday for the championship over 36 holes.

Mrs. Glick overcame Miss Creed, the co-ed from Lamar Tech after they had rounded the turn even. On 10 Miss Creed muffed her second shot and wound up with a double bogey 6 while Mrs. Glick went ahead with a par. Mrs. Glick, the Maryland state champion, also won 11 with a par and on 12 Miss Creed missed a 2-foot putt that brought Mrs. Glick's Margin to 3-up.

They halved 13 but Miss Creed 3-putted 14 to go 4 down. On 15 she hit into a creek and Mrs. Glick was steady par to close out the match.

The Reynolds-Riley match was a humdinger. Mrs. Reynolds was 4-up at the turn.

They reached 15 that way, but here Mrs. Reynolds almost went to pieces. She bogeyed three straight holes and they came into 18 with Miss Riley only 1 down. But on 18 Miss Riley needed three to get down and Mrs. Reynolds was par to win the match.

BEHIND PIERCE

White Sox Whip Cleveland, 6-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—Left - hander Billy Pierce, a 20-game winner the last two seasons, picked up his first victory of the 1958 campaign Friday night with a steady six-hitter as the Chicago White Sox whipped the Cleveland Indians 6-3 in the opener of a four-game series.

Two of the hits Pierce yielded were solo homers by Bobby Avila and Minnie Minoso. He struck out 10 and walked four. His teammates staked Pierce to a five-run lead before he even walked out to the mound.

Ten men batted for the White Sox in the first inning as they hopped on Cleveland starter Don Ferrarese for their five runs on four hits, a pair of walks and two Indian errors.

Luis Aparicio opened with a walk. Nellie Fox — who collected four singles—followed with a pop hit to left and Al Smith reached first when Billy Harrell failed to cover first on a sacrifice bunt.

With the bases loaded, Sherm Lollar drew a walk to force in the first run. After Ron Jackson struck out, Jim Rivera beat out a bunt to Mickey Vernon and two runs crossed when Vernon tossed wildly to first. Bubba Phillips singled off Bobby Avila's glove at third, scoring Lollar. Rivera then stole third and came home on Landis' single to right. Four of the runs were earned.

Herb Elliott Smashes Mile Mark With 3:57.8 Clocking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Herb Elliott of Australia smashed the existing world record for the mile run Friday night with an amazing time of 3 minutes, 57.8 seconds.

Elliott's time over a grass course eclipsed the recognized world mark of 3:58.0 set by the great John Landy of Australia, June 21, 1954.

Pending and claiming recognition is the time of 3:57.2 set by England's Derek Ibbotson July 19, 1957.

Eliott, running under four minutes for the fourth time in his career, far outdistanced his countryman, Merv Lincoln, who was timed at 4:01.

The pace for the first two laps was set by an unheralded runner from the University of Texas, Drew Dunlap.

With Elliott close behind, Dunlap was timed at 58.5 for the first quarter of a mile and 2:05 for the half.

Elliot in the third lap suddenly blazed into tremendous speed and took charge about 220 yards in the lap. His time was 3:03.

The crowd of some 35,000 realized they were in for a thrill as Elliott widened his lead with each step.

The race over the grass course was an innovation for Coliseum Relays.

This was the 38th time the once so-called impossible 4-minute mile had been beaten since Roger Bannister of England broke through in the little hamlet of Oxford, England, May 6, 1954.

Elliott, an unusually dedicated young man of 20, was given a thunderous ovation by the crowd whe he stepped up to the winner's platform to receive his trophy.

Lazlo Tabori, the exile from Hungary, ran third in 4:04.4 and Joe Villereal of Texas fourth.

Not since Australia's surprise defeated Landy here in 1956 have Los Angeles track fans got a bigger thrill. Both Bailey and Landy were under four minutes that epic afternoon.

U.S. Leading Venezuela In Cup Play

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Ham Richardson and Barry MacKay swept past their opponents with hardly a puff Friday as the United States took a 2-0 lead over Venezuela in their American Zone Davis Cup tennis series.

MacKay, the Dayton, Ohio youngster who starred in the 1957 challenge round in Australia, defeated Venezuela's Marcos Gambus 6-4, 6-1, 6-2. After Richardson had whipped Iyo Pimentel, the No. 1 Venezuelan, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

The U.S. needs only a victory in the doubles Saturday or one of the two singles matches Sunday to advance into the second round against the winner of the Cuba-Canada series. MacKay teams with Bill Qullan against Gambus and Pimentel in the doubles.

With MacKay leading 3-0 in the first set, the match was halted 5 minutes because of the downpour. When play resumed, the Venezuelan reeled off four games to make it 6-3. Then there was a 10-minute wait during another shower.

The rest of the match was easy for MacKay. His cross-court shots baffled Gambus.

Indians Sign College Stars

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Friday announced they have signed two Alabama collegians to baseball contracts. Both received bonuses, the amount undisclosed by the club.

They are Bobby Charles Ledford, an outfielder at the University of Alabama, and L. F. Lanier, also an outfielder from Auburn University.

Ledford was assigned to Reading of the Eastern League. Lanier was assigned to Burlington of the Carolina League.

SHUTOUT FOR JONES

Musial's Homer Beats Bums, 2-0

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The six-hit pitching of Sad Sam Jones and a two-run homer by Stan Musial, the league's leading hitter, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-0 victory Friday night over the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers. Jones struck out nine.

It was the eighth triumph in nine games for the Cardinals, fighting to offset a miserable start this season.

Jones now is 3-3 for the season.

Musial's game - winning home run came in the sixth off loser Johnny Podres, who held the Cards to four hits in the six innings he worked.

Eddie Kasko, who took over second when Don Blasingame of the Cards was ejected from the game in the first inning, delivered a leadoff double to right center, setting the stage for Musial's seventh home run of the year.

Blasingame was ejected for arguing with Umpire Hal Dixon over a called third strike.

Musial, batting .474, had been in what amounts to a major slump for him. He had been at bat six successive times without a hit, when he came to the plate in the sixth.

Los Angeles found a Cardinal fortress at home plate.

Junior Gilliam reached third in the sixth inning via a walk and Pee Wee Reese's single but was trapped off third on Norm Larker's tap to Ken Boyer and was put out. In the same inning Reese tried to score on John Roseboro's single to right. But Gene Green nailed him with a throw to catcher Hal Smith.

Don Zimmer and Podres singled with two out in the fifth and Zimmer, trying to make it home when Podres' hit eluded Curt Flood momentarily in center field, was thrown out at the plate.

HOMERS HELP

Simmons Hurls Phils Past Bucs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harry Anderson's inside the park home run and a circuit clout by Stan Lopata backed up southpaw Curt Simmons' six-hit pitching Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2.

Simmons had one streak from the second through the sixth innings where he set down 14 Pirates in order. By this time the Phillies, on the strength of the bats of Anderson, Lopata and Rip Repulski, had the game sewed up.

Anderson's homer came in the first with Richie Ashburn aboard. It hit the scoreboard in right field, rolled along a catwalk and then dropped back into play.

Lopata's was a solo clout deep into the upper left field stands in the second inning. Repulski triple deep to center in the third, over Bill Virdon's head, to bring in Ashburn and Anderson, both of whom had walked. Repulski then scored on a wild pitch by Curt Raydon who relieved starter Bob Porterfield after Repulski's blow.

Bill Mazeroski accounted for both Pirate runs. In the second he singled home Frank Thomas who had gotten to second on an infield hit and a passed ball. In the seventh, Mazeroski's fly to Ashburn in center brought home R. C. Stevens who had doubled and moved to third on an infield out.

Stevens played first for the Pirates after Ted Kluszewski took batting practice and reported his aching back had stiffened on him.

The win was revenge for Simmons who lost a 1-0 10-inning decision to Porterfield on Sunday. It was Porterfield's second start for the Pirates since he was purchased from the Boston Red Sox.

GARY PLAYER 2ND

Hogan Shoots 64 To Head Snead Festival 3 Strokes

By GEORGE BOWEN

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Ben Hogan demonstrated Friday he still had the touch which made him one of the world's greatest golfers by taking only 64 strokes to go around the par 70 course and lengthen his lead in the second round of the Sam Snead Festival.

Hogan's 36-hole total of 129 provided the 45-year-old Texan with a two-stroke lead over Gary Player, the 22-year-old South African from Johannesburg.

Player made a strong bid to overtake Hogan, who had started the second round with a one-stroke edge. The youngster took a 65 and missed a couple of short putts for other birdies for a 131 total.

Snead, three-time winner of the past 10 tourneys at his home base, started off even with Player. He dropped a stroke back with a 66 for 132.

Stan Mosel, 26-year-old from Essex Fells, N. J., who had matched Hogan's first round 65, couldn't keep up with the fast pace. He faded to a 73 and 138 total which dropped him into a tie for eighth place with 36 holes to go in the $10,000 tourney.

Al Mengert of Westifield, N. J., pulled into fourth place with his second 67. His 134 total left him two strokes behind Snead.

Nineteen of the pros were under par halfway through the tournament.

Hogan is having his last warm-up before going after a record fifth National Open Championship at Tulsa next month. He never went over par on the 6,497-yard scenic course.

He rolled in a 12-foot putt for a birdie three on the first hole. After seven pars, he flushed a covey of birds, going under par on the ninth through the 12th.

After failing to sink a seven-foot putt for another bird on the 13th, he bagged his sixth on the 14th.

STRONG IN PRELIMS

LSU's Spikemen Favored To Win

By LEROY SIMS

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—Louisiana State's strong squad dominated preliminary heats Friday to become an overwhelmingly favorite for its Southeastern Conference track title in tomorrow's finals.

One new SEC record was fixed today, but not at the field. Track coaches voted to accept the 24 feet, 2½ inch broad jump by Bill Brown of Louisiana State back in 1941 as the record.

Previously, a 25 feet, 6¾ inch jump by Eddie Hamm of Georgia Tech, set in 1938, had been accepted. Hamm's leap was before the SEC was organized in 1933 but was allowed since his school now is an SEC member.

After the first few qualifying heats, interest began to center on what loomed like a wide open race for second place behind LSU's Tigers.

In today's preliminaries, LSU qualified 15 men, Florida 10, Auburn 8, Alabama 6, Vanderbilt and Kentucky 6 each, Miss. State, Tennessee and Georgia 5 each, Ga. Tech 2, and Mississippi 1.

Alabama, one of the strongest challengers of the favorites, saw its hopes dimmed when Darrell Fitts, quarter miler, and Jesse Crowell, half miler, turned up with pulled muscles and were scratched. Fitts placed third and Crowell second in their events last year.

Louisiana State not only qualified all its star today, but had the best times generally despite hot and humid weather which may have slowed down athletes who obviously were qualifying for tomorrow when the running counts.

Billy Cannon, LSU's sophomore dash and shot put star, took his heat in the 100 in 9.9 seconds, running into a slight wind. That was the best time for the event. He also was second in the shot, with a mark of 50 fet, one-quarter inch, behind Florida's Winfield Willis, at 50 feet, 2 inches.

Cannon's teammate, Ralph Fabian, paced the 220 runners with a 21.7 second heat. Carl Seefield, with 1 minute, 57.4 seconds, and Ernest Wall, both also of LSU, paced the half milers.

Fabia, also qualified in the 100, and took his heat in the low hurdles. Alabama's John Uleses paced the javelin with a thrust of 205 feet, 5½ inches, best in the conference this season. Tennessee's Al Carter, a football halfback, led the broad jumpers with 22 feet, 10½ inches.

Ray Blasingame of Kentucky paced the low hurdlers with 24.3 seconds, running into the wind. Mississippi State's Billy Stacy and Auburn's Pete Calhoun were the other heat leaders in what may be one of the closest events in the meet.

Ford Continues Mastery Of Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ed "Whitey" Ford continued his mastery over the Washington Senators as he beat them for the 11th straight time over a four-season span, the Yankees winning 7-2 Friday night before 21,023 spectators at Griffith Stadium.

The chunky blond left - hander held the second-place Senators to eight hits and fanned five.

It was Ford's third victory of the season and his second over Washington. Not since September 20, 1954, have the Senators beaten him. He holds a 17-3 lifetime advantage over the Washington club.

For five innings, the Yankees were blanked by Camilo Pascual, who has shut them out last Sunday. But in the sixth, Hank Bauer doubled, moved to third on Tony Kubek's single and scored on Mickey Mantle's fielder's choice grounder. Before the inning was over, Gil McDougald connected for a two-run homer and the Yankees were on the way.

Rudolph Tops Memphis Golf By 2 Strokes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Walker Cupper Mason Rudolph, firing six birdies for a 4-under-par 66, outshone professionals Marty Furgol, Cary Middlecoff, Chick Harbert and Art Wall Jr., Friday to seize the second-round lead in the $24,000 Memphis Invitation golf tournament.

The 24-year-old Rudolph, a bespectacled soldier, had a two-round total of 131. He shared an opening round lead with three professionals Thursday, carding 65.

Rudolph, of Clarksville, Tenn., held a two-stroke lead over the 40-year-old Furgol, of Lemonte, Ill., who came in with 67 to go with a first round 66 for a total 133.

Apparently shaking a "slump," Furgol parred the first nine, then accounted for tree birdies in the stretch for his 3-under-par 67.

Middlecoff, who holds the Colonial Country Club course record here at 62, carded his second 67 in the tournament for a total 134, one stroke back of Furgol.

ROY LEADS 5 STROKES

Nash Gulf's Golf Champ; McNeese Cops Team Title

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—McNeese State dethroned Louisiana Tech as Gulf States Conference champion in both tennis and golf Friday. Roy Nash of Tech took individual honors in golf, while McNeese players took every tennis title.

Nash shot rounds of 69 and 71 to go with his opening 71 yesterday and give him a one-over-par 211 for the 54 hole tournament. Dick Bono of McNeese was runnerup with a 73-73-70—216.

It was the second straight title for Nash, who is Louisiana Amateur champion. Despite his efforts, however, McNeese took team honors by three strokes. McNeese had rounds of 303, 300 and 299 for a 902 total. Tech had a 298-302-305—905, while host Southwestern Louisiana Institute had 309-326-304—939 and Northeast State 329-330-315—974. Southeastern Louisiana and Northwestern State were not entered.

The tourney was played over the 6,130-yard Lafayette Municipal golf course.

In tennis, McNeese finished with 35 points to 15 for Tech, 3 for SLI, 3 for Southeastern and none for Northwestern. Northeast did not enter.

The No. 1 title went to Federico Zarazua of McNeese, who topped Charles Halphen of SLI 6-2, 6-3. The defending No. 1 champion, Leonard Maranto of Tech, played No. 2 on his team this year behind Bob Mosley. Maranto lost in the No. 2 finals to Vicente Hernandez of McNeese 6-3, 6-3. Mosley was not in the finals.

Zarazua and Hernandez won the top doubles crown for McNeese with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Mosley and Maranto.

SMASHING UPSET

Creed Defeated By Mrs. Glick

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore knocked defending champion Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., out of the Women's Southern Golf Tournament Friday.

The smashing upset, 5 and 3, came in the semifinals at the same time that Polly Riley of Fort Worth was being taken out by Mrs. Mary Ann Reynolds of Albany, Ga., 2 up.

Thus, two players who hadn't been expected to be around very long, will clash Saturday for the championship over 36 holes.

Mrs. Glick overcame Miss Creed, the co-ed from Lamar Tech after they had rounded the turn even. On 10 Miss Creed muffed her second shot and wound up with a double bogey 6 while Mrs. Glick went ahead with a par. Mrs. Glick, the Maryland state champion, also won 11 with a par and on 12 Miss Creed missed a 2-foot putt that brought Mrs. Glick's Margin to 3-up.

They halved 13 but Miss Creed 3-putted 14 to go 4 down. On 15 she hit into a creek and Mrs. Glick was steady par to close out the match.

The Reynolds-Riley match was a humdinger. Mrs. Reynolds was 4-up at the turn.

They reached 15 that way, but here Mrs. Reynolds almost went to pieces. She bogeyed three straight holes and they came into 18 with Miss Riley only 1 down. But on 18 Miss Riley needed three to get down and Mrs. Reynolds was par to win the match.

BEHIND PIERCE

White Sox Whip Cleveland, 6-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—Left - hander Billy Pierce, a 20-game winner the last two seasons, picked up his first victory of the 1958 campaign Friday night with a steady six-hitter as the Chicago White Sox whipped the Cleveland Indians 6-3 in the opener of a four-game series.

Two of the hits Pierce yielded were solo homers by Bobby Avila and Minnie Minoso. He struck out 10 and walked four. His teammates staked Pierce to a five-run lead before he even walked out to the mound.

Ten men batted for the White Sox in the first inning as they hopped on Cleveland starter Don Ferrarese for their five runs on four hits, a pair of walks and two Indian errors.

Luis Aparicio opened with a walk. Nellie Fox — who collected four singles—followed with a pop hit to left and Al Smith reached first when Billy Harrell failed to cover first on a sacrifice bunt.

With the bases loaded, Sherm Lollar drew a walk to force in the first run. After Ron Jackson struck out, Jim Rivera beat out a bunt to Mickey Vernon and two runs crossed when Vernon tossed wildly to first. Bubba Phillips singled off Bobby Avila's glove at third, scoring Lollar. Rivera then stole third and came home on Landis' single to right. Four of the runs were earned.

Herb Elliott Smashes Mile Mark With 3:57.8 Clocking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Herb Elliott of Australia smashed the existing world record for the mile run Friday night with an amazing time of 3 minutes, 57.8 seconds.

Elliott's time over a grass course eclipsed the recognized world mark of 3:58.0 set by the great John Landy of Australia, June 21, 1954.

Pending and claiming recognition is the time of 3:57.2 set by England's Derek Ibbotson July 19, 1957.

Elliott, running under four minutes for the fourth time in his career, far outdistanced his countryman, Merv Lincoln, who was timed at 4:01.

The pace for the first two laps was set by an unheralded runner from the University of Texas, Drew Dunlap.

With Elliott close behind, Dunlap was timed at 58.5 for the first quarter of a mile and 2:05 for the half.

Elliot in the third lap suddenly blazed into tremendous speed and took charge about 220 yards in the lap. His time was 3:03.

The crowd of some 35,000 realized they were in for a thrill as Elliott widened his lead with each step.

The race over the grass course was an innovation for Coliseum Relays.

This was the 38th time the once so-called impossible 4-minute mile had been beaten since Roger Bannister of England broke through in the little hamlet of Oxford, England, May 6, 1954.

Elliott, an unusually dedicated young man of 20, was given a thunderous ovation by the crowd whe he stepped up to the winner's platform to receive his trophy.

Lazlo Tabori, the exile from Hungary, ran third in 4:04.4 and Joe Villereal of Texas fourth.

Not since Australia's surprise defeated Landy here in 1956 have Los Angeles track fans got a bigger thrill. Both Bailey and Landy were under four minutes that epic afternoon.

Indians Sign College Stars

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Friday announced they have signed two Alabama collegians to baseball contracts. Both received bonuses, the amount undisclosed by the club.

They are Bobby Charles Ledford, an outfielder at the University of Alabama, and L. F. Lanier, also an outfielder from Auburn University.

Ledford was assigned to Reading of the Eastern League. Lanier was assigned to Burlington of the Carolina League.

U.S. Leading Venezuela In Cup Play

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Ham Richardson and Barry MacKay swept past their opponents with hardly a puff Friday as the United States took a 2-0 lead over Venezuela in their American Zone Davis Cup tennis series.

MacKay, the Dayton, Ohio youngster who starred in the 1957 challenge round in Australia, defeated Venezuela's Marcos Gambus 6-4, 6-1, 6-2. After Richardson had whipped Iyo Pimentel, the No. 1 Venezuelan, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

The U.S. needs only a victory in the doubles Saturday or one of the two singles matches Sunday to advance into the second round against the winner of the Cuba-Canada series. MacKay teams with Bill Qullan against Gambus and Pimentel in the doubles.

With MacKay leading 3-0 in the first set, the match was halted 5 minutes because of the downpour. When play resumed, the Venezuelan reeled off four games to make it 6-3. Then there was a 10-minute wait during another shower.

The rest of the match was easy for MacKay. His cross-court shots baffled Gambus.

SHUTOUT FOR JONES

Musial's Homer Beats Bums, 2-0

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The six-hit pitching of Sad Sam Jones and a two-run homer by Stan Musial, the league's leading hitter, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-0 victory Friday night over the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers. Jones struck out nine.

It was the eighth triumph in nine games for the Cardinals, fighting to offset a miserable start this season.

Jones now is 3-3 for the season.

Musial's game - winning home run came in the sixth off loser Johnny Podres, who held the Cards to four hits in the six innings he worked.

Eddie Kasko, who took over second when Don Blasingame of the Cards was ejected from the game in the first inning, delivered a leadoff double to right center, setting the stage for Musial's seventh home run of the year.

Blasingame was ejected for arguing with Umpire Hal Dixon over a called third strike.

Musial, batting .474, had been in what amounts to a major slump for him. He had been at bat six successive times without a hit, when he came to the plate in the sixth.

Los Angeles found a Cardinal fortress at home plate.

Junior Gilliam reached third in the sixth inning via a walk and Pee Wee Reese's single but was trapped off third on Norm Larker's tap to Ken Boyer and was put out. In the same inning Reese tried to score on John Roseboro's single to right. But Gene Green nailed him with a throw to catcher Hal Smith.

Don Zimmer and Podres singled with two out in the fifth and Zimmer, trying to make it home when Podres' hit eluded Curt Flood momentarily in center field, was thrown out at the plate.

HOMERS HELP

Simmons Hurls Phils Past Bucs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harry Anderson's inside the park home run and a circuit clout by Stan Lopata backed up southpaw Curt Simmons' six-hit pitching Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2.

Simmons had one streak from the second through the sixth innings where he set down 14 Pirates in order. By this time the Phillies, on the strength of the bats of Anderson, Lopata and Rip Repulski, had the game sewed up.

Anderson's homer came in the first with Richie Ashburn aboard. It hit the scoreboard in right field, rolled along a catwalk and then dropped back into play.

Lopata's was a solo clout deep into the upper left field stands in the second inning. Repulski triple deep to center in the third, over Bill Virdon's head, to bring in Ashburn and Anderson, both of whom had walked. Repulski then scored on a wild pitch by Curt Raydon who relieved starter Bob Porterfield after Repulski's blow.

Bill Mazeroski accounted for both Pirate runs. In the second he singled home Frank Thomas who had gotten to second on an infield hit and a passed ball. In the seventh, Mazeroski's fly to Ashburn in center brought home R. C. Stevens who had doubled and moved to third on an infield out.

Stevens played first for the Pirates after Ted Kluszewski took batting practice and reported his aching back had stiffened on him.

The win was revenge for Simmons who lost a 1-0 10-inning decision to Porterfield on Sunday. It was Porterfield's second start for the Pirates since he was purchased from the Boston Red Sox.

GARY PLAYER 2ND

By GEORGE BOWEN

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Ben Hogan demonstrated Friday he still had the touch which made him one of the world's greatest golfers by taking only 64 strokes to go around the par 70 course and lengthen his lead in the second round of the Sam Snead Festival.

Hogan's 36-hole total of 129 provided the 45-year-old Texan with a two-stroke lead over Gary Player, the 22-year-old South African from Johannesburg.

Player made a strong bid to overtake Hogan, who had started the second round with a one-stroke edge. The youngster took a 65 and missed a couple of short putts for other birdies for a 131 total.

Snead, three-time winner of the past 10 tourneys at his home base, started off even with Player. He dropped a stroke back with a 66 for 132.

Stan Mosel, 26-year-old from Essex Fells, N. J., who had matched Hogan's first round 65, couldn't keep up with the fast pace. He faded to a 73 and 138 total which dropped him into a tie for eighth place with 36 holes to go in the $10,000 tourney.

Al Mengert of Westifleld, N. J., pulled into fourth place with his second 67. His 134 total left him two strokes behind Snead.

Nineteen of the pros were under par halfway through the tournament.

Hogan is having his last warm-up before going after a record fifth National Open Championship at Tulsa next month. He never went over par on the 6,497-yard scenic course.

He rolled in a 12-foot putt for a birdie three on the first hole. After seven pars, he flushed a covey of birds, going under par on the ninth through the 12th.

After failing to sink a seven-foot putt for another bird on the 13th, he bagged his sixth on the 14th.

STRONG IN PRELIMS

LSU's Spikemen Favored To Win

By LEROY SIMS

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—Louisiana State's strong squad dominated preliminary heats Friday to become an overwhelmingly favorite for its Southeastern Conference track title in tomorrow's finals.

One new SEC record was fixed today, but not at the field. Track coaches voted to accept the 24 feet, 2½ inch broad jump by Bill Brown of Louisiana State back in 1941 as the record.

Previously, a 25 feet, 6¾ inch jump by Eddie Hamm of Georgia Tech, set in 1938, had been accepted. Hamm's leap was before the SEC was organized in 1933 but was allowed since his school now is an SEC member.

After the first few qualifying heats, interest began to center on what loomed like a wide open race for second place behind LSU's Tigers.

In today's preliminaries, LSU qualified 15 men, Florida 10, Auburn 8, Alabama 6, Vanderbilt and Kentucky 6 each, Miss. State, Tennessee and Georgia 5 each, Ga. Tech 2, and Mississippi 1.

Alabama, one of the strongest challengers of the favorites, saw its hopes dimmed when Darrell Fitts, quarter miler, and Jesse Crowell, half miler, turned up with pulled muscles and were scratched. Fitts placed third and Crowell second in their events last year.

Louisiana State not only qualified all its star today, but had the best times generally despite hot and humid weather which may have slowed down athletes who obviously were qualifying for tomorrow when the running counts.

Billy Cannon, LSU's sophomore dash and shot put star, took his heat in the 100 in 9.9 seconds, running into a slight wind. That was the best time for the event. He also was second in the shot, with a mark of 50 fet, one-quarter inch, behind Florida's Winfield Willis, at 50 feet, 2 inches.

Cannon's teammate, Ralph Fabian, paced the 220 runners with a 21.7 second heat. Carl Seefield, with 1 minute, 57.4 seconds, and Ernest Wall, both also of LSU, paced the half milers.

Fabia, also qualified in the 100, and took his heat in the low hurdles. Alabama's John Uleses paced the javelin with a thrust of 205 feet, 5½ inches, best in the conference this season. Tennessee's Al Carter, a football halfback, led the broad jumpers with 22 feet, 10½ inches.

Ray Blasingame of Kentucky paced the low hurdlers with 24.3 seconds, running into the wind. Mississippi State's Billy Stacy and Auburn's Pete Calhoun were the other heat leaders in what may be one of the closest events in the meet.

YANKS WIN, 7-2

Ford Continues Mastery Of Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ed "Whitey" Ford continued his mastery over the Washington Senators as he beat them for the 11th straight time over a four-season span, the Yankees winning 7-2 Friday night before 21,023 spectators at Griffith Stadium.

The chunky blond left - hander held the second-place Senators to eight hits and fanned five.

It was Ford's third victory of the season and his second over Washington. Not since September 20, 1954, have the Senators beaten him. He holds a 17-3 lifetime advantage over the Washington club.

For five innings, the Yankees were blanked by Camilo Pascual, who has shut them out last Sunday. But in the sixth, Hank Bauer doubled, moved to third on Tony Kubek's single and scored on Mickey Mantle's fielder's choice grounder. Before the inning was over, Gil McDougald connected for a two-run homer and the Yankees were on the way.

Rudolph Tops Memphis Golf By 2 Strokes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Walker Cupper Mason Rudolph, firing six birdies for a 4-under-par 66, outshone professionals Marty Furgol, Cary Middlecoff, Chick Harbert and Art Wall Jr., Friday to seize the second-round lead in the $24,000 Memphis Invitation golf tournament.

The 24-year-old Rudolph, a bespectacled soldier, had a two-round total of 131. He shared an opening round lead with three professionals Thursday, carding 65.

Rudolph, of Clarksville, Tenn., held a two-stroke lead over the 40-year-old Furgol, of Lemonte, Ill., who came in with 67 to go with a first round 66 for a total 133.

Apparently shaking a "slump," Furgol parred the first nine, then accounted for tree birdies in the stretch for his 3-under-par 67.

Middlecoff, who holds the Colonial Country Club course record here at 62, carded his second 67 in the tournament for a total 134, one stroke back of Furgol.

NORTHEAST STRONG

Demons Familiar Favorite In Gulf States Loop Meet

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — There's a familiar favorite at the 1958 Gulf States Conference track and field meet at SLI here today.

Walter Ledet's Northwestern Demons are favored to capture their sixth straight conference crown in a meet that promises to be one of the best in history. Northwestern's toughest competition for the team crown is expected to come from Louisiana Tech Hartzog's Northeast squad, the best in the school's history, a highly rated contender for the first time.

A great duel is expected in the 100 and 220 between Northeast's Dave Styron, Tech's Pat Garrett and Northwestern's Steve Jordan. All three have bettered the GSC record of 9.7 in the 100.

NSC's Charley Henningan is expected to again win the 440 but Tech's Joel Thomas, record holder in the 120 high hurdles and 220 lows, will be pushed by four men, teammate Jim Sturdivant, M. B. Childress of Northwestern and Northeast's Dave Styron.

Northeast's Jack Williams and Charlie McCullen are two of the top distance men in the meet with Northwestern and McNeese expected to give them plenty of competition. Northeast, Tech, McNeese and Northwestern will all be tough in the relays and the baton races could go either way.

Northwestern will be especially strong in the field events with Allen, Nordier, and Farrar given a chance to break the pole vault record along with Northeast's Gene Hagan and Calloway of SLI. Five conference athletes have gone over 200 feet in the javelin, Liepens and Houfpauir of NSC, Ward of Southeastern, Robert McGough of Northeast and Bob Harquist of SLI, the record holder.

Jerry Ivy and Dave Styron give Northeast strong representation in the broad jump where McNeese's sensational freshman, Don Troutman, will rule the favorite. Troutman has consistently cracked 24 feet this spring with his best leap, 24-10 ⅛, two feet under the GSC record.

A small squad, 18 men, will hurt Northeast's chances for the team crown. The Indians have strong entries in most of the events but will miss vital points for 4th and 5th place finishes because of lack of depth.

The meet preliminaries will be held this morning beginning at 10:30 with the finals to start at 7 p.m.

SPAULDING QUITS

Wildcats Obtain Knight As Coach

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — The resignation of Louisiana College's head basketball coach and the appointment of his successor were announced simultaneously by President G. Earl Guinn. Dayton M. (Dave) Spaulding, who is closing his first year as L. C. cage mentor, recently submitted his resignation to Dr. Guinn. It was accepted "with regret," the Louisiana College president said.

Harold Knight, 26, Mississippi native and coach at Meridian High School in the Magnolia state, has been selected to replace the resigned Spaulding. Graduate of Alabama State Teachers College at Livingston and former professional baseball player, young Knight will assume his new L.C. duties next fall.

"We regret very much losing Mr. Spaulding. He resigned on his own accord. Mr. Spaulding has made many friends in the short time he has been with us. All of us here at Louisiana College hope him the best of luck in the future," Dr. Guinn explained.

"Our new basketball coach, Mr. Knight, comes to us highly recommended by both educational and religious leaders. We look forward with keen anticipation to having him ou our athletic staff next year," the L.C. leader added.

Spaulding gave no reason for his resignation. Nor did he indicate what his future plans are.

However he did issue the following statement:

"It is not without regret that I have resigned as the basketball coach at Louisiana College. It is impossible for me to see many of the friends who have extended so many kindnesses to me during my tenure at Louisiana College.

"I would like to say, 'Thank you' to those people for their friendship as well as to assure them that my friendship toward them will continue although in abstentia."

Knight will be remembered by Central Louisiana baseball fandom for he perfomed for two year, 1953-54, as a pitcher for the Alexandria Aces of the now defunct Evangeline League.

At Livingston State, Knight was a star basketballer. Following his college graduation, he mentored with great success at both Greenwood, Miss., and at his hometown (Meredian) high schools.

As an athlete at Meridian High, he was an All-Big Eight cage performer and an All-State American Legion baseball player.

Three of his five years in professional baseball were spent with the fabulous New York Yankee organization.

"We are fortunate in securing the services of Coach Knight. He comes to us with an outstanding high school record and highly recommended by those with whom he has been associated and by top basketball coaches in the Southeastern Conference. We look forward to a pleasant association with him." was the manner in which J. W. (Pat) Patrick, Louisiana College athletic director, expressed it.

Knight is married and the father of two sons, ages 2 and 4.

Susce Misses Plane; Favors Train Travel

DETROIT (AP) — One of the Detroit Tigers was missing Friday when the team boarded a plane flying to Kansas City.

George Susce, the right-hander the Tigers paid the Boston Red Sox $25,000 for, said Thursday he didn't like to fly and would take a train to Kansas City.

Susce wasn't on hand when the Tigers boarded their chartered airliner and apparently made good on his plan to go by train.

General Manager John McHale said, "Suce will fly or he won't play with this club. We'll find someone else for him to pitch."

Boston officials confirmed that Susce didn't like to fly and said he usually took the train when he was with them because "flying with our club is optional."

Neither Tiger nor Boston management could explain Susce's aversion to flying.

When asked whether Detroit might hire a psychiatrist to help Susce get over his fear of air travel as the Los Angeles Dodgers did for Don Newcombe, McHale said, "Susce hasn't pitched a ball for us. Maybe he's not worth the price of a psychiatrist."

BEATS GIANTS, 6-5

3 Pinch Hitters Payoff For Cubs

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—After three Chicago pinch hitters had batted in one run each, Lee Walls singled across the winning marker from second in the ninth for a 6-5 Cub victory over the San Francisco Giants Friday.

The Cubs' two-run ninth nullified a five-run Giant sixth in which Willie Mays slammed a three-run homer.

Dale Long doubled across the first Cub run in the first and homered with none on in the fourth.

After Bobby Thomson's lead-off single in the ninth brought in the fifth Giant pitcher, Ray Crone, pinch hitter Bobby Adams doubled Thomson in for a 5-5 tie.

Walls long single to center brought across Adams after catcher Bob Schmidt failed to hang on to Mays' throw to the plate.

The winner was the third Cub pitcher, Don Elston, who struck out the Giant side in the 8th on 11 pitches. It was Elston's fifth victory without defeat.

In the Giant sixth, after Jim Davenport walked and Danny O'Connell singled, Mays smashed Phillips' first pitch over the left center bleachers for a 3-2 San Francisco lead.

Two more runs followed in the same inning. Orlando Cepeda's double chased Phillips and brought on Dolan Nichols, who yielded a run-producing single to Daryl Spencer and then wild-pitched Spencer home from third.

Mays' three-run homer moved into a tie with Spencer for the league RBI lead at 28 each.

A hit batsman and Long's two-out double gave the Cubs a 1-0 lead in the first and Long's No. 4 homer in the fourth put Chicago ahead 2-0.

Two Cub pinch hitters, Chuck Tanner and Paul Smith, each poked one-run singles in the seventh with two out to chase Monzant and trim the Giants' lead to 5-4.

Big 8 Avoids Action On Letter Of Intent

By SKIPPER PATRICK

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Big Eight Faculty Committee Friday sidestepped action on a proposed athletic letter of intent for the conference but said it would approve such a similar measure on a national basis.

The letter of intent, enforced in the Southwest an Southeast Conferences, basically binds a high school athlete to attend the college which he has agreed in writing to attend.

Reaves Peters, executive secretary of the Big Eight, said the faculty discussed a proposal to enact the letter of intent on the conference level but did not bring it to a vote. Dean Earl Fullbrock of Nebraska, who headed a committee that polled feeling of the conference on the letter, said it was found there was considerable opposition to the proposal.

"The principal objection to the letter for the conference," Peters said, "is that some schools feel it would concentrate recruiting to a shorter time and would require the addition of a coach to look over high school athletes."

He added the representatives of the Big Eight will sit in with other schools on an NCAA-sponsored round table discussion of a national letter of intent proposal.

The faculty committee instructed Peters to meet with officials of the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium regarding contipuation of the conference's indoor track meet there. The Big Eight has one year to go on its present 10-year contract with the auditorium.

He will ask that the auditorium purchase a new portable board track which would cost about $30,000.

The conference will agree to a new lease of at least 10 years.

In other actions the faculty voted to add the 600 and 1,000-yard sprints to its indoor track program.

The 1959 swimming meet will be held March 6-7 at Nebraska and the wrestling tournament March 13-14 at Oklahoma State. It will be the first conference meet at Oklahoma State, a new ference's outdoor cham-ETAETAO member of the loop.

The conference's outdoor championships in track, golf and tennis will be held at Oklahoma, May 15-16.

The faculty reported it had not sold its regional television football package of four games, because of a lack of satisfactory bids.

HAS 11 CHALLENGERS

Tim Tam 6 To 5 Favorite To Win Preakness Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tim Tam, boasting seven straight victories, will bring the best record into the Preakness since the great Count Fleet in 1943—but he still has 11 rivals in the right 3-year-old classic at old Pimlico Saturday.

The Kentucky Derby winner and pride of Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm is the favorite to collect a record sixth Preakness for the Lexington, Ky., racing empire. Calumet is tied with G. L. Lorillard, who won five from 1878-1882.

If Tim Tam can whip Jewel's Reward, Silky Sullivan, Lincoln Road and the others, the sleek dark bay son of Tom Fool will be the first Derby winner to repeat in the Preakness since 1948. Ten years ago it was Calumet's great thoroughbred — Citation — who swept the Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown. Seven of the horses who chased Tim Tam home at Louisville are here, a record number from the Derby.

There were no surprises Friday when the owners forked over $500 for each of the dozen horses officially entered for the mile and three-sixteenths event. All 12 had been figured certain starters 24 hours ago.

Another $500 is due for each horse starting in the race, due to go off at approximately 3:45 p.m. CST. The colorful battle for the black eyed susans will be carried on national television and radio by CBS from 3:30-4 p.m. This would be the largest Preakness field since 1928 when 18 started and Victorian won.

The weatherman smiled, and brief showers of Thursday night merely dampened the track. It was sunny and warm Friday, and the forecast for Preakness day is more of the same with the temperature in the upper 70s.

The sun finally came out in Louisville two weeks ago for the Derby at Churchill Downs, but week-long rain had left the track sticky with mud.

Tim Tam has won the Everglades, the Flamingo (through disqualification of Jewel's Reward), the Fountain of Youth, the Florida Derby, the Derby Trial, and the Derby plus one allowance race since Feb. 15.

If he throws another Calumet tea party, some of the hopeful stragglers from the Kentucky Derby line-up will disappear and the field for the June 7 Belmont Stakes in New York will be considerably smaller.

In addition to Tim Tam others in the Preakness entry box are Jewel's Reward and Liberty Ruler, from Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Maine Chance Farm; Mrs. Anthony Cannuli's Chance It Tony; Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show; Edward Potter Jr.'s Plion; Michore, from Walter E. Crismen's Powhatan Farms; Tom Ross and Phil Klipstein's Silky Sullivan, Noureddin, from the Crabgarss Stable of Dr. Peter Graffagnino, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis' Martins Rullah; Lincoln Road, owned by Sunny Blue farm of Issac Blumber, and Gone Fishin', representing the Llangollen Farm of Mrs. M. E. Lunn.

All will carry 126 pounds, same as in the Derby.

Lincoln Road and Noureddin were 2 - 3 behind Tim Tam at Louisville. California's celebrated Silky Sullivan plodded home 12th, failing to come up with his usual late kick and letting down a lot of sentimental rooters.

Tim Tam's odds of 7 to 5 were cut to 6 to 5 Friday, and might be even money when jockey Ismael Valenzuela walks him into the starting gate. Jewel's Reward who finished fourth as the beaten Derby favorite, and Liberty Ruler are 3 to 1.

At 9 to 2 is Lincoln Road, who led Tim Tam in the Florida Derby and then the Kentucky Derby, finishing second by half a length both times. This speed demon was 75 to 1 in Florida and 45 to 1 in Kentucky, and jockey Chris Rogers figures to have him out front early again.

Manuel Ycaza, the temperamental Panamanian, rides Jewel's Reward. He rode the colt in the Flamingo disqualification but was replaced in the Derby by Eddie Arcaro. Now he has replaced the master. Tony DeSpirito will pilot Liberty Ruler.

Other riding assignments are Willie Lester on Talent Show, Logan Batcheller aboard Chance It Tony, Dave Erb on Plion, Ellis Gray on Michore, James Combest on Noureddin, Ralph Neves on Gone Fishin', and Willie Shoemaker aboard Silky.

No jockey has been announced for Martins Rullah.

Asian Nations Want Olympic Games Of '64

TOKYO (AP)—The site of the 1964 Olympics was among several items of unfinished business left hanging Friday when the International Olympic Committee closed up shop after four days.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, IOC president, said the group will reconvene in Munich, Germany, probably in May of 1959.

After the conclusion of the closed session of the IOC General Assembly here, Brundage said several Asian nations had suggested it would be appropriate to hold the games in the East. Japan already has made a bid.

The 1960 Games will be held in Rome.

Other points tabled for discussion at Munich included:

A Russian motion to permit women to enter every event in the Games.

Discussion of the threat by the International Athletic Federation (IAAF) to boycott the 1960 Games and set up its own track and field championships unless it receives a slice of the Olympic profits.

Texas Aggies Sign Rebels' Mickey Bass

Mickey Bass, star fullback at West Monroe last season, has signed a grant-in-aid with Texas A and M and leaves today for a weekend at College Station.

Sought by several other schools, Bass was signed by Aggie Head Coach Jim Myers. He plans to enter the Texas school in September.

The son of Mrs. Robert Rainwater of 301 Sheridan in West Monroe, Bass was a four-year letterman with the Rebels. The 186-pound fullback was selected the most valuable player at West Monroe last season and was name to the all-Twin Cities team.

RATHMANN, ELISIAN

Indianapolis Lap Record Broken Twice Unofficially

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway one-lap record was cracked unofficially twice Friday in rapid succession.

Dick Rathmann of Miami broke the 147-mile-an hour barrier for the first time and Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., immediately turned in the first 148-mile-an hour lap.

Both were driving cars built by A.J. Watson of Glendale, Calif.—Rathmann a McNamara Special and Elisian a Zink Special.

The performances promised new official records Saturday in the opening session of time trials for the 500-mile race May 30 and probabls will attract a crowd of 100,000 or more.

Rathmann was timed at 1:01.21 for the 2½ miles, or 147.010 miles an hour. Elisian, a husky former gunner's mate, made the circuit in 1:00.75, or 148.148 miles an hour.

Thirty-five of the 56 entries have run practice laps over 140 miles an hour and a dozen have been clocked at 143 or better. Only five of last year's qualifiers could beat 143 in the official 10 - mile trials.

The 1956 record of Pat Flaherty of Chicago, 145.596 miles per hour, stood up under last year's assaults after engine sizes were cut from 274 to 256 cubic inches of piston displacement. His best lap, at 146.946, also was unmatched.

Engineers and mechanics have found out how to regain the horsepower they lost in last year's rules change, and the field for the May 30 race is practically certain to be the fastest of the 42 Indianapolis auto classics.

Ed Elisian, husky former gunner's mate from Oakland, Calif., has turned an unofficial lap at 146.9 miles an hour in a Zink special.

Laps almost as fast as Elisian's have been run by Pat O'Connor, North Vernon, Ind.; national champion Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz.; A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Tex.; Jud Larson, Tulsa, Okla.; Ray Crawford, Pasadena, Calif.; Chuck Weyant, Springfield, Ill., and Dick Rathmann, Miami.

Larson and Foyt never have started in the 500-mile grind, but both have been outstanding on smaller tracks. Foyt, 23, is the youngest driver among the probably qualifiers and one of the best new prospects at the track in many years.

Chief Steward Harlan Fingler marvels that Foyt, driving Bryan's old Dean Special, "acts like he was sitting there looking at TV."

Cars run one at a time in the qualifications. The driver can quit before completing the fourth lap if he isn't satisfied with his speed, but he has only three chances to qualify.

After 33 cars qualify, another driver can make the starting field by turning in a better speed than the slowest earlier qualifier. Then the slower car is "bumped" from the line-up, and the new qualifier moves in at the end of the line.

The trials will continue Sunday and the following week end.

Only one of the two Novis, supercharged V-8s rated most powerful cars in the field, is ready to qualify this week end. Paul Russo of Webster Groves, Mo., will try to put it in the line-up for his 13th Memorial Day start.

Sam Hanks won last year on his 13th start.

The other Novi was reserved for world road racing champion Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, but he decided he needed more experience on a closed circuit before trying to race here.

Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., took a ride in one of the Novis Friday. He is assigned to the Ansted-Rotary Special, an Indianapolis car, but has not been happy in it.

Art Bisch of Phoenix completed his rookie driver's test in a Kurtis-Kraft owned by Jack Ensley, Indianapolis sports car racer, who is one of nine other new drivers who also have passed the test.

Bold Ruler's 1958 Debut In Toboggan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the new crop of 3-year-olds battle in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday, the champ of them all a year ago—Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler—makes his first start of 1958.

The Ruler is one of 11 handicap horses entered in the $29,300 Toboggan Handicap at Belmont Park. And as per his reputation, he will carry top weight of 133 pounds, including Eddie Arcaro, in the 6-furlong sprint while giving away from 16 to 28 pounds to his 10 rivals.

It was just a year ago that Bold Ruler, after a mediocre fourth in the Kentucky Derby, started his drive to the 3-year-old championship by whipping Derby winner Iron Liege in the Preakness.

He won the Belmont Stakes and one big one after another after that, finally clinching honors for 1957 with a romping victory over Gallant Man and Round Table in the Jersey Stakes "match race" at Garden State.

A twisted foreleg kept him out of the rich winter races in Florida, delaying his 1958 debut.

Clem 117, Tick Tock 116, and Cohoes 112, are among his chief challengers in the Toboggan, first Saturday feature of the Belmont meeting.

The $50,000-added Los Angeles Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $25,000-added Hartford Handicap at Lincoln Downs, the $20,000 Modesty Handicap at Balmoral at Washington Park, and the Bashford Manor Stakes at Churchill Downs are among the other top Saturday events.

Terrang, a former stablemate of Swaps, carries top weight of 124 pounds in the Los Angeles Handicap at 7 furlongs. Seven others were entered, including Seaneen and The Searcher.

Maine Chance Farm's Ebony Pearl, an also ran in the Derby two weeks ago, heads a field of 15 three-year-olds named for the mile and 70-yard Hartford at Lincoln Downs. Backbone carries top weight of 122 pounds with Ebony Pearl at 120.

The 6-furlong Modesty at Balmoral drew 13 fillies and mares, including Mrs. Connie Ring's Market Basket, with 122 pounds. Also highly regarded are Hasty House Farms' Melody Mine and Hasty Dol, Berke-Soto Stable's Lori-El, and Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Beautillion.

Grand Wizard carries 125 pounds in the Churchill feature, a 5-furlong dash for 2-year-olds. In the preceding race, four Derby entries—Benedicto, Red Hot Pistol, Can Trust, and Warren G.—are among entries in a mile race for 3-year-olds. Can Trust is top weighted at 122. Big Brush has 117.

Jockey Suffers Minor Bruises

CHICAGO (AP)—Jockey Fred Pannell, 28, suffered only bruises in a fall at Balmoral, X-rays showed Friday.

Riding Mr. Zeke, Pannell was thrown at the start of the second race Thursday as his mount came out of the starting gate. At first physicians feared he had broken a collar bone.

Drag Races On Tap For Today At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, La., (Special) — Some of the hottest machinery in the Ark.-La.-Tex. area is expected to duel it out at the Mansfield Drag Races here tomorrow. To be held at De Soto Airport, three miles north of here in Highway 171, time trials will get underway at 10 a.m. and eliminations at 1:30 p.m. Admission for the day-long event is $1.

The monthly competitions are sponsored by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce and directed by the Shreveport Timing Association. All events are run under the rules and regulations of the National Hot Rod Association and have the sanction of that body.

Besides the "hot" cars there will be classes for all sizes of stock and one for sport cars. The timing equipment used calculates speeds to the hundredths of a mile per hour and elapse times to the hundredth of a second.

The Jaycees have recently purchased new public address facilities which include eight speakers and two amplifiers. Fred Parker, who is in charge of the system, states that for this race he should have sufficient sound to blast the most distant spectator off the course.

In spite of the inclement weather last month's event, first of the season, drew 84 entries and approximately 1,300 spectators from the three-state area. W. L. Hood, Jaycee publicity chairman, said that preparations are being made for double that number on Sunday.

The Jaycees are using the funds realized to buy playground equipment for every school in De Soto parish and have set up a fund for the school for retarded children in Mansfield.

Three Major League Games Piped To N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a major league "tripleheader" on tap for New York baseball fans Friday night, although Yankee Stadium sat locked, silent and with 67,000 vacant seats.

The Yankees were in Washington for a night game, but they could be seen on television station WPIX.

Two clicks of the dial to left the Philadelphia Phillies entertained the Pittsburgh Pirates on TV station WOR, and two clicks to the right of the Yanks the Los Angeles Dodgers, were at St. Louis for a game with the Cardinals carried by TV station WNTA.

It was probably the first time three major league ballgames were telecast simultaneously in one city.

The Yanks, Dodgers and Giants all telecast when the three teams were located in New York, but the Yankee and Giant games were carried by the same station.

Demons Familiar Favorite In Gulf States Loop Meet

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — There's a familiar favorite at the 1958 Gulf States Conference track and field meet at SLI here today.

Walter Ledet's Northwestern Demons are favored to capture their sixth straight conference crown in a meet that promises to be one of the best in history. Northwestern's toughest competition for the team crown is expected to come from Louisiana Tech Hartzog's Northeast squad, the best in the school's history, a highly rated contender for the first time.

A great duel is expected in the 100 and 220 between Northeast's Dave Styron, Tech's Pat Garrett and Northwestern's Steve Jordan. All three have bettered the GSC record of 9.7 in the 100.

NSC's Charley Henningan is expected to again win the 440 but Tech's Joel Thomas, record holder in the 120 high hurdles and 220 lows, will be pushed by four men, teammate Jim Sturdivant, M. B. Childress of Northwestern and Northeast's Dave Styron.

Northeast's Jack Williams and Charlie McCullen are two of the top distance men in the meet with Northwestern and McNeese expected to give them plenty of competition. Northeast, Tech, McNeese and Northwestern will all be tough in the relays and the baton races could go either way.

Northwestern will be especially strong in the field events with Allen, Nordier, and Farrar given a chance to break the pole vault record along with Northeast's Gene Hagan and Calloway of SLI. Five conference athletes have gone over 200 feet in the javelin, Liepens and Houfpauir of NSC, Ward of Southeastern, Robert McGough of Northeast and Bob Harquist of SLI, the record holder.

Jerry Ivy and Dave Styron give Northeast strong representation in the broad jump where McNeese's sensational freshman, Don Troutman, will rule the favorite. Troutman has consistently cracked 24 feet this spring with his best leap, 24-10 ⅛, two feet under the GSC record.

A small squad, 18 men, will hurt Northeast's chances for the team crown. The Indians have strong entries in most of the events but will miss vital points for 4th and 5th place finishes because of lack of depth.

The meet preliminaries will be held this morning beginning at 10:30 with the finals to start at 7 p.m.

SPAULDING QUITS

Wildcats Obtain Knight As Coach

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — The resignation of Louisiana College's head basketball coach and the appointment of his successor were announced simultaneously by President G. Earl Guinn. Dayton M. (Dave) Spaulding, who is closing his first year as L. C. cage mentor, recently submitted his resignation to Dr. Guinn. It was accepted "with regret," the Louisiana College president said.

Harold Knight, 26, Mississippi native and coach at Meridian High School in the Magnolia state, has been selected to replace the resigned Spaulding. Graduate of Alabama State Teachers College at Livingston and former professional baseball player, young Knight will assume his new L.C. duties next fall.

"We regret very much losing Mr. Spaulding. He resigned on his own accord. Mr. Spaulding has made many friends in the short time he has been with us. All of us here at Louisiana College hope him the best of luck in the future," Dr. Guinn explained.

"Our new basketball coach, Mr. Knight, comes to us highly recommended by both educational and religious leaders. We look forward with keen anticipation to having him ou our athletic staff next year," the L.C. leader added.

Spaulding gave no reason for his resignation. Nor did he indicate what his future plans are.

However he did issue the following statement:

"It is not without regret that I have resigned as the basketball coach at Louisiana College. It is impossible for me to see many of the friends who have extended so many kindnesses to me during my tenure at Louisiana College.

"I would like to say, 'Thank you' to those people for their friendship as well as to assure them that my friendship toward them will continue although in abstentia."

Knight will be remembered by Central Louisiana baseball fandom for he perfomed for two year, 1953-54, as a pitcher for the Alexandria Aces of the now defunct Evangeline League.

At Livingston State, Knight was a star basketballer. Following his college graduation, he mentored with great success at both Greenwood, Miss., and at his hometown (Meredian) high schools.

As an athlete at Meridian High, he was an All-Big Eight cage performer and an All-State American Legion baseball player.

Three of his five years in professional baseball were spent with the fabulous New York Yankee organization.

"We are fortunate in securing the services of Coach Knight. He comes to us with an outstanding high school record and highly recommended by those with whom he has been associated and by top basketball coaches in the Southeastern Conference. We look forward to a pleasant association with him," was the manner in which J. W. (Pat) Patrick, Louisiana College athletic director, expressed it.

Knight is married and the father of two sons, ages 2 and 4.

BEATS GIANTS, 6-5

3 Pinch Hitters Payoff For Cubs

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—After three Chicago pinch hitters had batted in one run each, Lee Walls singled across the winning marker from second in the ninth for a 6-5 Cub victory over the San Francisco Giants Friday.

The Cubs' two-run ninth nullified a five-run Giant sixth in which Willie Mays slammed a three-run homer.

Dale Long doubled across the first Cub run in the first and homered with none on in the fourth.

After Bobby Thomson's lead-off single in the ninth brought in the fifth Giant pitcher, Ray Crone, pinch hitter Bobby Adams doubled Thomson in for a 5-5 tie.

Walls long single to center brought across Adams after catcher Bob Schmidt failed to hang on to Mays' throw to the plate.

The winner was the third Cub pitcher, Don Elston, who struck out the Giant side in the 8th on 11 pitches. It was Elston's fifth victory without defeat.

In the Giant sixth, after Jim Davenport walked and Danny O'Connell singled, Mays smashed Phillips' first pitch over the left center bleachers for a 3-2 San Francisco lead.

Two more runs followed in the same inning. Orlando Cepeda's double chased Phillips and brought on Dolan Nichols, who yielded a run-producing single to Daryl Spencer and then wild-pitched Spencer home from third.

Mays' three-run homer moved into a tie with Spencer for the league RBI lead at 28 each.

A hit batsman and Long's two-out double gave the Cubs a 1-0 lead in the first and Long's No. 4 homer in the fourth put Chicago ahead 2-0.

Two Cub pinch hitters, Chuck Tanner and Paul Smith, each poked one-run singles in the seventh with two out to chase Monzant and trim the Giants' lead to 5-4.

Golden Gloves Champ To Turn Pro Next Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Flores, National AAU and Golden Gloves middleweight boxing champion, will make his pro debut at the Eastern Parkway Arena, Saturday May 24.

The 22-year old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, runner-up in the light middleweight division of the 1956 Olympics, will meet Gene Hamilton of Winston-Salem, N. C. in a six-round main event.

Matchmaker Moe Fleischer announced the match Friday.

Susce Misses Plane; Favors Train Travel

DETROIT (AP) — One of the Detroit Tigers was missing Friday when the team boarded a plane flying to Kansas City.

George Susce, the right-hander the Tigers paid the Boston Red Sox $25,000 for, said Thursday he didn't like to fly and would take a train to Kansas City.

Susce wasn't on hand when the Tigers boarded their chartered airliner and apparently made good on his plan to go by train.

General Manager John McHale said, "Suce will fly or he won't play with this club. We'll find someone else for him to pitch."

Boston officials confirmed that Susce didn't like to fly and said he usually took the train when he was with them because "flying with our club is optional."

Neither Tiger nor Boston management could explain Susce's aversion to flying.

When asked whether Detroit might hire a psychiatrist to help Susce get over his fear of air travel as the Los Angeles Dodgers did for Don Newcombe, McHale said, "Susce hasn't pitched a ball for us. Maybe he's not worth the price of a psychiatrist."

Big 8 Avoids Action On Letter Of Intent

By SKIPPER PATRICK

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Big Eight Faculty Committee Friday sidestepped action on a proposed athletic letter of intent for the conference but said it would approve such a similar measure on a national basis.

The letter of intent, enforced in the Southwest an Southeast Conferences, basically binds a high school athlete to attend the college which he has agreed in writing to attend.

Reaves Peters, executive secretary of the Big Eight, said the faculty discussed a proposal to enact the letter of intent on the conference level but did not bring it to a vote. Dean Earl Fullbrock of Nebraska, who headed a committee that polled feeling of the conference on the letter, said it was found there was considerable opposition to the proposal.

"The principal objection to the letter for the conference," Peters said, "is that some schools feel it would concentrate recruiting to a shorter time and would require the addition of a coach to look over high school athletes."

He added the representatives of the Big Eight will sit in with other schools on an NCAA-sponsored round table discussion of a national letter of intent proposal.

The faculty committee instructed Peters to meet with officials of the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium regarding contipuation of the conference's indoor track meet there. The Big Eight has one year to go on its present 10-year contract with the auditorium.

He will ask that the auditorium purchase a new portable board track which would cost about $30,000.

The conference will agree to a new lease of at least 10 years.

In other actions the faculty voted to add the 600 and 1,000-yard sprints to its indoor track program.

The 1959 swimming meet will be held March 6-7 at Nebraska and the wrestling tournament March 13-14 at Oklahoma State. It will be the first conference meet at Oklahoma State, a new ference's outdoor cham-ETAETAO member of the loop.

The conference's outdoor championships in track, golf and tennis will be held at Oklahoma, May 15-16.

The faculty reported it had not sold its regional television football package of four games, because of a lack of satisfactory bids.

HAS 11 CHALLENGERS

Tim Tam 6 To 5 Favorite To Win Preakness Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tim Tam, boasting seven straight victories, will bring the best record into the Preakness since the great Count Fleet in 1943—but he still has 11 rivals in the right 3-year-old classic at old Pimlico Saturday.

The Kentucky Derby winner and pride of Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm is the favorite to collect a record sixth Preakness for the Lexington, Ky., racing empire. Calumet is tied with G. L. Lorillard, who won five from 1878-1882.

If Tim Tam can whip Jewel's Reward, Silky Sullivan, Lincoln Road and the others, the sleek dark bay son of Tom Fool will be the first Derby winner to repeat in the Preakness since 1948. Ten years ago it was Calumet's great thoroughbred — Citation — who swept the Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown. Seven of the horses who chased Tim Tam home at Louisville are here, a record number from the Derby.

There were no surprises Friday when the owners forked over $500 for each of the dozen horses officially entered for the mile and three-sixteenths event. All 12 had been figured certain starters 24 hours ago.

Another $500 is due for each horse starting in the race, due to go off at approximately 3:45 p.m. CST. The colorful battle for the black eyed susans will be carried on national television and radio by CBS from 3:30-4 p.m. This would be the largest Preakness field since 1928 when 18 started and Victorian won.

The weatherman smiled, and brief showers of Thursday night merely dampened the track. It was sunny and warm Friday, and the forecast for Preakness day is more of the same with the temperature in the upper 70s.

The sun finally came out in Louisville two weeks ago for the Derby at Churchill Downs, but week-long rain had left the track sticky with mud.

Tim Tam has won the Everglades, the Flamingo (through disqualification of Jewel's Reward), the Fountain of Youth, the Florida Derby, the Derby Trial, and the Derby plus one allowance race since Feb. 15.

If he throws another Calumet tea party, some of the hopeful stragglers from the Kentucky Derby line-up will disappear and the field for the June 7 Belmont Stakes in New York will be considerably smaller.

In addition to Tim Tam others in the Preakness entry box are Jewel's Reward and Liberty Ruler, from Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Maine Chance Farm; Mrs. Anthony Cannuli's Chance It Tony; Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show; Edward Potter Jr.'s Plion; Michore, from Walter E. Crismen's Powhatan Farms; Tom Ross and Phil Klipstein's Silky Sullivan, Noureddin, from the Crabgarss Stable of Dr. Peter Graffagnino, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis' Martins Rullah; Lincoln Road, owned by Sunny Blue farm of Issac Blumber, and Gone Fishin', representing the Llangollen Farm of Mrs. M. E. Lunn.

All will carry 126 pounds, same as in the Derby.

Lincoln Road and Noureddin were 2 - 3 behind Tim Tam at Louisville. California's celebrated Silky Sullivan plodded home 12th, failing to come up with his usual late kick and letting down a lot of sentimental rooters.

Tim Tam's odds of 7 to 5 were cut to 6 to 5 Friday, and might be even money when jockey Ismael Valenzuela walks him into the starting gate. Jewel's Reward who finished fourth as the beaten Derby favorite, and Liberty Ruler are 3 to 1.

At 9 to 2 is Lincoln Road, who led Tim Tam in the Florida Derby and then the Kentucky Derby, finishing second by half a length both times. This speed demon was 75 to 1 in Florida and 45 to 1 in Kentucky, and jockey Chris Rogers figures to have him out front early again.

Manuel Ycaza, the temperamental Panamanian, rides Jewel's Reward. He rode the colt in the Flamingo disqualification but was replaced in the Derby by Eddie Arcaro. Now he has replaced the master. Tony DeSpirito will pilot Liberty Ruler.

Other riding assignments are Willie Lester on Talent Show, Logan Batcheller aboard Chance It Tony, Dave Erb on Plion, Ellis Gray on Michore, James Combest on Noureddin, Ralph Neves on Gone Fishin', and Willie Shoemaker aboard Silky.

No jockey has been announced for Martins Rullah.

Texas Aggies Sign Rebels' Mickey Bass

Mickey Bass, star fullback at West Monroe last season, has signed a grant-in-aid with Texas A and M and leaves today for a weekend at College Station.

Sought by several other schools, Bass was signed by Aggie Head Coach Jim Myers. He plans to enter the Texas school in September.

The son of Mrs. Robert Rainwater of 301 Sheridan in West Monroe, Bass was a four-year letterman with the Rebels. The 186-pound fullback was selected the most valuable player at West Monroe last season and was name to the all-Twin Cities team.

Re-Scheduled

BOSTON (AP) — The Baltimore-Boston baseball game postponed Friday by rain and cold will be played Saturday as part of a split day-night doubleheader.

Asian Nations Want Olympic Games Of '64

TOKYO (AP)—The site of the 1964 Olympics was among several items of unfinished business left hanging Friday when the International Olympic Committee closed up shop after four days.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, IOC president, said the group will reconvene in Munich, Germany, probably in May of 1959.

After the conclusion of the closed session of the IOC General Assembly here, Brundage said several Asian nations had suggested it would be appropriate to hold the games in the East. Japan already has made a bid.

The 1960 Games will be held in Rome.

Other points tabled for discussion at Munich included:

A Russian motion to permit women to enter every event in the Games.

Discussion of the threat by the International Athletic Federation (IAAF) to boycott the 1960 Games and set up its own track and field championships unless it receives a slice of the Olympic profits.

RATHMANN, ELISIAN

Indianapolis Lap Record Broken Twice Unofficially

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway one-lap record was cracked unofficially twice Friday in rapid succession.

Dick Rathmann of Miami broke the 147-mile-an hour barrier for the first time and Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., immediately turned in the first 148-mile-an hour lap.

Both were driving cars built by A.J. Watson of Glendale, Calif.—Rathmann a McNamara Special and Elisian a Zink Special.

The performances promised new official records Saturday in the opening session of time trials for the 500-mile race May 30 and probabls will attract a crowd of 100,000 or more.

Rathmann was timed at 1:01.21 for the 2½ miles, or 147.010 miles an hour. Elisian, a husky former gunner's mate, made the circuit in 1:00.75, or 148.148 miles an hour.

Thirty-five of the 56 entries have run practice laps over 140 miles an hour and a dozen have been clocked at 143 or better. Only five of last year's qualifiers could beat 143 in the official 10 - mile trials.

The 1956 record of Pat Flaherty of Chicago, 145.596 miles per hour, stood up under last year's assaults after engine sizes were cut from 274 to 256 cubic inches of piston displacement. His best lap, at 146.946, also was unmatched.

Engineers and mechanics have found out how to regain the horsepower they lost in last year's rules change, and the field for the May 30 race is practically certain to be the fastest of the 42 Indianapolis auto classics.

Ed Elisian, husky former gunner's mate from Oakland, Calif., has turned an unofficial lap at 146.9 miles an hour in a Zink special.

Laps almost as fast as Elisian's have been run by Pat O'Connor, North Vernon, Ind.; national champion Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz.; A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Tex.; Jud Larson, Tulsa, Okla.; Ray Crawford, Pasadena, Calif.; Chuck Weyant, Springfield, Ill., and Dick Rathmann, Miami.

Larson and Foyt never have started in the 500-mile grind, but both have been outstanding on smaller tracks. Foyt, 23, is the youngest driver among the probably qualifiers and one of the best new prospects at the track in many years.

Chief Steward Harlan Fingler marvels that Foyt, driving Bryan's old Dean Special, "acts like he was sitting there looking at TV."

Cars run one at a time in the qualifications. The driver can quit before completing the fourth lap if he isn't satisfied with his speed, but he has only three chances to qualify.

After 33 cars qualify, another driver can make the starting field by turning in a better speed than the slowest earlier qualifier. Then the slower car is "bumped" from the line-up, and the new qualifier moves in at the end of the line.

The trials will continue Sunday and the following week end.

Only one of the two Novis, supercharged V-8s rated most powerful cars in the field, is ready to qualify this week end. Paul Russo of Webster Groves, Mo., will try to put it in the line-up for his 13th Memorial Day start.

Sam Hanks won last year on his 13th start.

The other Novi was reserved for world road racing champion Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, but he decided he needed more experience on a closed circuit before trying to race here.

Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., took a ride in one of the Novis Friday. He is assigned to the Ansted-Rotary Special, an Indianapolis car, but has not been happy in it.

Art Bisch of Phoenix completed his rookie driver's test in a Kurtis-Kraft owned by Jack Ensley, Indianapolis sports car racer, who is one of nine other new drivers who also have passed the test.

Bold Ruler's 1958 Debut In Toboggan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the new crop of 3-year-olds battle in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday, the champ of them all a year ago—Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler—makes his first start of 1958.

The Ruler is one of 11 handicap horses entered in the $29,300 Toboggan Handicap at Belmont Park. And as per his reputation, he will carry top weight of 133 pounds, including Eddie Arcaro, in the 6-furlong sprint while giving away from 16 to 28 pounds to his 10 rivals.

It was just a year ago that Bold Ruler, after a mediocre fourth in the Kentucky Derby, started his drive to the 3-year-old championship by whipping Derby winner Iron Liege in the Preakness.

He won the Belmont Stakes and one big one after another after that, finally clinching honors for 1957 with a romping victory over Gallant Man and Round Table in the Jersey Stakes "match race" at Garden State.

A twisted foreleg kept him out of the rich winter races in Florida, delaying his 1958 debut.

Clem 117, Tick Tock 116, and Cohoes 112, are among his chief challengers in the Toboggan, first Saturday feature of the Belmont meeting.

The $50,000-added Los Angeles Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $25,000-added Hartford Handicap at Lincoln Downs, the $20,000 Modesty Handicap at Balmoral at Washington Park, and the Bashford Manor Stakes at Churchill Downs are among the other top Saturday events.

Terrang, a former stablemate of Swaps, carries top weight of 124 pounds in the Los Angeles Handicap at 7 furlongs. Seven others were entered, including Seaneen and The Searcher.

Maine Chance Farm's Ebony Pearl, an also ran in the Derby two weeks ago, heads a field of 15 three-year-olds named for the mile and 70-yard Hartford at Lincoln Downs. Backbone carries top weight of 122 pounds with Ebony Pearl at 120.

The 6-furlong Modesty at Balmoral drew 13 fillies and mares, including Mrs. Connie Ring's Market Basket, with 122 pounds. Also highly regarded are Hasty House Farms' Melody Mine and Hasty Dol, Berke-Soto Stable's Lori-El, and Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Beautillion.

Grand Wizard carries 125 pounds in the Churchill feature, a 5-furlong dash for 2-year-olds. In the preceding race, four Derby entries—Benedicto, Red Hot Pistol, Can Trust, and Warren G.—are among entries in a mile race for 3-year-olds. Can Trust is top weighted at 122. Big Brush has 117.

Jockey Suffers Minor Bruises

CHICAGO (AP)—Jockey Fred Pannell, 28, suffered only bruises in a fall at Balmoral, X-rays showed Friday.

Riding Mr. Zeke, Pannell was thrown at the start of the second race Thursday as his mount came out of the starting gate. At first physicians feared he had broken a collar bone.

Drag Races On Tap For Today At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, La., (Special) — Some of the hottest machinery in the Ark.-La.-Tex. area is expected to duel it out at the Mansfield Drag Races here tomorrow. To be held at De Soto Airport, three miles north of here in Highway 171, time trials will get underway at 10 a.m. and eliminations at 1:30 p.m. Admission for the day-long event is $1.

The monthly competitions are sponsored by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce and directed by the Shreveport Timing Association. All events are run under the rules and regulations of the National Hot Rod Association and have the sanction of that body.

Besides the "hot" cars there will be classes for all sizes of stock and one for sport cars. The timing equipment used calculates speeds to the hundredths of a mile per hour and elapse times to the hundredth of a second.

The Jaycees have recently purchased new public address facilities which include eight speakers and two amplifiers. Fred Parker, who is in charge of the system, states that for this race he should have sufficient sound to blast the most distant spectator off the course.

In spite of the inclement weather last month's event, first of the season, drew 84 entries and approximately 1,300 spectators from the three-state area. W. L. Hood, Jaycee publicity chairman, said that preparations are being made for double that number on Sunday.

The Jaycees are using the funds realized to buy playground equipment for every school in De Soto parish and have set up a fund for the school for retarded children in Mansfield.

Three Major League Games Piped To N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a major league "tripleheader" on tap for New York baseball fans Friday night, although Yankee Stadium sat locked, silent and with 67,000 vacant seats.

The Yankees were in Washington for a night game, but they could be seen on television station WPIX.

Two clicks of the dial to left the Philadelphia Phillies entertained the Pittsburgh Pirates on TV station WOR, and two clicks to the right of the Yanks the Los Angeles Dodgers, were at St. Louis for a game with the Cardinals carried by TV station WNTA.

It was probably the first time three major league ballgames were telecast simultaneously in one city.

The Yanks, Dodgers and Giants all telecast when the three teams were located in New York, but the Yankee and Giant games were carried by the same station.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Help Your Child Form Good Sleeping Habits

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It would be ideal if every child had a room of his own and his parents likewise. But often this ideal condition is impossible and children do have to sleep together, and sometimes in the same room with the parents.

Mrs. F.Y. writes, "We have a four-room apartment and our boy, now 2½, always has slept in our bedroom. He has his own bed but several times when he woke up and cried in the night we have taken him into our bed so that he wouldn't disturb the neighbors.

"Now he wakes up quite often and it is always a tussle to get him to stay in his own bed. He cries and makes us miserable and keeps us awake. My husband thinks if it will pacify him, let him sleep with us. He thinks he'll outgrow the desire. I think it will become such a habit that he'll never want to sleep alone. What do you think?"

Answer

I agree with you. There is a warmth and security about sleeping with parents which a child is reluctant to give up.

Even if now you suffer some inconvenience in getting him to go back to his bed, keep on doing just that. Explain that this is your bed and Daddy's and this other is his bed. And each person sleeps in his or her own bed. Keep on reiterating that.

Right now would be a good time to put a screen between your two beds so that he will have a greater feeling of isolation from you and later, if he has a room of his own, it will not be such a wrench getting him to sleep in it.

Wake At Night

All children tend to wake up at night but if they are used to staying in their own beds, they turn over and go to sleep again. But this child looks upon this wakefulness as his opportunity to get in your bed. This is not the most wholesome way for any of you to sleep and the dependence it builds in the child is not in his best interest.

At the moment it is easier to let him do it, than to insist upon his sleeping alone, but you'll be wise if you stick to your guns and reap the right and privilege of sleeping without his small interloper. Tell Daddy I said so.

Miss Gay Bailey Honored With Bridal Tea, Shower

Miss Gay Bailey, popular bride-elect of Freeland May, was honored with a beautifully appointed tea by Mrs. Thomas Mitchell and Mrs. C. J. Greenlee recently. Mrs. Greenlee received the guests at the door. Included in the receiving line with Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Woodrow Bailey, and Miss Bailey, were Mrs. Bill Bailey and Mrs. H. B. May.

The home was graced with lovely spring flowers throughout. The tea table was covered in ice pink net over a white cutwork cloth. The net was caught at the corners with tiny pink roses and white wedding bells. Centering the table was an exquisite array of sweetheart roses and tiny white rose buds.

Miss Joyce Ann Lanier presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. Rudy Ramsey.

The honoree chose for the afternoon a pale green embroidered linen sheath with patent accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Guests called between the appointed hours of two and four o'clock.

Bridal Shower

Mrs. Guy Smart, Mrs. Billy Barbara, Mrs. W. A. Robeaux, and Mrs. Bob Dupree entertained with a bridal shower honoring Miss Bailey.

As a focal point, the mantel of the living room bore a large bride doll, surrounded by lilies of the valley, wedding bells and greenery. An arrangement of white gladioli and wedding bells was used on the piano.

The bride's table was covered with an imported linen cloth embroidered with pink flowers. Centering the table was a crystal epergne filled with miniature pink roses and maiden hair fern, flanked by slender pink tapers. The pink color motif was also carried out on the buffet with a grouping of roses and grapes in a footed milk glass container.

Miss Bailey chose for the evening a beige cotton brocade with a corsage of orchid chrysanthemums.

Guests called between the hours of seven-thirty and nine-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Alexander Guest Speaker For Y'ves

The regular meeting of the Y'ves was opened with "The Thought for the Day," given by Miss Bess Sharpe. Reports were heard from the various committees.

Mrs. J. R. Hood, president, then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Emma Alexander, whose subject was "Speech Personality."

A social hour followed in the dining room. The coffee table, overlaid with lace, was centered with a lovely arrangement of pink roses and sweet william.

Some twenty - four members and guests were present for the meeting.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Too Much Fraternizing With Enemy, To Win

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm getting weary of reading "Helpful Hints On How To Keep A Husband Happy". Why doesn't someone say something about how a wife should be kept happy, for a change?

Your placating remarks to the woman whose husband wouldn't talk to her from one year to the next didn't help matters any. It was a superb ammunition for The Other Side, and they have plenty already.

This is a losing battle I'm fighting, and you'll probably beat me to death with that wet noodle, but I resent the notion that women must knock thmselves out to make a man content. What happened to that glowing theory of "give and take" they used to pump into the newlyweds?

I have three daughters and they're going to be a lot smarter than their mother. I intend to tell them the score.—THE REALIST

Dear Realist: Interesting how the women scream it's a man's world . . . and the men insist it's the women who run it. The battle of the sexes will never be won however, because there's too much fraternizing with the enemy.

Dear Ann: I've been married four months and my husband has one failing that drives me crazy.

Last month I paid out $40 in old parking tickets. He's a salesman and his excuse is he can't leave a customer to run out and put money in the meter.

His mother used to pay his tickets. She tells me no man is perfect and I should be happy my husband has such a "small fault". He has spent time in jail for parking violations and has had to pay attorney's fees.

How can I get him to overcome this habit when his mother keeps minimizing it and makes excuses for him? The thing that makes me madder than anything is he hides the tickets, like a small child, and then I find them overdue and unpaid. — MYRTLE

A grown man who has spent time in jail for traffic violations and still gets tickets for the same old offenses is pretty childish. This is no "small fault" in spite of what his mother says.

Mama has a great deal to do with his immaturity. He's accustomed to having her pull his chestnuts out of the fire and now he's transferred that dependency to you. This little boy is too irresponsible and lazy to put his car on a legal spot and drop change in the meter. It's much easier to park any old place and hope the traffic cop is myopic. He knows "Mama" will come to the rescue if he gets into trouble.

If you can understand that this behavior is a symptom of a more serious inadequacy it will help you to keep from flipping your lid.

Dear Ann Landers: In the interest of accuracy may I correct you? Recently when discussing "IT" you inserted a quotation which you attributed to Scott Fitzgerald. Actually it was written by John M. Barrie, the Scottish playwright, in "What Ever Woman Knows" in 1905.

Mr. Barrie was speaking of the charm of a woman. Today some call it "oomph" . . . in the roaring 20's it was "IT". The exact quote is as follows: "It's sort of a bloom on a woman. If you have it, you don't need to have anything else; and if you don't have it, it doesn't matter much matter what else you have."—M.H.C.

CONFIDENTIALLY: A MOTHER: Unfortunately you can't discipline someone else's daughter. If your son was well brought up, however, you shouldn't be too worried. Even though the young lady seems to have no curfew, your son's good sense should tell him when to take her home.

HAROLD: I'm not surprised you don't know where you're headed. Sounds like this 16-year-old Cleopatra is steaming up your glasses, Boy. Why don't you pick on girls your own age?

IRMA: Tell him it's not the principle of the thing, it's the money. It's not "nervy" to expect that a loan be repaid. Speak up.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' new booklet "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, seld-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. . . .

OLDEST TAVERN?

NEWPORT, R. I. — (UP) — The nation's oldest tavern, still in business, is probably the White Horse Tavern of Newport. Built before 1763 and known to have had a tavern license as early as 1687, it closed its doors shortly after the turn of this century but is now in operation again, thanks to the Preservation Society of Newport County.

Rebekah Drill Team Seen In Jackson, Miss.

The Monroe Rebekah Lodge, No. 66, of the I. O. O. F. Drill Team, consisting of twenty ladies, journeyed to Jackson, Miss. They presented a very intricate drill before a large crowd of Oddfellows and Rebekahs from Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

L. S. Bridger, sovereign grand master, introduced several high ranking officers at the ceremonies. Flags from the foreign nations, where Rebekah Lodges exist were presented.

Included in the local drill team are Emily Griggs, drill captain; Lenore Eshelman, flag bearer; Lena May Naile, Rebekah standard; Oza Trichell, lodge banners, with Ethel Newport, Chilie Wilson, Ora Beasley, Alma McElhoney, Ruth Taylor, Rada Holloway, Walterine Caldwell, Beatrice Worley, Mary Dowdy, Ida Hamilton, Mary Patrick, Helen Evans, Ester Bolton, Nancy Neyland, Billie Worshaw, and Louise Ward.

TO HELP BOXERS

BOSTON — (UP) — The Massachusetts Legislature has set up a fund for needy boxers. The fund will be financed by a one per cent tax on gate receipts of boxing matches, and will be administered by a five-man state board.

Miss Gay Bailey Honored With Bridal Tea, Shower

Miss Gay Bailey, popular bride-elect of Freeland May, was honored with a beautifully appointed tea by Mrs. Thomas Mitchell and Mrs. C. J. Greenlee recently. Mrs. Greenlee received the guests at the door. Included in the receiving line with Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Woodrow Bailey, and Miss Bailey, were Mrs. Bill Bailey and Mrs. H. B. May.

The home was graced with lovely spring flowers throughout. The tea table was covered in ice pink net over a white cutwork cloth. The net was caught at the corners with tiny pink roses and white wedding bells. Centering the table was an exquisite array of sweetheart roses and tiny white rose buds.

Miss Joyce Ann Lanier presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. Rudy Ramsey.

The honoree chose for the afternoon a pale green embroidered linen sheath with patent accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Guests called between the appointed hours of two and four o'clock.

Bridal Shower

Mrs. Guy Smart, Mrs. Billy Barbara, Mrs. W. A. Robeaux, and Mrs. Bob Dupree entertained with a bridal shower honoring Miss Bailey.

As a focal point, the mantel of the living room bore a large bride doll, surrounded by lilies of the valley, wedding bells and greenery. An arrangement of white gladioli and wedding bells was used on the piano.

The bride's table was covered with an imported linen cloth embroidered with pink flowers. Centering the table was a crystal epergne filled with miniature pink roses and maiden hair fern, flanked by slender pink tapers. The pink color motif was also carried out on the buffet with a grouping of roses and grapes in a footed milk glass container.

Miss Bailey chose for the evening a beige cotton brocade with a corsage of orchid chrysanthemums.

Guests called between the hours of seven-thirty and nine-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Alexander Guest Speaker For Y'ves

The regular meeting of the Y'ves was opened with "The Thought for the Day," given by Miss Bess Sharpe. Reports were heard from the various committees.

Mrs. J. R. Hood, president, then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Emma Alexander, whose subject was "Speech Personality."

A social hour followed in the dining room. The coffee table, overlaid with lace, was centered with a lovely arrangement of pink roses and sweet william.

Some twenty - four members and guests were present for the meeting.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Too Much Fraternizing With Enemy, To Win

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm getting weary of reading "Helpful Hints On How To Keep A Husband Happy". Why doesn't someone say something about how a wife should be kept happy, for a change?

Your placating remarks to the woman whose husband wouldn't talk to her from one year to the next didn't help matters any. It was a superb ammunition for The Other Side, and they have plenty already.

This is a losing battle I'm fighting, and you'll probably beat me to death with that wet noodle, but I resent the notion that women must knock thmselves out to make a man content. What happened to that glowing theory of "give and take" they used to pump into the newlyweds?

I have three daughters and they're going to be a lot smarter than their mother. I intend to tell them the score.—THE REALIST

Dear Realist: Interesting how the women scream it's a man's world . . . and the men insist it's the women who run it. The battle of the sexes will never be won however, because there's too much fraternizing with the enemy.

Dear Ann: I've been married four months and my husband has one failing that drives me crazy.

Last month I paid out $40 in old parking tickets. He's a salesman and his excuse is he can't leave a customer to run out and put money in the meter.

His mother used to pay his tickets. She tells me no man is perfect and I should be happy my husband has such a "small fault". He has spent time in jail for parking violations and has had to pay attorney's fees.

How can I get him to overcome this habit when his mother keeps minimizing it and makes excuses for him? The thing that makes me madder than anything is he hides the tickets, like a small child, and then I find them overdue and unpaid. — MYRTLE

A grown man who has spent time in jail for traffic violations and still gets tickets for the same old offenses is pretty childish. This is no "small fault" in spite of what his mother says.

Mama has a great deal to do with his immaturity. He's accustomed to having her pull his chestnuts out of the fire and now he's transferred that dependency to you. This little boy is too irresponsible and lazy to put his car on a legal spot and drop change in the meter. It's much easier to park any old place and hope the traffic cop is myopic. He knows "Mama" will come to the rescue if he gets into trouble.

If you can understand that this behavior is a symptom of a more serious inadequacy it will help you to keep from flipping your lid.

Dear Ann Landers: In the interest of accuracy may I correct you? Recently when discussing "IT" you inserted a quotation which you attributed to Scott Fitzgerald. Actually it was written by John M. Barrie, the Scottish playwright, in "'What Ever Woman Knows" in 1905.

Mr. Barrie was speaking of the charm of a woman. Today some call it "oomph" . . . in the roaring 20's it was "IT". The exact quote is as follows: "It's sort of a bloom on a woman. If you have it, you don't need to have anything else; and if you don't have it, it doesn't matter much matter what else you have."—M.H.C.

CONFIDENTIALLY: A MOTHER: Unfortunately you can't discipline someone else's daughter. If your son was well brought up, however, you shouldn't be too worried. Even though the young lady seems to have no curfew, your son's good sense should tell him when to take her home.

HAROLD: I'm not surprised you don't know where you're headed. Sounds like this 16-year-old Cleopatra is steaming up your glasses, Boy. Why don't you pick on girls your own age?

IRMA: Tell him it's not the principle of the thing, it's the money. It's not "nervy" to expect that a loan be repaid. Speak up.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' new booklet "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, seld-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. . .

OLDEST TAVERN?

NEWPORT, R. I. — (UP) — The nation's oldest tavern, still in business, is probably the White Horse Tavern of Newport. Built before 1763 and known to have had a tavern license as early as 1687, it closed its doors shortly after the turn of this century but is now in operation again, thanks to the Preservation Society of Newport County.

Prisoner In Daring Jump To Freedom

WINNSBORO (Special) —Earl Bankson, a 30-year-old Franklin parish man who last Friday night allegedly "dropped in" on a local store through a skylight, last night flew the coop—literally.

He jumped from his three-story cell on the top floor of the Franklin parish Courthouse.

But Bankson made one mistake, officers said. He left too many "cheering" friends behind.

Their screaming aroused the attention of Deputy-Jailer Homer Hodges in his living quarters on the second floor of the courthouse.

When Hodges arrived to see what the racket was about, he learned the following story:

Bankson and his fellow prisoners were allowed to ramble through the jail's cellblock late yesterday. But when the rest of his buddies were herded back into their cells, he slipped into an outer hall and hid behind a door.

Later, when all was quiet in Franklin's courthouse, he made two jumps to freedom and was reported seen fleeing into a wooded area nearby.

Prisoners told Hodges that Bankson jumped from the third floor to a wing and from there to the ground. Each jump covered about a story and a half.

As he scurried away, he left the modern, "break-proof" Franklin jail behind.

Late last night Franklin authorities, the State Police and bloodhounds from Richland parish were fanning the woods for Bankston.

When they catch him, he has three years at Angola awaiting him.

Angola is comprised mostly of one-story buildings.

Mass Killer Links Caril To Murder

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather's confession Friday pictured his 14-year-old girl friend as the probable knife - killer of a woman lashed to a bed and his eager, loving accomplice in other murders.

For the first time in the two-week murder trial, Starkweather, 19, lost his composure as he listened to his own account of the January murder rampage in which 10 of a series of 11 victims died.

The red-haired garbage hauler hid his head between his hands while his confession was read to the jury which will decide if he dies in the electric chair.

The portions of his confession read Friday brought to three the murders which Starkweather claims his skinny, big-eyed sweetheart, Caril Fugate, either committed or took part in.

He indirectly accused her of slashing to death Lillian Fencl, a maid in the home of wealthy Lincoln businessman C. Lauer Ward.

Starkweather admitted murdering Ward and his wife—she by a knife thrown into her back and he with gunfire as the businessman tried to flee.

Starkweather took the maid to her bedroom, his confession said, but "all I did was tie her feet and hands at the bedpost. . .she was moaning and groaning so I put a pillow case over her head. Then I went downstairs.

"Caril was upstairs with the maid. She had my knife."

The maid was found stabbed to death. Starkweather has also accused Caril of the murder of Carol King, 16, a pretty Benet, Neb., high school girl, and of pumping bullets into the last murder spree victim, Merle Collison of Great Falls, Mont.

Both Caril and Starkweather are charged with the murder of Miss King's boy friend, Robert Jense. The killer's sweetheart is being held in a mental hospital pending a ruling on whether she is old enough to stand trial for her life.

According to Starkweather's confession, Caril witnessed and rejoiced in the murder of her mother, her step-father, and her baby half-sister—the second, third and fourth Starkweather victims.

Starkweather said Caril returned to him after the killings and said "this is what we always wanted."

"What did she mean?" Starkweather's interrogator asked.

"Oh, we had talked about leaving here and Caril said we would if we had to bump them off."

Lived As Man And Wife

For a week, "Charley" and Caril lived as man and wife in the home of her slain family, he said.

"We was making love all the time," the confession said.

"How often?"

"Every night and morning and twice on Sunday."

"Is that actually true?"

"Oh, maybe five or six times on Sunday."

The teen-age marauders had a lovers' spat after the massacre in the Ward home, Starkweather said, and "I even gave her a gun and told her to shoot me with it."

Although Caril fled into a deputy's arms when the couple was trapped near Douglas, Wyo., Starkweather said she had never tried to escape from him earlier during the murder rampage.

"She had a gun all the time," Starkweather said in his confession.

Starkweather's show of emotion came when the confession detailed how he threw a hunting knife across a room and into the throat of Caril's 2-year-old half-sister.

His confession was read into the record in a defense attempt to prove that Starkweather was insane during the killings.

Shortly before the trial was adjourned for the weekend, however, Starkweather's father followed a family pattern of insisting that "Charley" was not deranged.

"I don't think he used good judgment," the father, Guy Starkweather testified.

Arab Group Is Blasted By Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP)—Lebanon Friday night charged the United Arab Republic with attempting to destroy Lebanese independence. Informed sources said the pro-Western government of President Camille Chamoun had decided to complain to the United Nations Security Council.

The sources said Lebanon's charges now were being documented and that the official complaint to the United Nations would be announced Saturday.

Premier Sami Es-Sohl, in a nationwide radio address, said the terrorist "outrages" against Lebanon, "conform exactly to the written instructions which Belgian Consul General Louis de San carried with him from Damascus (Syria) when he was caught red-handed smuggling arms into this peaceful country" three days ago.

(In Cairo, U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser returned from his 18-day tour of Russia and promptly denounced the Solh's charges. He said Lebanese officials were "manufacturing" threats from the U.A.R. to "justify foreign intervention. He said the U.A.R. respected Lebanon's independence.)

Three small bombs exploded Friday morning across the street from the Tapline Oil Co. building here and occasional bursts of firing echoed in the banking section, but it was the queitest day the nation had experienced since insurgents attacked troops and sacked the U.S. Information Service library in Tripoli last Saturday.

U.S. planes were reported en route to Lebanon carrying police arms for the U.S. supported government of President Chamoun. In addition, 11 American ships in a task force were believed nearing positions within easy reach of Lebanon.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Big Business Rules Government In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Friday America's friends abroad are looking to the day when American voters end "a government ruled by big business" and consider once again the interests of the average person

Mrs. Roosevelt made the statement in a message of greeting to the Americans for Democratic Action which began registering delegates for its three-day annual convention. She is honorary chairman of ADA and said she regretted she could not attend.

Monroe Group Starts Industry Seeking Trip

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and a group of local civic leaders left yesterday for Illinois to confer with the head of a major manufacturing concern who had issued a special invitation to discuss the possibilities of relocating in Monroe one of its larger plants.

Howard had been in close contact with the industrialist for the past few days.

A conference had been arranged for tomorrow morning with the group planning to return home tomorrow night. The trip is being made by rail.

It was understood that a city in a neighboring state has been making a strong bid for the plant which can be described at this time only as a heavy user of metal and will employ 100 or more persons.

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UP) — A passenger train collided head-on with a freight train near Afyon in central Turkey Friday. Twelve persons, all railroad employes, were reported killed.

2 Hospitalized After Wreck In District

WINNSBORO (Special) —Two well - known Franklin parish women were hospitalized with serious injuries and a 32-year-old motorist was jailed after they were knocked into a telephone pole in a crack-up near here yesterday.

Hospitalized in a local clinic were Mrs. Paul Hammonds, wife of a Gilbert druggist, and Mrs. Doris Graham, a parish school teacher of Winnsboro.

Their automobile, according to the State Police, was rammed from the rear, knocked off the highway and struck a telephone pole before turning over several times.

Cpl. Dave Chase jailed Thomas Lee, Jr., 32, who gave his address as Citronelle, Ala., on four charges including drunk driving.

The accident occurred two miles north of here on highway 15 at 4 p.m. Mrs. Hammonds was driving north with Mrs. Graham as a passenger when the Lee vehicle hit them from behind.

Trooper Chase said the Hammonds auto traveled only a short distance before hitting the pole. The Lee vehicle went almost a quarter of a mile before stopping. It didn't turn over.

A Mulhearn ambulance rushed the victims to the clinic where Mrs. Hammonds was suffering from a fractured shoulder, several fractured ribs and possible other injuries.

Mrs. Graham sustained a fractured shoulder and a lacerated leg. Neither was believed to be in critical condition. Lee escaped without serious injury.

He was charged with drunk driving, causing an accident, causing personal injury and operating a vehicle with a revoked license. Chase said he was a second offender.

Two Sentences Suspended In Accident Case

WINNSBORO (Special) —Two Negro men, charged with negligent homicide in the Christmas highway tragedy which claimed three lives near here, were placed on active probation for one year in court here yesterday.

Charged were Clarence Taylor, 21-year-old Monroe Negro, and Joseph W. Jennings, 20-year - old Natchez, Miss. Negro.

They appeared in Fifth District Court here before Judge J. Vernon Sims, who suspended their sentences of one year of hard labor at Angola after they changed pleas of not guilty to guilty.

The charges against the two Negro men came as the result of an early Christmas morning automobile accident south of Baskin when a white man and two Negro women were killed.

Parish Birth Rate Booming, Report Shows

The birth rate in Ouachita Parish is booming. The rate has zoomed to 30.1 births per 1,000 people. This refers only to the local population and does not include babies born here to non-residents.

The figure is 22 per cent higher than that for the United States as a whole.

An even greater baby boom in the years just ahead is assured. For it is then that the bumper crop of babies of the World War II period will be producing their own offspring in numbers, say statisticians.

By 1965, estimates the census bureau, we will have about 30 million more people than we have today. Already, new babies are arriving at the rate of 4,300,000 a year and the pace is rising rapidly.

What do all these figures mean to the businessman? It means business will rise with the birth rate. Babies are big business: they loudly demand the necessities of life.

To American business as a whole, it means that a great many more people will soon have to be supplied with food and clothing and homes and the numberless other items that go to make up our standard of living.

If local merchants get no more nor less than their commensurate share of this added consumer demand, their annual business will be an estimated $128,000,000 a year, 25 per cent more than at present.

Why? Because during a normal lifetime, these 30 million additions will require over 7 billion pairs of shoes, 175 billion pounds of beef, 350 billion quarts of milk and 73 million new cars, according to U. S. News and World Report.

Contents Of Car Stolen Are Found

MONTREAL (AP) — Police said Friday they have recovered two valises, the contents of a car stolen last Friday while its owner, Mrs. J. Kenney, of (1725 Pine St.) New Orleans, was in a nearby house.

Hardly any of the $800 worth of clothing and jewelry was recovered, police said. But diplomatic documents being transported by Mrs. Kennedy from the French Consulate in New Orleans to the French Consulate in Montreal were not among the articles stolen.

"Is that actually true?"

"Oh, maybe five or six times on Sunday."

The teen-age marauders had a lovers' spat after the massacre in the Ward home, Starkweather said, and "I even gave her a gun and told her to shoot me with it."

Although Caril fled into a deputy's arms when the couple was trapped near Douglas, Wyo., Starkweather said she had never tried to escape from him earlier during the murder rampage.

"She had a gun all the time," Starkweather said in his confession.

Starkweather's show of emotion came when the confession detailed how he threw a hunting knife across a room and into the throat of Caril's 2-year-old half-sister.

His confession was read into the record in a defense attempt to prove that Starkweather was insane during the killings.

Shortly before the trial was adjourned for the weekend, however, Starkweather's father followed a family pattern of insisting that "Charley" was not deranged.

"I don't think he used good judgment," the father, Guy Starkweather testified.

Arab Group Is Blasted By Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP)—Lebanon Friday night charged the United Arab Republic with attempting to destroy Lebanese independence. Informed sources said the pro-Western government of President Camille Chamoun had decided to complain to the United Nations Security Council.

The sources said Lebanon's charges now were being documented and that the official complaint to the United Nations would be announced Saturday.

Premier Sami Es-Sohl, in a nationwide radio address, said the terrorist "outrages" against Lebanon, "conform exactly to the written instructions which Belgian Consul General Louis de San carried with him from Damascus (Syria) when he was caught red-handed smuggling arms into this peaceful country" three days ago.

(In Cairo, U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser returned from his 18-day tour of Russia and promptly denounced the Solh's charges. He said Lebanese officials were "manufacturing" threats from the U.A.R. to "justify foreign intervention. He said the U.A.R. respected Lebanon's independence.)

Three small bombs exploded Friday morning across the street from the Tapline Oil Co. building here and occasional bursts of firing echoed in the banking section, but it was the queitest day the nation had experienced since insurgents attacked troops and sacked the U.S. Information Service library in Tripoli last Saturday.

U.S. planes were reported en route to Lebanon carrying police arms for the U.S. supported government of President Chamoun. In addition, 11 American ships in a task force were believed nearing positions within easy reach of Lebanon.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Big Business Rules Government In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Friday America's friends abroad are looking to the day when American voters end "a government ruled by big business" and consider once again the interests of the average person

Mrs. Roosevelt made the statement in a message of greeting to the Americans for Democratic Action which began registering delegates for its three-day annual convention. She is honorary chairman of ADA and said she regretted she could not attend.

Monroe Group Starts Industry Seeking Trip

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and a group of local civic leaders left yesterday for Illinois to confer with the head of a major manufacturing concern who had issued a special invitation to discuss the possibilities of relocating in Monroe one of its larger plants.

Howard had been in close contact with the industrialist for the past few days.

A conference had been arranged for tomorrow morning with the group planning to return home tomorrow night. The trip is being made by rail.

It was understood that a city in a neighboring state has been making a strong bid for the plant which can be described at this time only as a heavy user of metal and will employ 100 or more persons.

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UP) — A passenger train collided head-on with a freight train near Afyon in central Turkey Friday. Twelve persons, all railroad employes, were reported killed.

2 Hospitalized After Wreck In District

WINNSBORO (Special) —Two well - known Franklin parish women were hospitalized with serious injuries and a 32-year-old motorist was jailed after they were knocked into a telephone pole in a crack-up near here yesterday.

Hospitalized in a local clinic were Mrs. Paul Hammonds, wife of a Gilbert druggist, and Mrs. Doris Graham, a parish school teacher of Winnsboro.

Their automobile, according to the State Police, was rammed from the rear, knocked off the highway and struck a telephone pole before turning over several times.

Cpl. Dave Chase jailed Thomas Lee, Jr., 32, who gave his address as Citronelle, Ala., on four charges including drunk driving.

The accident occurred two miles north of here on highway 15 at 4 p.m. Mrs. Hammonds was driving north with Mrs. Graham as a passenger when the Lee vehicle hit them from behind.

Trooper Chase said the Hammonds auto traveled only a short distance before hitting the pole. The Lee vehicle went almost a quarter of a mile before stopping. It didn't turn over.

A Mulhearn ambulance rushed the victims to the clinic where Mrs. Hammonds was suffering from a fractured shoulder, several fractured ribs and possible other injuries.

Mrs. Graham sustained a fractured shoulder and a lacerated leg. Neither was believed to be in critical condition. Lee escaped without serious injury.

He was charged with drunk driving, causing an accident, causing personal injury and operating a vehicle with a revoked license. Chase said he was a second offender.

Two Sentences Suspended In Accident Case

WINNSBORO (Special) —Two Negro men, charged with negligent homicide in the Christmas highway tragedy which claimed three lives near here, were placed on active probation for one year in court here yesterday.

Charged were Clarence Taylor, 21-year-old Monroe Negro, and Joseph W. Jennings, 20-year - old Natchez, Miss. Negro.

They appeared in Fifth District Court here before Judge J. Vernon Sims, who suspended their sentences of one year of hard labor at Angola after they changed pleas of not guilty to guilty.

The charges against the two Negro men came as the result of an early Christmas morning automobile accident south of Baskin when a white man and two Negro women were killed.

SPECIAL HONOR SET

AUSTIN (UP) — The 75,000th graduate of the University of Texas will be awarded a degree at the 75th annual spring commencement exercise May 31. A graduating senior will be chosen by the senior cabinet to receive the symbolic 75,000th degree, will make a brief speech at commencement exercises, and receive a life membership in the Ex-Student's Association.

Parish Birth Rate Booming, Report Shows

The birth rate in Ouachita Parish is booming. The rate has zoomed to 30.1 births per 1,000 people. This refers only to the local population and does not include babies born here to non-residents.

The figure is 22 per cent higher than that for the United States as a whole.

An even greater baby boom in the years just ahead is assured. For it is then that the bumper crop of babies of the World War II period will be producing their own offspring in numbers, say statisticians.

By 1965, estimates the census bureau, we will have about 30 million more people than we have today. Already, new babies are arriving at the rate of 4,300,000 a year and the pace is rising rapidly.

What do all these figures mean to the businessman? It means business will rise with the birth rate. Babies are big business; they loudly demand the necessities of life.

To American business as a whole, it means that a great many more people will soon have to be supplied with food and clothing and homes and the numberless other items that go to make up our standard of living.

If local merchants get no more nor less than their commensurate share of this added consumer demand, their annual business will be an estimated $128,000,000 a year, 25 per cent more than at present.

Why? Because during a normal lifetime, these 30 million additions will require over 7 billion pairs of shoes, 175 billion pounds of beef, 350 billion quarts of milk and 73 million new cars, according to U. S. News and World Report.

Contents Of Car Stolen Are Found

MONTREAL (AP) — Police said Friday they have recovered two valises, the contents of a car stolen last Friday while its owner, Mrs. J. Kenney, of (1725 Pire St.) New Orleans, was in a nearby house.

Hardly any of the $800 worth of clothing and jewelry was recovered, police said. But diplomatic documents being transported by Mrs. Kennedy from the French Consulate in New Orleans to the French Consulate in Montreal were not among the articles stolen.

MULLINS SWORN IN

AUSTIN (UP)—A. T. (Moon) Mullins was sworn in Thursday as chief clerk of the general land office, succeeding the late Dennis Wallace, who died last Saturday. Mullins has served since September, 1947 as director of the land office legal division.

DE GAULLE RETURNS

French Crisis: Post-War Story

By J. M. RBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

France appears to be moving down from a peak of crisis to the plateau of crises which has been her lot since the war.

Parliament's vote of emergency powers for the Pflimlin government is a direct vote against the extension of power to Charles de Gaulle.

Reported apathy on the part of the crisis-conditioned public and the passage of hour after hour with climactic action raised hope that fears for the life of the French Republic were premature.

Even before the vote, military circles in Algiers which called for an immediate solution of the Algeria problem through the return of De Gaulle were talking about using him as a mediator rather than a dictator.

There is just a possibility that they feel the time of climax was passed three days ago when Gen. Massu's call for De Gaulle failed to produce a coup or other direct action in Paris.

The re-entry of De Gaulle into active politics caused great fears. Among them was the possibility that activist followers and some of the army might attempt to force their way back into power. The words "civil war" were freely bandied about.

But the call from Algiers was timed to prevent Parliamentary approval of Pierre Pflimlin as premier, and failed to do so.

In office, Pflimlin has moved to forestall any serious events in France through the use of emergency powers.

Given the authority by Parliament, he will have the police power to prevent public meetings, close avenues of agitation such as broadcasts an dtravel.

One trouble in trying to assess the situation is that there are so many shades of politics in France, and therefore so many assumptions presented as facts.

A return of De Gaulle to power was widely accepted as meaning the end of democratic government. Yet De Gaulle, from 1944 to 1947, let crisis after crisis pass without blocking the road to reestablishment of the republic. He finally retired for lack of executive power.

Interested almost solely in French affairs, De Gaulle was a thorn in the side of the Allies during the war, but never seceded, by any means.

He tried to do business with the Soviet Union in 1944—but so did Churchill and Roosevelt in 1945.

De Gaulle might not be good for France, or Algeria. He might not mean utter disaster, either.

At any rate, his announcement of availability created no wave of either popular or official response.

Report Plants To Shut Down For Changeovers

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's automotive reports said Friday the car industry will start shutting down its plants for model changeovers within six or seven weeks.

The shutdowns, it added, will last into September. The auto makers have not commented on their model changeover plans.

Ward's said that while the early shutdowns will mean sparse employment, there will be a "fourth quarter burst of production prosperity that may rival 1955." It added that it based this prediction on prospects for a highly successful outgoing model cleanup.

OFF TO WORLD AIR SPEED RECORD —A sleek Air Force F104A Starfighter leaves the runway yesterday for its world air speed record run over Edwards Air Force Base on the California desert. The pilot was Capt. Walter W. Irwin, 34, of Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif. The jet, sometimes called "the missile with a man in it," flashed over the measured course at 1404.19 miles an hour, beating the old record by about 196 m.p.h. The same type plane set a new airplane altitude record nine days ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Fear Blamed As Culprit In Heart Disease

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Dr. Manuel Gardsberg of New Orleans' Touro Infirmary said Friday the "powerful force of fear" is the culprit in heart disease.

Dr. Gardberg addressed a symposium on heart disease and employment.

The symposium was co-sponsored by the Louisiana Heart Assn., Louisiana Safety Assn., and Louisiana State Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Without personal efficiency, Dr. Gardberg said, the heart patient cannot again become a functioning unit in society.

More persons with cardiac leisons become invalids and ultimately are destroyed by phychological forces than by loss of cardiac efficiency, he said. Fear of the patient, his family and his physician, he said, are the most powerful force against the heart patient.

It is better, he said, to tell a patient to express his feelings rather than to tell him not to worry about his business, his job and not to get excited.

Dr. Neill K. Weaver of Baton Rouge, spoke on the program used at the Baton Rouge Esso Oil Co. refinery to eliminate occupational handicaps because of physical disabilities.

Nurses from over the state held a scientific discussion on heart disease in a separate meeting in connection with the 2-day heart conference here.

An all-day scientific session for physicians is scheduled for tomorrow, and there will be a morning scientific session for laymen.

The State Heart Assn. will hold a business session in the afternoon. Officers will be elected.

Swimming Pool Construction Delayed

JONESBORO (Special) — Work on a Negro swimming pool was at a standstill today with the city under a temporary restraining order following a petition filed by Louie C. Boss.

Boss, in his petition, contended that the location of the pool, which borders a white residential area, would cause the white people in that section of town "to suffer irreparable harm and injury if the swimming pool was completed."

A hearing on the restraining injunction has been set for 10 a.m. Wednesday in district court.

Mayor Leon Swanner said that prior to the filing of the injunction the council had met in a special session and "were in accord the construction should be discontinued until new location could be acquired that would be suitable to everyone concerned."

Swanner added that Boss had not contacted him or any member of the governing body prior to filing the petition.

McInnis Brothers Construction Company of Minden are the contractors.

The swimming pool is to be constructed out of money made available by a bond election.

Telephone Rates Intolerable, Says Miss. Official

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Chairman Norman Johnson Jr. of the Mississippi Public Service Commission Friday expressed opposition to a division of telephone luxury taxes by the federal government, declaring the full 10 per cent excise tax should be eliminated instead.

He thus differed sharply with a plan put forth by President Eisenhower under which the war-born luxury tax would be reduced to 6 per cent local participation and this sum turned back to the states.

Johnson said the telephone is no longer a luxury but is now a distinct necessity.

"Mississippi's telephone rates are absolutely intolerable," Johnson told newsmen.

MAY RULE WAVES, BUT

Britannia Does Not Waive Rules

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Britannia may rule the waves, but she doesn't waive the rules for the Miss England beauty contest.

"We're going to choose a Miss England if we have to stay here all night," said competition promoter Eric Morley. "and we're going to stick strictly to the rules."

So they finally launched Miss England III of 1958—blonde and curvy Dorothy Hazeldine, who is a beauty parlor operator from the grimy Lancashire industrial town of Rochdale. She is 19 years old, 5 feet 7, and, in the usual order, 36-24-37.

Eventually, she will journey to the United States to represent Britain in the Miss Universe competition in California.

Two earlier nominations were nullified. The first winner turned out to be too young—only 16. The second Miss England proved to be married — another disqualification. The earlier competitions also raised the ugly charge that the slim beauties were wearing falsies, waspies and other props.

Morley then ordered every girl to produce a passport showing her age.

"Now," he cautioned, "we come to the issue of what you've got on beneath that bathing suit. The rules say it must be nothing."

Each beauty stripped down before the eagle eyes of Morley's female assistants. Under these inquiring eyes they also wriggled into their abbreviated swim suits.

"Now," said the promoter, "if any girl thinks any other girl is waring a falsie, now is the time to jolly well speak up."

The silence was so pronounced you could hear the infinitive split.

For 45 minutes the judges judged the 17 girls from all over Britain. The field was narrowed to Miss Hazeldine, who wore a tight-fitting leopard skin suit, a broad smile and nothing else, and two other girls.

"What is your favorite food, fish and chips?" one of the judges asked the eventual winner.

"No," she replied, "I like tripe."

"Fine," said the judge, "it's an old Lancashire dish."

And—she turned out to be the judges' dish.

City Courts

WEST MONROE

One case was heard in West Monroe City Court yesterday, with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

One person was fined $25 and costs on a charge of reckless driving and causing a wreck.

In addition, one person forfeited $20.50 bond on a speeding charge.

MONROE

The Monroe City Court docket showed a unique turn of face yesterday in that 22 of the 23 persons fined, paid on the spot.

Usually the record shows that a little more than half of those fined, pay immediately. The remainder serve part or all of their sentences in the City Jail.

The twenty-two paying fines remitted at a total of $368.50 in fines and court costs. Fines ranged from $2 to $55, all on traffic violations.

One man drew a 30-day sentence in jail on a drunkenness charge and another elected to serve 25 days in lieu of a $25 fine for drunkenness.

Two-Day Park Conference Set

BATON ROUGE (Special) — The park superintendents' spring conference will be held Monday and Tuesday by the State Park and Recreation Commission in the group camp building at Longfellow Evangeline Park, St. Matinville, Louisiana, according to L. A. Talley, director.

The conference will get under way at 2 p. m. with an address by William W. Wells, assistant parks director.

Other speakers will be William W. Webster and H. B. May of Baton Rouge.

ADRIFT IN GULF

Searchers Fail To Find Vessel

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Coast Guard Friday reported a 2-day search failed to locate the fishing vessel United Star, lost and adrift in rough Gulf of Mexico waters for four days.

The last contact with the 70-foot vessel, which left Tampa, Fla., May 8 for the Campeche fishing banks off the Yucatan Peninsula of Mexico, was Tuesday night.

A spokesman at Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters here said the fishing vessel. Miss Parnell heard the United Star report over its radio that it was in trouble and 48 hours overdue at the Campeche banks.

The Miss Parnell said the lost vessel believed it was in or crossing the Yucatan Straits.

The number of crewmen aboard and ownership of the United Star were not known by the Coast Guard here. But a spokesman said a Mr. Crow of Tampa reported the United Star's situation May 14.

The Coast Guard said the craft apparently was unable to start its engines because of wak batteries.

Crow told the Coast Guard the United Star had been disabled for 2½ days and drifting. The fishing vessel Scamp, he said, told him contact was lost in the middle of the message, apparently because of a battery failure.

The Sunkist, another fishing craft, said it was in contact with the United Star Tuesday night. The United Star, it said, had been unable to hit bottom with its fathometer, a device used in navigation and fishing to find the depth of the ocean.

A former captain of the United Star, presently on the fishing craft Pam Scott, reported the compass of the United Star was 25 degrees off on its last trip.

The Coast Guard said indications are that the United Star was in waters near the Campeche's western edge, but planes and boats were unable to locate the craft. Spokesmen asked other vessels to report any information on the craft, described as grey steel with a white stripe.

A harbor and coastline check failed to turn up any clues, he said.

Baptists Told Christianity Can Win Fight

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dr. R. A. McLemore, president of Mississippi College, Friday told graduates at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary that aggressive communism can be stopped by the teaching body of Christianity.

But McLemore said Communism cannot be prevented by soldiers in uniform. The world, he said, must be awakened to the dangers of Communism.

"You must fight on the battlefield of minds and hearts of people in our churches here and in the great mission field abroad," the Clinton, Miss., college president said.

Dr. J. Wash Watts, acting president, presented degrees and awards to some 162 graduates in the city's First Baptist Church.

Dr. McLemore charged the graduates to use the "common virtues of honesty, thrift, industry and respect for our fellow man" as ammunition against Communism.

"You must teach people they are of value," he said, "and instill in them the respect and the dignity of man."

Hillard Named Administrator Of Hospital In Ga.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Oscar S. Hilliard, administrator of the Tri-County Hospital at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., today was named president-elect of the Southeastern Hospital Conference. He will take office at the next convention, in April 1959 at Atlanta.

Robert A. Ivy of Columbus, was installed as president succeeding Pat N. Groner of Pensacola.

Allied groups also held elections. The Southeastern Hospital Conference of Dieticians made Mrs. Myrtle M. Vincent of New Orleans president.

The Medical Records Librarians installed Mrs. Marion J. Cowden of Pineville, La., as president and named Charlie Jennings of Greenwood, Miss., president-elect.

Ex-Official Of St. Bernard Schools Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Joseph F. Gauthier, 56, former superintendent of St. Bernard Parish schools, died in his sleep at his nearby Arabi home Friday.

Gauthier headed the St. Bernard school system for 29 years. He stepped down July 1. 1957. Relatives said he had been suffering from a heart condition but it had not disabled him.

Gauthier was a close friend of Gov. Earl Long, political foe of Leander Perez, St. Bernard-Plaquemine parish district attorney and long-time political boss.

Gauthier's retirement climaxed a political hassle in which he was rumored to sympathize with the efforts of a third party in the parish aligned against Perez.

He was a native of Bordelonville, in Avoyelles Parish. He received a teaching certificate from Louisiana State Normal.

Funeral services will be held Sunday.

DE GAULLE RETURNS

French Crisis: Post-War Story

By J. M. RBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

France appears to be moving down from a peak of crisis to the plateau of crises which has been her lot since the war.

Parliament's vote of emergency powers for the Pflimlin government is a direct vote against the extension of power to Charles de Gaulle.

Reported apathy on the part of the crisis-conditioned public and the passage of hour after hour with climactic action raised hope that fears for the life of the French Republic were premature.

Even before the vote, military circles in Algiers which called for an immediate solution of the Algeria problem through the return of De Gaulle were talking about using him as a mediator rather than a dictator.

There is just a possibility that they feel the time of climax was passed three days ago when Gen. Massu's call for De Gaulle failed to produce a coup or other direct action in Paris.

The re-entry of De Gaulle into active politics caused great fears. Among them was the possibility that activist followers and some of the army might attempt to force their way back into power. The words "civil war" were freely bandied about.

But the call from Algiers was timed to prevent Parliamentary approval of Pierre Pflimlin as premier, and failed to do so.

In office, Pflimlin has moved to forestall any serious events in France through the use of emergency powers.

Given the authority by Parliament, he will have the police power to prevent public meetings, close avenues of agitation such as broadcasts an dtravel.

One trouble in trying to assess the situation is that there are so many shades of politics in France, and therefore so many assumptions presented as facts.

A return of De Gaulle to power was widely accepted as meaning the end of democratic government. Yet De Gaulle, from 1944 to 1947, let crisis after crisis pass without blocking the road to reestablishment of the republic. He finally retired for lack of executive power.

Interested almost solely in French affairs, De Gaulle was a thorn in the side of the Allies during the war, but never seceded, by any means.

He tried to do business with the Soviet Union in 1944—but so did Churchill and Roosevelt in 1945.

De Gaulle might not be good for France, or Algeria. He might not mean utter disaster, either.

At any rate, his announcement of availability created no wave of either popular or official response.

Report Plants To Shut Down For Changeovers

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's automotive reports said Friday the car industry will start shutting down its plants for model changeovers within six or seven weeks.

The shutdowns, it added, will last into September. The auto makers have not commented on their model changeover plans.

Ward's said that while the early shutdowns will mean sparse employment, there will be a "fourth quarter burst of production prosperity that may rival 1955." It added that it based this prediction on prospects for a highly successful outgoing model cleanup.

Navy Signalman Killed In Va.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Bobbie D. Griffin, of Lincoln, Neb., a 21-year-old Navy signalman, was killed Friday in the collision of a motorcycle and a automobile.

Griffin's next of kin was listed by the Navy as his mother, Mrs. Pauline Muller of Lincoln.

Griffin, stationed on the USS York County was a passenger on the motorcycle. The driver, Alfred J. Orillon, 21, of Plaquemine, La., suffered multiple skull fractures and a fractured leg. He was listed in serious condition.

OFF TO WORLD AIR SPEED RECORD —A sleek Air Force F104A Starfighter leaves the runway yesterday for its world air speed record run over Edwards Air Force Base on the California desert. The pilot was Capt. Walter W. Irwin, 34, of Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif. The jet, sometimes called "the missile with a man in it," flashed over the measured course at 1404.19 miles an hour, beating the old record by about 196 m.p.h. The same type plane set a new airplane altitude record nine days ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Fear Blamed As Culprit In Heart Disease

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Dr. Manuel Gardsberg of New Orleans' Touro Infirmary said Friday the "powerful force of fear" is the culprit in heart disease.

Dr. Gardberg addressed a symposium on heart disease and employment.

The symposium was co - sponsored by the Louisiana Heart Assn., Louisiana Safety Assn., and Louisiana State Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Without personal efficiency, Dr. Gardberg said, the heart patient cannot again become a functioning unit in society.

More persons with cardiac leisons become invalids and ultimately are destroyed by phychological forces than by loss of cardiac efficiency, he said. Fear of the patient, his family and his physician, he said, are the most powerful force against the heart patient.

It is better, he said, to tell a patient to express his feelings rather than to tell him not to worry about his business, his job and not to get excited.

Dr. Neill K. Weaver of Baton Rouge, spoke on the program used at the Baton Rouge Esso Oil Co. refinery to eliminate occupational handicaps because of physical disabilities.

Nurses from over the state held a scientific discussion on heart disease in a separate meeting in connection with the 2-day heart conference here.

An all-day scientific session for physicians is scheduled for tomorrow, and there will be a morning scientific session for laymen.

The State Heart Assn. will hold a business session in the afternoon. Officers will be elected.

Swimming Pool Construction Delayed

JONESBORO (Special) — Work on a Negro swimming pool was at a standstill today with the city under a temporary restraining order following a petition filed by Louie C. Boss.

Boss, in his petition, contended that the location of the pool, which borders a white residential area, would cause the white people in that section of town "to suffer irreparable harm and injury if the swimming pool was completed."

A hearing on the restraining injunction has been set for 10 a.m. Wednesday in district court.

Mayor Leon Swanner said that prior to the filing of the injunction the council had met in a special session and "were in accord the construction should be discontinued until new location could be acquired that would be suitable to everyone concerned."

Swanner added that Boss had not contacted him or any member of the governing body prior to filing the petition.

McInnis Brothers Construction Company of Minden are the contractors.

The swimming pool is to be constructed out of money made available by a bond election.

Telephone Rates Intolerable, Says Miss. Official

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Chairman Norman Johnson Jr. of the Mississippi Public Service Commission Friday expressed opposition to a division of telephone luxury taxes by the federal government, declaring the full 10 per cent excise tax should be eliminated instead.

He thus differed sharply with a plan put forth by President Eisenhower under which the war-born luxury tax would be reduced to 6 per cent local participation and this sum turned back to the states.

Johnson said the telephone is no longer a luxury but is now a distinct necessity.

"Mississippi's telephone rates are absolutely intolerable," Johnson told newsmen.

MAY RULE WAVES, BUT

Britannia Does Not Waive Rules

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Britannia may rule the waves, but she doesn't waive the rules for the Miss England beauty contest.

"We're going to choose a Miss England if we have to stay here all night," said competition promoter Eric Morley. "and we're going to stick strictly to the rules."

So they finally launched Miss England III of 1958—blonde and curvy Dorothy Hazeldine, who is a beauty parlor operator from the grimy Lancashire industrial town of Rochdale. She is 19 years old, 5 feet 7, and, in the usual order, 36-24-37.

Eventually, she will journey to the United States to represent Britain in the Miss Universe competition in California.

Two earlier nominations were nullified. The first winner turned out to be too young—only 16. The second Miss England proved to be married — another disqualification. The earlier competitions also raised the ugly charge that the slim beauties were wearing falsies, waspies and other props.

Morley then ordered every girl to produce a passport showing her age.

"Now," he cautioned, "we come to the issue of what you've got on beneath that bathing suit. The rules say it must be nothing."

Each beauty stripped down before the eagle eyes of Morley's female assistants. Under these inquiring eyes they also wriggled into their abbreviated swim suits.

"Now," said the promoter, "if any girl thinks any other girl is waring a falsie, now is the time to jolly well speak up."

The silence was so pronounced you could hear the infinitive split.

For 45 minutes the judges judged the 17 girls from all over Britain. The field was narrowed to Miss Hazeldine, who wore a tight-fitting leopard skin suit, a broad smile and nothing else, and two other girls.

"What is your favorite food, fish and chips?" one of the judges asked the eventual winner.

"No," she replied, "I like tripe."

"Fine," said the judge, "it's an old Lancashire dish."

And—she turned out to be the judges' dish.

City Courts

WEST MONROE

One case was heard in West Monroe City Court yesterday, with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

One person was fined $25 and costs on a charge of reckless driving and causing a wreck.

In addition, one person forfeited $20.50 bond on a speeding charge.

MONROE

The Monroe City Court docket showed a unique turn of face yesterday in that 22 of the 23 persons fined, paid on the spot.

Usually the record shows that a little more than half of those fined, pay immediately. The remainder serve part or all of their sentences in the City Jail.

The twenty-two paying fines remitted at a total of $368.50 in fines and court costs. Fines ranged from $2 to $55, all on traffic violations.

One man drew a 30-day sentence in jail on a drunkenness charge and another elected to serve 25 days in lieu of a $25 fine for drunkenness.

Two-Day Park Conference Set

BATON ROUGE (Special) — The park superintendents' spring conference will be held Monday and Tuesday by the State Park and Recreation Commission in the group camp building at Longfellow Evangeline Park, St. Matinville, Louisiana, according to L. A. Talley, director.

The conference will get under way at 2 p. m. with an address by William W. Wells, assistant parks director.

Other speakers will be William W. Webster and H. B. May of Baton Rouge.

ADRIFT IN GULF

Searchers Fail To Find Vessel

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Coast Guard Friday reported a 2-day search failed to locate the fishing vessel United Star, lost and adrift in rough Gulf of Mexico waters for four days.

The last contact with the 70-foot vessel, which left Tampa, Fla., May 8 for the Campeche fishing banks off the Yucatan Peninsula of Mexico, was Tuesday night.

A spokesman at Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters here said the fishing vessel Miss Parnell heard the United Star report over its radio that it was in trouble and 48 hours overdue at the Campeche banks.

The Miss Parnell said the lost vessel believed it was in or crossing the Yucatan Straits.

The number of crewmen aboard and ownership of the United Star were not known by the Coast Guard here. But a spokesman said a Mr. Crow of Tampa reported the United Star's situation May 14.

The Coast Guard said the craft apparently was unable to start its engines because of wak batteries.

Crow told the Coast Guard the United Star had been disabled for 2½ days and drifting. The fishing vessel Scamp, he said, told him contact was lost in the middle of the message, apparently because of a battery failure.

The Sunkist, another fishing craft, said it was in contact with the United Star Tuesday night. The United Star, it said, had been unable to hit bottom with its fathometer, a device used in navigation and fishing to find the depth of the ocean.

A former captain of the United Star, presently on the fishing craft Pam Scott, reported the compass of the United Star was 25 degrees off on its last trip.

The Coast Guard said indications are that the United Star was in waters near the Campeche's western edge, but planes and boats were unable to locate the craft. Spokesmen asked other vessels to report any information on the craft, described as grey steel with a white stripe.

A harbor and coastline check failed to turn up any clues, he said.

Baptists Told Christianity Can Win Fight

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dr. R. A. McLemore, president of Mississippi College, Friday told graduates at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary that aggressive communism can be stopped by the teaching body of Christianity.

But McLemore said Communism cannot be prevented by soldiers in uniform. The world, he said, must be awakened to the dangers of Communism.

"You must fight on the battlefield of minds and hearts of people in our churches here and in the great mission field abroad," the Clinton, Miss., college president said.

Dr. J. Wash Watts, acting president, presented degrees and awards to some 162 graduates in the city's First Baptist Church.

Dr. McLemore charged the graduates to use the "common virtues of honesty, thrift, industry and respect for our fellow man" as ammunition against Communism.

"You must teach people they are of value," he said, "and instill in them the respect and the dignity of man."

Hillard Named Administrator Of Hospital In Ga.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Oscar S. Hilliard, administrator of the Tri-County Hospital at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., today was named president-elect of the Southeastern Hospital Conference. He will take office at the next convention, in April 1959 at Atlanta.

Robert A. Ivy of Columbus, was installed as president succeeding Pat N. Groner of Pensacola.

Allied groups also held elections. The Southeastern Hospital Conference of Dieticians made Mrs. Myrtle M. Vincent of New Orleans president.

The Medical Records Librarians installed Mrs. Marion J. Cowden of Pineville, La., as president and named Charlie Jennings of Greenwood, Miss., president-elect.

Ex-Official Of St. Bernard Schools Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Joseph F. Gauthier, 56, former superintendent of St. Bernard Parish schools, died in his sleep at his nearby Arabi home Friday.

Gauthier headed the St. Bernard school system for 29 years. He stepped down July 1. 1957. Relatives said he had been suffering from a heart condition but it had not disabled him.

Gauthier was a close friend of Gov. Earl Long, political foe of Leander Perez, St. Bernard-Plaquemine parish district attorney and long-time political boss.

Gauthier's retirement climaxed a political hassle in which he was rumored to sympathize with the efforts of a third party in the parish aligned against Perez.

He was a native of Bordelonville, in Avoyelles Parish. He received a teaching certificate from Louisiana State Normal.

Funeral services will be held Sunday.

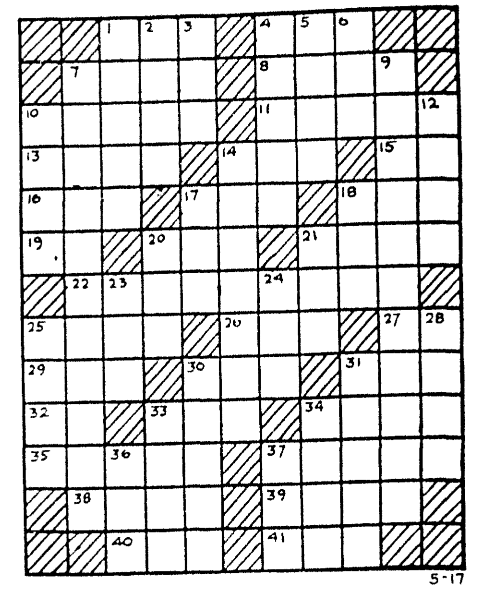
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

U V V O I P A U A P U O N ' J P U Q W
G K Q I, K O J G V U I A K X K B I — J Y Z J I O

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

WOOL LETTER

In moderate trading yesterday, futures advanced about a cent on trade short covering and new commission house buying. The market was generally thin with sellers reluctant. There appeared to be a little chart buying by locals and the market closed at highs for the day.

There was little in the way of news with all foreign auction centers closed.

London futures in very quiet trading advanced about a half penny with the trade reluctant hedge sellers. Crisis in France appeared to precipitate some buying in the futures market.

Livestock

CHICAGO (AP) — Butcher hog prices Friday were 25 to 75 cents lower as receipts for the weekend market ran about 1,000 head more than expectd.

About 150 head of No. 1 grade in the 195-220 lb range brought the $24 top but there were several hundred head of mixed 1-2 grades at the same weights at $23.50-23.75. Some No. 3 grade weighing 200-235 lbs went as low as $22.50 and heavier 2s and 3s as low as $21.50.

Sows in the 330-375 lb range brought $19.25-20 with the market for that class mostly 25 cents lower. Heavier sows sold down to $17.75.

The slaughter steer market was not tested by the scant offerings. Buyers paid $26-28 for a few good and low choice grades and $22.50-25.50 for a few utility and standard kinds.

Receipt of slaughter lambs were too meager for a market test but a few good to choice grades sold at $19-21. Slaughter ewes grading good and choice were $8-10.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 80 to 95 cents a bale higher Friday in slow trading.

The mixed outlook for the 1958 cotton crop stimulated further New Orleans and commission house buying. A forecast for rain in parts of the central and western belts, where clear weather is urgently needed, influenced the buying.

Trade buying bolstered nearby deliveries.

Stock Volume Drops

NEW YORK (AP)—An uncertain stock market produced an irregular price pattern Friday. Volume sank to the lowest since April 10.

The turnover of 2,030,000 shares compared with 2,470,000 Friday.

Prices of leading stocks changed from fractions to around a point, generally. A notable exception was Kennecott which rose 2 points, inspired by news that it had declared its usual dividend.

This in itself was symptomatic of the drab state of corporate reports which continued to produce lower earnings and reduced or omitted dividends.

The crisis in France and hectic events elsewhere in the globe contributed to normal pre-weekend caution, prompting traders to even up their positions. Domestic news was a shade better for construction contracts, auto assemblies and railroad carloadings.

Analysts said that the stock market, having recouped Thursday more than half of its big losses of the day before, had gone through a customary technical performance and was awaiting some further development to give it a shove one way or the other.

Meanwhile, the lower-priced stocks continued to dominate trading as they have all week but Friday some of them made little or no upward progress.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped a minimum 10 cents to $167.60 with the industrials up 10 cents, the rails, down 70 cents and the utilities unchanged.

COTTON LETTER

The Credit Commodity Cooperation reported 60,000 bales sold under November 9 bringing the total for the program to 5,705,611 bales. Sold for unrestricted use were 5,010 bales making the program total 1,982,332. Unannounced was the November 11 sale and the trade believed bids were quite heavy.

Futures prices advanced nearly a dollar a bale as offerings were very light. Small trade buying encouraged some commission house buying near the close and the market advanced quite easily.

With the exception of parts of Texas, the weather was generally quite favorable and the forecast for the weekend is for only modest precipitation in certain areas.

Unfixed call sales on May 9 totalled 218,500 bales with the majority of it based on July. This compares with 258,800 a year ago, emphasizing the trend toward fixed price sales.

Better quality 80 square print cloth sold as high as 17¾ cents for third and fourth quarter delivery. Wall Street volume however was generally quiet.

In moderate trading yesterday, futures advanced about a cent on trade short covering and new commission house buying. The market was generally thin with sellers reluctant. There appeared to be a little chart buying by locals and the market closed at highs for the day.

There was little in the way of news with all foreign auction centers closed.

London futures in very quiet trading advanced about a half penny with the trade reluctant hedge sellers. Crisis in France appeared to precipitate some buying in the futures market.

Livestock

CHICAGO (AP) — Butcher hog prices Friday were 25 to 75 cents lower as receipts for the weekend market ran about 1,000 head more than expectd.

About 150 head of No. 1 grade in the 195-220 lb range brought the $24 top but there were several hundred head of mixed 1-2 grades at the same weights at $23.50-23.75. Some No. 3 grade weighing 200-235 lbs went as low as $22.50 and heavier 2s and 3s as low as $21.50.

Sows in the 330-375 lb range brought $19.25-20 with the market for that class mostly 25 cents lower. Heavier sows sold down to $17.75.

The slaughter steer market was not tested by the scant offerings. Buyers paid $26-28 for a few good and low choice grades and $22.50-25.50 for a few utility and standard kinds.

Receipt of slaughter lambs were too meager for a market test but a few good to choice grades sold at $19-21. Slaughter ewes grading good and choice were $8-10.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 80 to 95 cents a bale higher Friday in slow trading.

The mixed outlook for the 1958 cotton crop stimulated further New Orleans and commission house buying. A forecast for rain in parts of the central and western belts, where clear weather is urgently needed, influenced the buying.

Trade buying bolstered nearby deliveries.

Stock Volume Drops

NEW YORK (AP)—An uncertain stock market produced an irregular price pattern Friday. Volume sank to the lowest since April 10.

The turnover of 2,030,000 shares compared with 2,470,000 Friday.

Prices of leading stocks changed from fractions to around a point, generally. A notable exception was Kennecott which rose 2 points, inspired by news that it had declared its usual dividend.

This in itself was symptomatic of the drab state of corporate reports which continued to produce lower earnings and reduced or omitted dividends.

The crisis in France and hectic events elsewhere in the globe contributed to normal pre-weekend caution, prompting traders to even up their positions. Domestic news was a shade better for construction contracts, auto assemblies and railroad carloadings.

Analysts said that the stock market, having recouped Thursday more than half of its big losses of the day before, had gone through a customary technical performance and was awaiting some further development to give it a shove one way or the other.

Meanwhile, the lower-priced stocks continued to dominate trading as they have all week but Friday some of them made little or no upward progress.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped a minimum 10 cents to $167.60 with the industrials up 10 cents, the rails, down 70 cents and the utilities unchanged.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith

The Credit Commodity Cooperation reported 60,000 bales sold under November 9 bringing the total for the program to 5,705,611 bales. Sold for unrestricted use were 5,010 bales making the program total 1,982,332. Unannounced was the November 11 sale and the trade believed bids were quite heavy.

Futures prices advanced nearly a dollar a bale as offerings were very light. Small trade buying encouraged some commission house buying near the close and the market advanced quite easily.

With the exception of parts of Texas, the weather was generally quite favorable and the forecast for the weekend is for only modest precipitation in certain areas.

Unfixed call sales on May 9 totalled 218,500 bales with the majority of it based on July. This compares with 258,800 a year ago, emphasizing the trend toward fixed price sales.

Better quality 80 square print cloth sold as high as 17¾ cents for third and fourth quarter delivery. Wall Street volume however was generally quiet.
